The universal satisfaction which the these Pills have given, where they have been introduced, is truly astonishing; the numerous and valuable testimonials which Dr. Hayden has received from physicians and other professional men, together with the vast number of certificates from private persons, is truly gratifying, and is a sufficient proof of their virtues; though we are aware that the public have been imposed upon so often with medicines which have been highly extolled, but which on trial possessed no real virtues, that they have lost all confidence in any medicine which is advertised.

To those who may be induced to give these Pills a trial, they will find that the truth has not yet become entirely extinct. In conclusion, we would ask those who are suffering from disease, to read the certificates published in our columns. They are from persons who have been benefitted by their use, and who will at any time be happy to recommend them to others.

THE COST IS TRIFLING.

The smallest size bottle of Dyer's Healing Embrocation can be bought for 12½ cents. This is generally sufficient for a trial of this wonderful preparation; a saving can then be made in buying larger sized bottles. A person who has once used this valuable external and internal remedy will never suffer themselves to be without it.

Old Stand! New Stock!

MEDICAL CARD.

HAVING located myself at, and assumed the entire charge of the Apothecary Store, so long occupied by Doct. Samuel Hutchings—and recently occupied by William H. Foster—I am prepared to furnish from a new and recently selected Stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, &c., &c., every article usually called for at an Apothecary's.

That I may disabuse an impression many are said to, and others naturally enough may entertain, viz: That a Stand so antiquated—so long occupied for one particular branch of business—must necessarily contain a Stock made up of "Green Earthern Pots, bladders, and Musty Seeds, Remnants of pack thread, and old cakes of roses," &c. &c., I beg to assure them, and through them, my friends and the public generally, that the past few weeks have found me busy in removing from the premises all stale, flat, and unprofitable materials—and in the mean time their places supplied from selections made by myself, with pure, fresh, and unadulterated Medicines. With such—and such only—I shall endeavor to be supplied hereafter.

To the above I have also added a choice assortment of articles for the Toilet—consisting of Hair Oils, Soaps, Cologne; Hair, Teeth, Nail and other brushes, &c. &c

PATENT MEDICINES—of such as are really valuable and popular—constantly on hand.

Notice.

MR. WENZEL respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has disposed of his Bookbindery, Picture Frame and Fancy Box Manufactory, No. 58 Congress street, Portsmouth, to Mr. JAMES BARTON, late of the firm of Barton & Cobb, who will conduct the business in all its branches from and after this date.

Mr. Barton is well known to our citizens as a competent and skilful mechanic, and will retain as assistants the excellent workmen lately employed by me. I am therefore convinced that all work entrusted to him will be executed in the most elegant and thorough manner.

The business at my establishment in Boston has increased so rapidly as to demand my whole attention; I am therefore compelled to resign my business in this city to other hands. In so doing, I have to thank my friends for their liberal patronage during a series of years, and trust it will be as freely bestowed upon my worthy successor, whom I have much pleasure in recommending to all my former customers.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in a hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moves at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and suffering, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

COURTS.—The U. S. District Court met at Exeter, on Tuesday,—but adjourned without transacting any business of importance.

The Supreme Judicial Court for the first judicial district of N. H. commenced a law term at Exeter, on Tuesday, and will probably continue through the week.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

MONDAY, June 16.

HOUSE.—Petitions presented and referred.—By Mr Gilman of New Market—Of Valentine Smith, Jr. and 44 others, to be disannexed from Durham, and annexed to New Market; By Mr Sanborn of Concord—of J. M. Godfrey and 34 others, for a term of the Probate Court to be holden at Epping.

Mr Lane of Dover, gave notice that he would introduce a bill to incorporate the Dover and Eliot Bridge Co.

The Committee on Engrossed Bills reported that they have appointed Otis F. R. Waite of Claremont, Engrossing Clerk.

TUESDAY, June 17.

SENATE.—A remonstrance of John M. Hopkins and 120 others, against the union of the Manchester & Lawrence and Concord Railroads was read and referred.

HOUSE.—Numerous remonstrances were presented against the proposed removal of the Courts in Hillsboro' County, from Amherst to Nashua.

The House received and accepted a report from the Committee on Unfinished Business, recommending that the resolution directing the Attorney General to commence an action against the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad Co. for the collection of taxes, be referred to the Committee on Railroads.

The same report also referred a large amount of unfinished business to appropriate committees.

The Committee on Apportionment of Taxes, through Mr Tullock, offered a resolution, that said committee have power to employ one or more clerks, as they may deem necessary, to aid them in their duties. The resolution passed.

FROM KANSAS.

The Washington correspondent of the Commercial Advertiser writes:—A gentleman connected with the government service on the borders of Kansas has just arrived here, and his representation of the actual state of things is alarming. He reports that there is fighting in all the inhabitable parts of the territory.—The bands of murderers and marauders called "law & order men," "Kickapoo Rangers," etc., are roving about the territory killing the unresisting, and stealing and destroying all the property that is found unprotected. The free soil settlers rally in small bands for defence, but with little hope of success, in opposition to the United States and territorial authorities and the whole power of the state of Missouri. But the most important fact mentioned by him is that at least 4 or 5000 men are now being organized and armed in Missouri, for the purpose of making a descent upon Kansas, and with the determination to drive out of the territory all free soilers.—They will meet with little resistance, and expect none at all from the Governor or from the United States. They do not think that Col. Sumner will dare to interfere, even if so ordered, and if he does, they will drive him out of the territory along with his handful of men. They expect the President to withdraw these troops and to send no more, and that is distinctly the course which the President has been advised within the past few days to take by the friends of the Atchison party, not only of Missouri, but of other slaveholding states. Two Southern Senators, well known as ultra and violent in their opinions on this subject, have earnestly pressed the President to withdraw all the United States troops from Kansas, and leave the difficulty to be settled by the parties concerned. Should this course be adopted, or what is the same thing, if the troops, insufficient as they are in numbers, should take no decided part, the Missourians and their Southern allies, under the command of Major Buford, will soon have exclusive possession of the territory.

A dispatch from St. Louis June 16, says:

Captain Pate writes to the Republican, of this city, from Kansas City, 12th inst., that comparative quiet rains in the territory, the United States troops having disbanded the unlawful military bodies, and, in cases where they had reassembled, taking arms from them; consequently there is no fighting going on, and if nothing unlooked for occurs to derange the present state of affairs, peace will soon ensue.

The St. Louis Republican is a border ruffian paper — and its correspondent, Captain Pate, is probably one of the ruffians.

A Washington dispatch of the 17th says:

No new military orders have recently been issued applicable to Kansas. The Executive Department have just reiterated to the authorities in that territory that there must be strict compliance with the programme of May last.

Gen. Pomeroy has safely reached Southampton, Mass., after a very fatiguing and somewhat hazardous journey. Just prior to leaving the Territory of Kansas, he was arrested by Judge Train of South Carolina, a Deputy Marshal, without a warrant. The General had an expounder with him, the force of whose arguments was fully comprehended and would have been discharged at the judge, had he not promptly discharged the prisoner.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EURUPE.

HALIFAX, June 18.—Steamship America, from Liverpool 7th inst., arrived this forenoon.

FOREIGN ITEMS.—France.—The great Industrial Exhibition of Agriculture was opened at Paris on the 1st inst., and the show was crowded throughout the day.

Mr. Henri Place, one of the administrators of the Credit Mobilier at Paris, had failed for nearly a million sterling, causing great depression on the Bourse.

Spain and Mexico.—The Times scoffs at the notion of a war between Spain and Mexico, and says that scarcely a month would elapse, from the first operations of the Spanish fleet at Vera Cruz, before the government at Washington would interfere in the discussion, and transfer it to Havana.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Convention at Philadelphia, June 17, was very large, and crowded the hall.

David Wilmot of Pennsylvania moved the appointment of a committee on resolutions and platform, and that all resolutions should be submitted to them without debate; and further that the committee report before nominations are made.

Objection was made that it was premature, but after a little debate the question was taken and the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

The Committee were—Maine, Henry Carter; New Hampshire, Daniel Clark; Massachusetts, E. R. Hoar; Connecticut, Gideon Wells; Rhode Island, Thos. Davis; Vermont, Edward Kirkland; New York, E. W. Whelpley; Delaware, E. G. Bradford; Maryland, F. P. Blair; Virginia, J. C. Underwood; Pennsylvania, David Wilmot; Ohio, Joshua R. Giddings; Michigan, Isaac Christiancy; Wisconsin, John F. Potter; Indiana, Jno. P. Dufries; Illinois, George S. Brown; Iowa, James B. Howell; California, John A. Willes; Kansas, J. L. Wurchell; District Columbia, Jacob Bigelow; Kentucky, Geo. E. Blakeley; Minnesota, A. Ramsey.

It was voted to open the daily meetings with prayer. The presence of a committee representing the radical Free Soil Democracy of New York was announced, and it was moved to admit them as honorary delegates.

This was objected to because there was not room enough to accommodate them. The New Hampshire men offered to hold them in their laps rather than they should be kept out. The resolution was carried with great unanimity.

The Convention was organized as follows:

President—Henry S. Lane of Indiana.

Vice Presidents—A. P. Morrill of Maine, H. Carpenter of Vermont, J. Babcock of Rhode Island, John A. King of New York, Amos Tuck of New Hampshire, C. F. Adams of Massachusetts, C. T. Cleveland of Connecticut, J. C. Hornblower of New Jersey, J. Rittner of Pennsylvania, L. J. Cobb of Maryland, G. D. Brackett of Kentucky, J. Beard of Indiana, R. S. Bingham of Michigan, Jacob Bigelow of the District of Columbia, F. E. Pomeroy of Kansas, B. R. Bennett of Nebraska, S. Barr of Deleware, G. Rye of Virginia, R. P. Spaulding of Ohio, Wm. B. Archer of Illinois, W. D. McKnight of Wisconsin, F. Springer of Iowa, A. Ramsey of Minnesota, F. R. Folger of California; and twenty-four Secretaries.

Speeches were made by the President, Senator Wilson and others. Mr. Lovejoy said, he repudiated any idea of interfering, except by moral influence, in the slave states, but he held to Franklin's doctrine, and would go to the verge of the Union in favor of freedom.

The convention adj. to Wednesday.

Philadelphia despatches of the 18th, represent the struggle, or rivalry between those delegates who prefer McLean, and those for Fremont, as quite severe and exciting.

The McLean men have issued a circular in which they say that in this work there should be harmony, forbearance and freedom from mere personal or local influence; so only will there be success.

It then goes on to state that delegates are divided between McLean and Fremont, and urge the union of their names on one ticket, so as to command the support of the whole North.

The Massachusetts delegation had a meeting this morning, when it was stated to them, by authority, that Mr. Banks positively declines to have his name used in connection with either the Presidency or Vice Presidency. The delegation are a unit for Fremont.

The Wisconsin delegation are for Seward or Chase, but are ready to unite on Fremont.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.—The Philadelphia correspondent of the Tribune gives the following synopsis of the platform:

1. Goes in for the Constitution and Union.
2. Declares the powers and duty of Congress to forbid slavery in all the territories.
3. Reviews the persecutions of Kansas, and arraigns the administration and Democratic party for it.
4. Favors the admission of Kansas under her Free State Constitution.
5. Favors the Pacific Railroad.
6. The river and harbor improvements.
7. Invites everybody to join on terms of perfect equality. The constitution recognizes no distinctions.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO A U. S. OFFICER.—About 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon, as Mr. James Thomas, Assistant Storekeeper at the Boston Custom House, was standing at the edge of the scuttle on the lower floor of the U. S. storehouse upon Long wharf, he lost his balance and was precipitated into the cellar below. He was taken up insensible, and upon being conveyed to the Elm Street House he partially recovered his reason, but died in a short time. Dr. Clark was called and declared the cause of his death to be concussion of the brain. Mr. Thomas was a widower, about 35 years of age, and leaves four children at Bath, Me., and many friends to mourn his untimely loss.—Traveller.

COL. FREMONT ON SLAVERY.—I heartily concur in all movements which have for their object to repair the mischiefs arising from the violation of good faith in the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. I am opposed to slavery in the abstract and upon principle, sustained and made habitual by long settled convictions.

While I feel inflexible in the belief that it ought not to be interfered with where it exists under the shield of state sovereignty, I am as inflexibly opposed to its extension on this continent beyond its present limits.

J. C. FREMONT.

This is full and explicit.

It is pretty generally agreed upon all sides that Senator Butler's vindication of the Sumner assault, is one of the most silly, weak, brainless efforts that a foolish old man ever made; and on the other hand, Wilson's reply is applauded by everybody. We doubt whether a South Carolina Senator will ever again ask how many battles were fought in Massachusetts during the revolution?—Newburyport Herald.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

Celebrated Female Pills.

PROTECTED BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir James Clarke, M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and brings on the monthly period with regularity. These Pills should be used during the three preceding months of confinement; they fortify the constitution, and lessen the suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the first three months of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other remedies have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full directions accompanying each package.—Price in the United States and Canada, One Dollar.

Sole Agents for the United States and Canada, I. C. BALLWIN & CO., Rochester, N.Y. Turner & Moses, Albany, N.Y., General Agents.

E. H. Bell and Co. general agent for Boston; any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with U.S. Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st., oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and they withdrawn at three hours within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice he has had during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full documents of the Patent Office of the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary in the procurement of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All possible by a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have all confidence in a suring inventors that they cannot employ a more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

OVER TWO MILLION ACRES

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

When sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to $2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water conveyance, will be sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the freezes of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the amount of money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the purchase money shall yearly be put under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contractors, any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,
Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. m8 6m

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF LOTTERIES.
BALTIMORE, Md. ril 18, 1856.

THE undersigned, Commissioner of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from various portions of the country, making inquiry as to Lottery Schemes, with which the country is flooded, and which purport to be "decided by the drawings of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries," takes this method to answer all such letters of inquiry, and inform the public that all Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Lotteries are gross frauds; that certain parties who style themselves Morris & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lotteries at Heaveland, Ohio, are impostors, and said lottery a fraud, having neither legal nor presumptive existence; and that another fictitious firm, styled Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, are also imposters, and all lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.

RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Contractor for drawing the Maryland Lotteries. The business is conducted under the firm of R. France & Co., as Managers, and they have no sole agents in the city of Baltimore. There are, however, some forty licensed venders for the State of Maryland, who derive licenses under him, through this office, to sell tickets in the Maryland Lotteries.

FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1856.

COL. BUGG'S NEGRO.

We have a firm belief in progress; not only that the virtue and the freedom of the people ought to improve, but that they actually do so. We will call some witnesses to establish this point, not from among the fanatics of New England, but from the sunny South.

The first shall be Col. Bugg, said to be a southern delegate to the late Cincinnati Convention. He is said to have brought with him to that assemblage, a negro; and the papers contained Col. Bugg's offer of $1000 to any body who could entice said negro to run away from his person and service.

The intention of this offer must have been to show that one negro deemed slavery better than freedom: and this was shown so far as his own preference was concerned—if the fellow really was a slave, of which we see no evidence. It shows that the opinion of one negro is thought to be of some value, in favor of slavery. And if so, then, why are not the opinions of all the negroes on the same question, taken up, pro and con?

Close by the side of this piece of evidence, let us place that of the slave democracy, in South Carolina, who approved Brooks's assault on Sumner. This is a public opinion among the slaves now, for the first time we believe, invoked by those who hold them as such. Their opinion having been thus sought on this important point, may possibly be volunteered on some other; and so we may have negro indignation meetings, and slaves making speeches on the affairs of the nation.—What think of it?

It should be remarked, in this connexion, slavery is involuntary servitude. The man, white or black, who chooses to live here or there, and enjoys his choice, can hardly be called a slave.

☞ The Hillsboro' Co. Conference of Congregational Churches, met at Mont Vernon, on the 10th, and continued in session on the 11th of June. It was organized by choosing Rev. J. W. Perkins Moderator, Rev. E. B. Claggett Stated Clerk, and Rev. S. C. Bartlett Assistant Clerk. Thirty-two churches, a larger number than usual, were represented.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. P. B. Day, from 2d Cor.. 5: 14. "For the love of Christ constraineth us."

Tuesday evening was occupied with the discussion of anti-slavery resolutions, drawn up in no partizan spirit or motives of political ambition. The speakers spoke like men in clear vision of the spirit and aggressions of slavery, and of the perils of freedom.—The resolutions were adopted by the Conference with but one dissenting voice, and the congregation rose in a body in testimony of their approval.

Next day the last speaker of the forenoon was Rev. Mr. Wallace, who made an effective speech in behalf of the Temperance Cause, in which he urged the use of moral suasion, to push on legal; and, manifesting the highest degree of courage himself, he inspired others with a similar feeling.

At 2 o'clock, P. M., Rev. E. N. Hidden preached from 1st John, 1: 3—"And truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ." The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was then administered, and the large congregation dispersed.

☞ The supposed bogus petitions for a dissolution of the Union, turn out, on Mr. Garrison's authority, to have been printed in the Liberator; and he adds "that the recommendation appended to the petition, to have it sent to 'either Senators Wilson, Hale, Wade, Seward and Fessenden, or to Messrs. Giddings, Burlingame, Collamer, Campbell, or any other suitable representative at Washington,' was made solely on the ground that those gentlemen believe in the sacred right of petition, and as honorable men will recognise it in this instance—though not one of them is in favor of the object prayed for."

Rev. Theodore Clapp, who for thirty years has been pastor of the First Congregational Church in New Orleans, has resigned his charge from ill health.

His late society has invited Rev. C. E. Bolles, of the Universalist church in Bridgeport, Conn., to succeed Mr. Clapp. It is understood he accepts the call.

Rev. Wm. Russell, late of East Hampton, Ct., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the second Congregational Church in New Ipswich, N. H.

NOT A DRINK.—A Washington correspondent says: "The Southern members of all parties, are making common cause in favor of Mr. Brooks. I yesterday heard a South American assure a representative from your own State, that if he dare to vote for the expulsion of Brooks, he would never take a drink with them again!"—Boston Bee.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY, June 18.

HOUSE.—Mr. Harrison introduced a resolution, requesting the President to inform the House what measures, if any, have been taken under the act of Congress, appropriating $25,000 to procure from Hiram Powers, the sculptor, some work of art to ornament the Capitol extension. Adopted.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio, gave notice that he would on next —— endeavor to take up the report of the select committee on the Sumner assault. Adjourned.

NEW PAPER IN CONCORD.—The Patriot says:—

We have received the first No. of a new paper to be published in this city, called the "Democratic Standard," by John B. Palmer. In a five column introductory, over the name of the publisher, we have the character and objects of the paper. It promises to support the principles, the organization and the candidates of the Democratic party, to labor for the union and success of that party, and to be the organ of the whole party; and at the same time it makes various unjust and injurious insinuations against the National administration, and hints that the Patriot has been unfaithful to the Democratic party, the organ of but a portion of it, and sought to use its organization to promote the personal ends of a few individuals.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, June 18.—Steamship America, from Liverpool 7th inst., arrived this forenoon.

The Collins steamship Atlantic arrived at Liverpool 8 20, evening of Wednesday, the 4th. The steamer North America, from Quebec, arrived at Liverpool 11 P. M. Thursday, the 5th.

England. — The news relates mostly to American difficulties, The Atlantic's arrival was earnestly awaited, as Mr. Crampton was expected to be on board, and a considerable sensation of relief was felt when it was known he was not.

Times City Article of Friday eve'g.—Although the statement of Lord Palmerston last evening that he had received no information of the fact of Mr. Crampton's having been required to leave Washington, disappointed the expectations excited by private commercial letters received yesterday from New York, the English funds have been steady to-day, and closed at a slight advance.

The Times has a leading article on the American question, but its object is chiefly to complain of those politicians in the United States, who, though condemning the policy of President Pierce's Cabinet, do not oppose it with sufficient energy.

The Daily News remarks upon the change that is taking place in public opinion in reference to the difficulty with America. There is still, it says, a universal dislike to the idea of a war with America, but doubts are beginning to arise in the minds of many whether our conciliatory deportment has not already been carried quite as far as prudence dictates, and whether President Pierce and his Cabinet are not presuming too far on their knowledge of our desire for peace.

France.—The French papers are filled with accounts of the destructive inundation.

The Emperor's visit to Lyons, and other scenes of the calamity, has gained him immense popularity. 500 houses were destroyed at Lyons, 150 at Avignon.

At latest accounts the waters were subsiding.

10,000,000 francs have been voted by the government for relief of the sufferers, and the Empress has opened a subscription list.

The agricultural show at Paris continues to be a source of great attraction.

The liabilities of M. Place, the bankrupt director of the Credit Mobilier are estimated at 18,000,000 francs.

Portugal.—The vine and potato crops seem likely to fail from too much rain.

Spain.—The fleet to be sent to Mexico, is reported to number 11 ships—2 ships-of-the-line, 3 frigates, 2 corvets, and 5 steamers.

Italy.—A Paris dispatch states that the notes presented by France and Austria to the Neapolitan government, are nearly identical. No reforms are positively indicated by name, but the general tone is urgent and pressing.—Austria objects to foreign active interference, and hints that the present crisis was planned by Sardinia, stating, however, that Austria has no desire to interfere with Sardinia's liberal institutions. France, however, hints at intervention, should any outbreak take place in Naples or Sicily.

In the British Parliament, Lord Clarendon has consented to produce the papers addressed by Sardinia to the Conferences at Paris, and intimated his opinion that before the close of the session, there must be a discussion on the affairs of Italy. He added that he had reason to believe, that both France and Austria were desirous of removing their troops, as soon as possible, from Italian territory.

The Piedmontese Chamber of Deputies have presented Gen. Marmora with an acre of valuable building land in the city of Turin.

M. Mazzini announces his intention of withdrawing altogether from politics, and emigrating as a private citizen to the United States.

Greece.—The King of Greece has asked for the infanta of Spain, sister of the king, in marriage, & for the heir of the Greek throne. A favorable answer is given by Spain.

The Central Committee of the Polish democracy have published a protest against the terms in which the Czar has granted the amnesty to Polish emigrees. They assert that in taking up arms for their national independence in 1830, they fulfilled a duty, not anything to be pardoned, and they could not now, without renouncing their country's claims, accept the title of pardoned rebels.

PROOF.—Learned and practised men are already beginning to acknowledge the power of Arnold's Globules and Vital Fluid to quell disease and infuse into the human system the elements of health. To strengthen the blood and free it from every trace of impure matter is their special aim, and testimony rapidly accumulates that no medicinal preparation can rival their virtues and effects.

Bills of the Exeter Bank, Exeter, N. H. are not received at the Suffolk Bank.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

The universal satisfaction which the these Pills have given, where they have been introduced, is truly astonishing; the numerous and valuable testimonials which Dr. Hayden has received from physicians and other professional men, together with the vast number of certificates from private sources, is truly gratifying, and is a sufficient proof of their virtues; though we are aware that the public have been imposed upon so often with medicines which have been highly extolled, but which on trial possessed no real virtues, that they have lost all confidence in any medicine which is advertised.

To those who may be induced to give these Pills a trial, they will find that the truth has not yet become entirely extinct. In conclusion, we would ask those who are suffering from disease, to read the certificates published in our columns. They are from persons who have been benefitted by their use, and who will at any time be happy to recommend them to others.

School for Young Ladies.

THE subscriber respectfully announces that he proposes to open a School for Young Ladies, in Portsmouth, on the 15th of September, provided a number of pupils is obtained, sufficient to warrant the undertaking.
The usual branches of a thorough English Education will be taught; and instruction will also be given in the Latin, French, Italian and German Languages.
There will be four terms, of eleven weeks each, in the year. The charge for tuition will be fifteen dollars a term.
In order that suitable arrangements may be seasonably made, it is important that the number of Young Ladies who may be offered as pupils, be early ascertained. Persons desirous of sending their daughters, are requested to leave their names with Mr. Joseph H. Foster, before the first of July.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"
It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "teed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

CITY COUNCIL.—A resolution appropriating $500 for the celebration of the Fourth of July, provided an equal sum was guaranteed by the citizens, passed both branches of the City Council, last evening.

No other business of interest was transacted.

☞ In the Supreme Judicial Court, on Thursday, Chief Justice Perley delivered the opinion of the Court, in the suits in Equity concerning the rights of the Bondholders of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad to the rolling stock of the road and to the iron between Epping and Raymond. We understand that the Court decided that the creditors of the "iron loan" were entitled to be paid the amount of their claim upon the iron before it can be held by the bondholders; and that the bondholders are entitled to hold the rolling stock of the road, notwithstanding the mortgages made by the Directors to indemnify themselves for liability as endorsers, &c. for the road.

HIGHLAND COTTAGE, STRATHAM.—It will be seen by his advertisements, that Mr. Dinman is bound to render his beautiful Cottage and grounds as popular as ever, this summer. He will serve up Strawberries and cream on and after Saturday, as heretofore—and that's in the best style. He also intends to have a Fourth of July at his place—and will of course, get up a good time.

A BOOK FOR EVERY BIBLE READER.—"Illustrations of Scriptures" suggested by a tour through the Holy Land, by Rev. Horatio B. Hackett, D. D.

The circulating agent, Mr. Trask, is now visiting the families of this city with the work, having the recommendation of most of the Clergymen of Newburyport and this vicinity. It is free from denominational bias, and at every step in the perusal we find perpetual confirmation of scripture truth,—that believing the word of God, we have not followed "cunningly devised fables."

It is sold at a price within the means of every family.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, June 18.

HOUSE.—Mr. Edwards of Keene, from the Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred the petition of Mr. Godfrey and 54 others, for a term of the Probate Court at Epping, reported that the petition be referred to the delegation from the County of Rockingham. Adopted.

Mr. Lull, from the Committee on Elections to whom was referred a resolution of inquiry as to the right of Mr. Robinson, of Salisbury to a seat in this house, reported that that gentleman is entitled to his seat. Report adopted.

The resolutions on the outrages of the Slave Power, were read a second time, and on motion of Mr. Edwards of Keene, slightly amended.

Mr. Herbert, of Rumney, then offered a resolution postponing the further consideration of the resolutions until half past 10 to-morrow morning, and that the rules be so far suspended that they shall be in order for amendment, for passage to a third reading, and for the question on their adoption. The resolution was adopted.

Bill relating to the Police Court of the city of Portsmouth. Read a third time, and passed.

Bill in amendment of an act in addition to chap. 79, sec. 9, and chap. 81, of the Compiled Statutes. Read a third time, and passed.

Several private bills and resolves were passed.

A bill was introduced, relating to the right of suffrage by students of Dartmouth College.

Mr. Benton from the Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred the petition of Mason W. Tappan and others, for the commutation of the punishment of Cornelius Haskell, now under sentence of death, reported a resolution referring said petition to a Committee of the House, consisting of one from each county.—The resolution was adopted.

SUDDEN DEATH.—We regret to learn that Col. William R. Kimball died suddenly at his residence in Cornish on Saturday morning last, supposed from a disease of the heart. Mr. Kimball has long been a prominent man in the county—active in the temperance cause, and operations of our Agricultural Society. He was in the 63d year of his age.—Claremont Advocate.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

The convention at Philadelphia, Wednesday June 18, nominated John C. Fremont for President. The special correspondent of the Boston Advertiser gives the following account of the matter.

On the first ballot to-day, Fremont was said to receive 363 votes, McLean 190, Banks 1, Seward 1, Sumner 2.

The official declaration, however, stated that Fremont received 359, McLean 196, Seward 1, Banks 1, Sumner 2.

On the formal ballot, Fremont had 329, McLean 37, Seward 2. The McLean votes were all from Ohio and Pennsylvania, and the Seward vote from Pennsylvania.

Fremont was then unanimously nominated, receiving the vote of every State, in the midst of the greatest enthusiasm.

It has been a day of painfully intense excitement in the convention; but the results are regarded as most favorable to union and success against Buchanan. Pennsylvania, though aggrieved, bends gracefully and will give a cordial support to Fremont. The enthusiasm among the friends of Fremont is immense. The convention was wild for some moments after the announcement.

The Vice Presidency is the subject of caucussing to-night. If Pennsylvania will agree upon a man, that choice will be respected.—Mr. Banks telegraphs not to nominate him. Otherwise he certainly would receive the nomination, and may do so notwithstanding.—Senator Dayton of New York is perhaps the most prominently mentioned. Meredith of Philadelphia is proposed. It is considered right to conciliate with the Vice Presidency the old whigs, the friends of McLean and the "North Americans,"—which is a large job for one man. Part of Pennsylvania and the West are very eager for Senator Wilson.—Some of the North Americans are very sore, but the opinion is that they will adopt the ticket made here, at New York to-morrow.

The platform is voted perfect by all. The convention will be through by to-morrow noon.

The premature withdrawal of McLean made a great excitement among his friends and nerved them to fresh exertions. He got full as many votes, perhaps more, than he would if it had not been made.

There were severe struggles on the American questions involved in the last resolution, and in relation to conferring with the New York convention; but the results were favorable to union and harmony.

The first informal ballot, shows how the vote stood, by States.

When Virginia was called, the delegates declined to cast any vote.

Delegates from Michigan, before declaring her vote, said that her first choice had been Seward, but finding the sense of the Convention so unmistakably for Fremont, she decided to cast her vote for him.

Wisconsin delegates said the first choice of Wisconsin had been Seward; her second, Chase; her third choice, Sumner; but she would vote for Fremont.

The District of Columbia declined to vote.

The Convention immediately proceeded to a formal ballot for a candidate for Vice President, and Wm. L. Dayton of New Jersey, was unanimously nominated.

RESOLUTIONS

OF THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:—

This Convention of Delegates assembled in pursuance to a call addressed to the people of the United States, without regard to past political differences or divisions; who are opposed to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise; to the policy of the present administration; to the extension of slavery into free territory; in favor of the admission of Kansas as a free State; of restoring the action of the federal government to the principles of Washington and Jefferson, and for the purpose of presenting candidates for the offices of the President and Vice President, do resolve:

Resolved, That the maintenance of the principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and embodied in the Federal Constitution are essential to the preservation of our Republican interests, and that the Federal Constitution, the rights of the States, and the Union of the States must and should be preserved.

Resolved, That, with our republican fathers, we hold it to be a self-evident truth, that all men are endowed with the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and that the primary object and ulterior design of federal government were to secure these rights to all persons within its exclusive jurisdiction; that as our republican fathers when they had abolished slavery in all our national territory ordained that no person should be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. It becomes our duty to maintain this provision of the Constitution against all attemps to violate it for the purpose of establishing slavery in the United States, by positive legislation prohibiting its existence or extension therein; that we deny the authority of Congress, or a territorial legislature, or an individual, or an association of individuals, to give legal assistance to slavery in any territory of the United States while the present Constitution shall be retained.

Resolved, That the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the territories of the United States, for their government, and that in the exercise of this power it is the right and the imperative duty of Congress to prohibit in the territories those twin relics of barbarism polygamy and slavery.

Resolved, That while the Constitution of the United States was ordained by the people in order to form a more perfect union, and establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty, it contains ample provisions for the protection of life, liberty and property of every citizen, the dearest constitutional rights of the people of Kansas have been fraudulently taken from them; their territory has been invaded by an armed force.

WATERVILLE, Me. June 18.—The announcement of Fremont's nomination being made to the Waterville Republican Association, at their meeting this evening, they immediately adjourned to the Elmwood Hotel, where Hon. Lot M. Morrill, last year the Democratic Speaker of the Maine Senate, is now addressing them. Much enthusiasm is manifested.

Watson G. Haynes, known for his services in procuring the abolition of flogging in the U. S. Navy, died in Nicaragua, May 9th, of yellow fever. He was a captain in Walker's forces.

Notice.

MR. WENZEL respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has disposed of his Bookbindery, Picture Frame and Fancy Box Manufactory, No. 58 Congress street, Portsmouth, to Mr. JAMES BARTON, late of the firm of Barton & Cobb, who will conduct the business in all its branches, from and after this date.

Mr. Barton is well known to our citizens as a competent and skilful mechanic, and will retain as assistants the excellent workmen lately employed by me. I am therefore convinced that all work entrusted to him will be executed in the most elegant and thorough manner.

The business at my establishment in Boston has increased so rapidly as to demand my whole attention; I am therefore compelled to resign my business in this city to other hands. In so doing, I have to thank my friends for their liberal patronage during a series of years, and trust it will be as freely bestowed upon my worthy successor, whom I have much pleasure in recommending to all my former customers

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. More-over the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been purchased of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the price of $10.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to this extent they are the poorer for their purchase, farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company is constructing dwellings to be rented at cost.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the Slaughter-house cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF LOTTERIES.
BALTIMORE, April 18, 1856.

THE undersigned, Commissioner of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from various portions of the country, making inquiry as to Lottery Schemes, with which the country is flooded, and which purport to be "decided by the drawings of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries," takes this method to answer all such letters of inquiry, and inform the public that all Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Lotteries are gross frauds; that certain parties who style themselves Murry & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lotteries at Cleaveland, Ohio, are impostors, and said lottery a fraud, having neither legal nor presumptive existence; and that another fictitious firm, styled Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, are also imposters, and all lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.

RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Contractor for drawing the Maryland Lotteries. The business is conducted under the firm of R. France & Co., as Managers, and they have no sole agents in the city of Baltimore. There are, however, some forty licensed venders for the State of Maryland, who derive licenses under him, through this office, to sell tickets in the Maryland Lotteries.

A REMARKABLE MAN.

At a temperance meeting held in Alabama, about six years ago, Colonel Lehmanowsky, who had been twenty-three years in the armies of Napoleon Bonaparte, addressed the meeting. He rose before the audience, tall, erect and vigorous, with a glow of health upon his cheek, and said—

You see before you a man seventy years old. I have fought two hundred battles, have fourteen wounds on my body; have lived thirty days on horse-flesh, with the bark of trees for my bread, snow and ice for my drink, the canopy of heaven for my covering; without stockings or shoes on my feet, and only a few rags of clothing. In the deserts of Egypt, I marched for days with a burning sun upon my naked head, feet blistered in the scorching sand, and with eyes, nostrils, and mouth filled with dust, and with thirst so tormenting that I have opened the veins of my arms and sucked my own blood! Do you ask how I survived all these horrors? I answer that, under the providence of God, I owe my preservation, my health and vigor, to this fact, that I never drank a drop of spirituous liquor in my life, and,' continued he, 'Baron Larry, chief of the medical staff of the French army, has stated as a fact, that the six thousand survivors who safely returned from Egypt, were all of them the men who abstained from ardent spirits.'

The Savannah Morning News says:

We observe that meetings are being held by the citizens of the cities and towns of South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia, to express their approbation of the conduct of Hon. Preston S. Brooks, in the chastisement he inflicted on Charles Sumner, the foul mouthed Massachusetts Senator. Of course no such demonstration of public opinion could be made in Savannah, but we can assure our Carolina brethren that ninety-nine in a hundred of our population must heartily justify and approve the course pursued by Mr. Brooks.

PREMIUM OF ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS.—In behalf of the Fourth Congregational Church of Hartford, Connecticut, the undersigned would offer a premium of one hundred dollars for the best tract, not exceeding eight pages in length, on the subject of slavery, suitable to be published by the American Tract Society according to the first article of its constitution. The committee of award will be the Rev. Joel Hawes, D. D., Rev. Robert Turnbull, D. D., both of Hartford, Conn., and Hon. Joseph C. Hornblower, L. L. D., of Newark, New Jersey. Manuscripts (postpaid) may be sent to the subscriber in Hartford, with a sealed envelope enclosing the name of the author, until the first day of September, 1856. WILLIAM W. PATTON.

The negro girl, Rosetta Armistead, whose trial as a fugitive slave caused so much excitement in Cincinnati, over a year ago, has instituted a suit against the Rev. Henry Dennison, her former owner, to recover ten thousand dollar damages for false imprisonment.

The immense majority of the whites at the South hold no slaves. There is not a single slaveholding State in the Union, in which the slaveholders constitute one tenth part of the aggregate free white population. In South Carolina, where the slaveholding class is relatively the most numerous, out of a white population of 274,563' only 25,596— less than one-tenth —are slaveholders.

REV. ASA CUMMINGS.— The Portland Advertiser says:

A letter received yesterday from Rev. Mr. Rowell, states that Father Cummings was taken ill at Panama, and that his physician said he would certainly die if he remained there, while there was a chance that the sea air might do him good. He accordingly embarked in the George Law, but the sea air produced chills, and he died two days out from Aspinwall. He was unconscious some time before his decease.

In North Carolina, within six miles of Greensboro, Rev. John B. Marsh reports a family who had never heard any person pray or preach, had never seen a Bible, or heard of Jesus! Throughout 'the Pines,' where everybody is engaged in making turpentine, he found similar specimens of heathenism; not one half of the population, according to his estimate have ever seen a Bible!

THE ISSUE.—Thomas Butler King, of Ga., (a member, as he said, of the late Whig party) assured the Buchanan ratificators in New York that the South would be with them throughout the glorious contest. He also added: "Any man who does not go with the South in this contest will be set down as desiring the dissolution of the Union."—This then is a war waged for the South. Who said "sectional parties?"—Boston Atlas.

The Mount of Olives, near Jerusalem, has been purchased by a Madame Polack, the widow of a wealthy banker of the Hebrew persuasion at Konigsberg, in Prussia. This lady intends to beautify the place and improve the whole neighborhood, at her sole expense. The first thing she did was to plant the whole area with a grove of olive trees, and thus restore it to the original state from which it derives its name.

As Mr. Buchanan is advanced in years, it is well that the convention took the precaution of placing second upon the ticket a youthful and vigorous man for Vice President, so that in case of a dispensation of Providence, such as has occurred before, the office would fall into good hands.—Cincinnati Inquirer.

We advise Mr. Buchanan to be very careful what he eats and drinks, and to beware of the Ides of March.—Evening Post.

Gov. Ford made a remarkable confession in the N. Y. Convention. He said that he was from one of the second families of Virginia. This is the first instance on record of any man of Virginia descent who was not of one of the first families.

SATURDAY, JUNE 21, 1856.

OPINIONS.

We make a few brief extracts from various papers, on the nomination of Col. Fremont. The Boston Courier of the 19th, gives an unfavorable opinion, and says:—

We know that he has occupied no legislative or executive position in the civil service of the government, and that he must be, therefore, entirely unacquainted with those administrative duties, the successful discharge of which, might have afforded some guaranty of his fitness for an office, demanding the highest abilities and widest experience of a statesman. To counterbalance these disadvantages, we are aware of no distinguished services, of any description, rendered to the public cause, which should entitle him to the peculiar gratitude of the country and substantiate his claim to the highest reward which could be bestowed on an American citizen.

He certainly has not been much mixed up with party machinery, nor largely engaged in wire pulling. The Courier also says, in a previous sentence:—

So far as we are yet informed, we can say with all sincerity, that all we know of him, is, that he is an engineer by profession, who, under circumstances of unusual difficulty and danger, penetrated with his companions to the Pacific coast, across the Rocky Mountains.

There was one Col. Washington, a long time ago, a land surveyor by profession, who under circumstances of unusual difficulty and danger, brought home the remnant of an army, his companions in Braddock's defeat: and Congress made this same surveyor their general, and the people made him their president.

Next comes the Portland Advertiser.

John C. Fremont has been made the standard-bearer of the hosts of freemen who are now mustering to vindicate their rights, by overturning the policy of the most disgraceful administration that ever cursed this country.

He is the man for that very mission—unstained by party intrigue, as becomes the exponent of a cause which is above all parties—knowing what slavery is by his early reminiscences, and what freedom is by his mature convictions and actual trial—born in a slave State, but living in another made free by his own splendid exertions—in the prime of vigorous manhood, as the burden of his responsibilities will surely require—and endowed with a pluck which the terrors of famine amid mountain snows never tamed, and before which the myrmidons of slavery will cower. Such is the man—worthy of his course, and calculated to advance it.

We congratulate the friends of freedom upon the wisdom which led to this nomination.

Next comes the Boston Courier of June 20, with a very important correction, as follows:

In preparing our article of yesterday morning, upon the Philadelphia nomination, we were led into an inadvertent error of fact, which we hasten to correct. We remarked that Mr. Fremont had held no legislative position. In reality he was a member of the United States Senate, from California, for the short time, from the period of the admission of California into the Union, September, 1850, to the expiration of his term in 1851.—He was defeated for the succeeding term of six years. We had entirely forgotten the fact that he held a seat in the Senate, and we also learn that he was a member of the Convention which framed the Constitution of California. When the memoir of Mr. Fremont's life, which is promised, comes to hand, we shall endeavor to possess ourselves of all the incidents of his history. At present, except so far as we stated in our article of yesterday, we are in a condition of wofol ignorance on this subject.

It is quite possible that Col. Fremont does not know much about the Courier.

North American Convention.— This convention re-assembled at New York on the 19th, and after a stormy debate, the report of the committee of Conference with the Republican Convention was adopted, and the Convention adjourned till Friday morning, at 10 o'clock.

The following despatch to the Pennsylvanian delegation from the American Executive Committee, at Pittsburg, was read in the Convention: "The indignation of the Americans here is intense at the action of the Republican Convention. Adhere firmly to your own organization."

Mr. Williamson of Pennsylvania said the members at Philadelphia had proved traitors to liberty. He denounced them as traitors, hypocrites and scoundrels. He was in favor of nominating a clean American ticket.

Chauncy Schaffer of New York said the Convention at Philadelphia had ensured the election of James Buchanan. He, for one, could not go back to Millard Fillmore. He was in favor of adjourning to reflect upon the matter, and then nominate new men.

Mr. Calkins of Pennsylvania, in a long speech, declared his intention to go for Millard Fillmore.

North American Convention.—New York, June 20.—Hon. Mr. Allen, of Mass. said he was authorized to withdraw the name of Mr. Banks as their candidate for President, and would nominate in his stead a man whom Mr. Banks recommended—John C. Fremont.

He moved the adoption by acclamation of John C. Fremont and Wm. F. Johnston, as the American candidates for President and Vice President.

The motion was adopted without a dissenting voice.

A National Executive Committee was selected by the delegates, one from each State, and a committee of five appointed by the chair to draft an address to the American people. Adjourned.

How Many People?—It would be useless for us to dispute with the editor of the Gazette as to the number of persons present at the Democratic Ratification Meeting at Concord on Tuesday last, as compared with a previous meeting of the Republicans. We attended both meetings, while he saw but one; and we place more confidence in our own eyesight, than in partizan prejudiced statements of any other person. We believe that not over 3000 persons visited Concord on the occasion of either of the meetings alluded to—and that the number at the Democratic meeting was a third smaller than the other.

The Congregational Journal, published in Concord, says of the same meeting:—"A collection of people numbering according to the estimate of many good judges about 1,000, besides the citizens and members of the Legislature, assembled in this city on Tuesday to ratify the Democratic nominations,&c." The reader will judge between the accounts.

The Wrongs of Kansas Confirmed.—George G. Fogg, editor of the Independent Democrat and one of the Secretaries of the Congressional Commission, has returned to his house in Concord, N. H., after an absence of more than two months in Kansas. In his address to his readers, he says:—

"We are again at our post, in some respects wiser, if not better, than when we left. We have seen Kansas. We have mingled with its people, and know, by personal observation, how great are the wrongs under which they suffer. Of these and many other things which we saw and heard, we shall take occasion to speak at an early day. For the present, we will only say, that, instead of the wrongs of the people of Kansas having been exaggerated, the half of the wrongs has never been told. And this, the testimony taken by the Congressional Commission will conclusively show. And yet, no oral or written testimony can portray the heighth and depth, the length and breadth of the outrages perpetrated in that territory under the color of the law, and by the authority of men who hold commissions under the President of the United States. Including the Governor, Judges, Marshal, and Indian Agents, they are engaged in one consolidated conspiracy, having for its object the expulsion of every free State settler from the territory and the establishment of Slavery therein, at all hazards, not excepting civil war and a dissolution of the Union."

The Sumner Outrage.— The Mobile Daily Tribune, of June 7, alluding to the proceedings of the Sumner meeting at the Tabernacle says:

Two or three thousand men got together at New York, and under the promptings of fifty very respectable and influential men, they proceed at once to prejudge the whole South for the act of one man—make that act the act of our whole people; and, thus having worked themselves into a rage, measure by this standard, under a profound excitement, the disposition of the whole South.

This injustice is shameful! It is not true, as is stated within these resolutions, that the Southern members of Congress, and the public press of the South, have approved of the act of Mr. Brooks. It is not true of a half dozen members of Congress; it is not true of score of presses. It is not true of our people. There is a general disapproval of the act in the place and in the manner of it.

Most gracious disclaimer! most ingenious mixture of fact, falsehood and folly. It is a fact that the brutal act of Brooks & Co. is not approved by the whole people of the South; not by its best people. But it is a falsehood, to say that not half a dozen members of Congress, or a score of papers approve. And the Mobile Tribune's own opinion, given in the last sentence, betrays the folly of self contradiction. A disapproval of the place and manner, may not be a disapproval of the act. The sentence is like the subterfuge of Keitt, who did not know exactly when Brooks was to strike—or like the subterfuges of some northern doe-presses which really don't know how to treat the matter.

A DRUNKARD'S BRAINS.

Many persons have thought that temperance men have, in their zeal for the cause, made statements greatly exaggerated, relating to the effect of alcohol upon the brain. For example, it has been said that the brain of a drunkard would burn with a blue flame precisely in the same way that alcohol in its natural state would burn.—There has been abundant proof of this from the highest authority, and yet there are not a few who think it all imaginative.—We have before us additional evidence of the effect of alcohol upon the brain, which we place before our readers. It is from the Boston Medical Journal—

'Hyrtl, by far the greatest anatomist of the age, used to say that he could distinguish in the darkest room, by one stroke of the scalpel, the brain of the inebriate from that of the man who lived soberly. Now and then he would congratulate his class upon the possession of a drunkard's brain, admirably fitted by its hardness and more complete preservation, for the purpose of demonstration. When the anatomist wishes to preserve a human brain for any length of time, he effects his object by keeping that object in a vessel of alcohol. From a soft, pulpy substance, it then becomes comparatively hard. But the inebriate anticipating the anatomist, begins the indurating process before death—begins it while the brain remains the consecrated temple of the soul, while its delicate and gossamer tissues still throb with the pulses of heaven-born life. Strange infatuation, thus to desecrate the god-like!—Terrible enchantment that dries up all fountains of generous feeling, petrifies all the tender humanities and sweet charities of life, leaving only a brain of ead and a heart of stone!'

NOTHING LIKE IT.

There is nothing equal in the proprietary medicine line to Dyer's Healing Embrocation. It has attained an enviable reputation among the standard medicines of the day. It works almost miraculously in the cure of disease, and no person should be without a constant supply.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

Boston, No. 2 Oliver street, Nov. 28, 1848.

Dr. Hayden,—Dear Sir: On the 18th of this month I was taken dangerously ill, with severe pains through my whole body, with much fever, and great distress in my head. By advice, I concluded to give your Pills a trial. I took three, which afforded me almost instant relief, and I for one can truly say that, without any exception, they are the best medicine I have ever used. I also recommended them to a sick friend, who informs me that he received great benefit from their use, and extols them above all others.

I remain, sir, your obedient servant,

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the 'Old Fogies' are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

P. & C. RAILROAD.

Messrs. Editors :—Your notice in relation to suits between the mortgagees of the furniture and Trustees for the bondholders of the Portsmouth and Concord Railroad, is not full enough to give a correct account of the decision of the Court. The points decided were as follows—That the persons who lent the iron to the railroad for the track between Epping and Raymond will hold the iron as against the bondholders—That all the mortgages made prior to August 20, 1850—the date of the mortgage to trustees for bondholders were valid, & the mortgagees would hold the property described in those mortgages—That the agreement of the Railroad and those persons who advanced the money to pay the duties upon the iron imported in the ship General Bury, was binding upon the bondholders if assented to by the trustees, and the amount of those duties must be paid by the bondholders—That the mortgages made after the date of mortgage to trustees for bondholders, would not, upon the facts stated in the bill, hold the property in the same as against the bondholders. It was further decided that the complainants might have leave to amend their bill, and that the Trustees, the defts. might amend their demurrer or file an answer. Y.

We understand the decisions above stated, were furnished by the judges to the gentleman who sends us the article,—and we therefore concude that they are correct.

SALUTES.—A salute of 100 guns was fired last week by the Democratic patriots in this city, in honor of the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency; and a similar salute was fired by the American Republicans on Friday evening, for the nomination of Col. J. C. Fremont as their candidate for the same high office. Now whether the number or size of the guns fired on such occasions is an index to the amount of patriotism or spirit existing in any party, we can not say; but we think that this useless custom of saluting—at least outside the military, whose business it is to deal with the weapons, and in the language of war—is rather out of character.—The money could be applied to a better purpose.

NOT YET.—Immediately after the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency, a ship on the stocks here at the yard of Samuel Badger, Esq., was named in honor of the nominee—and on the authority of the owners, announced to be launched on the 18th inst.—Judging from this it was afterwards stated by the papers that the ship would be launched "this day" — and still later, that she was launched. This is premature—the noble ship still sits on the stocks, and we hear will not be launched for several days. So it remains to be seen, whether "James Buchanan" will make a successful "run," or no.

☞ See Auction column this morning, for sales of Furniture, Crockery; Horse, Wagon, &c., this forenoon, and Clothing, this evening —by H. F. Wendell, State street. Also a sale of Furniture this morning, and sale of varieties this evening,—by G. W. Towle, at City Sales Room.

ACCIDENT.—On Friday afternoon, James W. Tuckerman, a printer in the Journal office, had his foot severely injured by the machinery of the power press in that office. Fortunately no bones were broken.

☞ Rev. A. J. Davis, of Concord, will preach at Lord's Chapel, Hanover street, tomorrow.

☞ It will be seen that the Atlantic House, Rye Beach, is open to visitors—under the direction of Mr. J. C. Philbrick, proprietor, as heretofore. The Atlantic is in one of the most picturesque and variously attractive spots on the coast, and friend Philbrick one of the most agreeable of hosts.

FIRE-WORKS FOR THE FOURTH OF JULY. Our approaching National Anniversary being decidedly suggestive of Fireworks, we would with pleasure refer all patriotic citizens to Mr. James G. Hovey's advertisement in another column. As his Pyrotechnical Laboratory is the oldest establishment of the kind in the New England States, and his works unsurpassed for beauty and brilliancy, we would recommend all interested to send him their orders.

☞ An Irishman, named Brown, was severely injured in the Newburyport Globe Mill, Wednesday morning. He was reaching over some machinery, when his arm was caught, and both bones between the elbow and hand were broken, and the flesh, to half the bigness of the arm, torn off. It is thought that the limb must be amputated.

In the Atlantic mills, in Lawrence, are 160 female operatives who have worked there for three years or more. Seven of them have worked there seven years.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY, June 19.

In both houses, several bills passed various stages.

In the House Mr. Wiggin, of Stratham, introduced the following joint resolution, which was read once and ordered to a second reading:

Resolved, That the Chaplain of the House of Representatives be allowed the same compensation the present session as is paid to the members of the Legislature.

The Resolutions on the outrages of the Slave Power, were taken up, and amended by the addition of the following resolution after the 4th:

Resolved, That the adoption of a Constitution, the organization of a government, and the application for admission into the Union as a State, by the people of Kansas, are measures forced upon them by the necessities of their condition, are justified by precedent, and should be acceded to by Congress as the best and speediest, if not the only means of restoring peace and order to the territory, and of calming the agitation of the country.

The remainder of the day's session was occupied in debates, calling yeas and nays, &c. The amendments offered by those who opposed the resolutions, were generally voted down by majorities of 20 to 30. The resolutions were read a third time—and pending their passage, the House adjourned.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, June 19.

SENATE.—Mr. Clayton made a personal explanation, stating that he had been misrepresented by Lord Clarendon, in certain remarks in the British House of Lords, respecting Central American affairs.

Mr. Butler, in replying to Mr. Wilson's defence of Mr. Sumner, relative to certain provisions of the Constitution of South Carolina, stated that Mr. Wilson misrepresented the constitution of that state altogether.

Mr. Cass made some remarks supplementary to those of Mr. Clayton, and on the same subject.

Mr. Pearce sustained the American interpretation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

Mr. Toombs wished to have it understood that he did not agree with Mr. Clayton, that the Central American question was not a proper subject for arbitration. He could see no reason why it should not be left to arbitration.

Mr. Geyer gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill supplementary to the act to organize the territory of Kansas and Nebraska.

The House resolution, supplying new members with the usual number of books of a public character was passed.

Mr. Douglas offered a resolution for the adjournment of Congress on the first Tuesday of July next.

Mr. Weller thought the resolution had better lie over, as Congress, with a large amount of business before it, cannot possibly adjourn then, and would not likely be prepared to do so until the 15th of August.

The resolution was postponed.

Several bills of minor importance were then passed, and the Senate adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr. Lindley defended his political position from the strictures of the Union newspaper, saying that the latter was opposed to the nomination of Mr. Buchanan, and rather than that Mr. Benton should have any influence with Mr. Buchanan, in the event of his election, it would crush the Democratic party in Missouri. Mr. Lindley vindicated the Benton Democrats, so far as their connection with his election was concerned, and himself from charges of being tinctured with Free Soilism.

No quorum. Ad ourned.

NORFOLK, June 19.—The screw steam frigate Colorado was successfully launched from our navy yard this morning.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

REFRIGERATORS of the best patterns for sale by E. A. STEVENS, 46 Market st.

THE LATE ELOPEMENT IN HIGH LIFE. —As there has been much inquiry respecting the late elopement of a married man, who was an officer in the United States Army in Mexico, with a daughter of one of our wealthy citizens, we ascertain that the gentleman is Major Phil. Kearney, and the lady a daughter of Hugh Maxwell late Collector of the port of New York.—[N. Y. Sunday Atlas.

In a recent sermon Rev. E. H. Chapin remarked that his duty was, whether in the sacred desk, or elsewhere, to raise a voice against every sin or evil that threatened the public good. He should not go out of his way to speak of these matters, but when they rose before him—were fairly pushed from his heart—he would give utterance to them.—There was not a member of his congregation whom he would not grasp warmly by the hand, but there was not, at the same time, one who could dictate to him what he was to preach. So far as his influence went, the pulpit should be free, and if the people were to lock it up, he must beg to be locked outside.

Some days since, as the passenger train was backing up from Montpelier Junction, a child was discovered standing upon the track. Conductor Hobart and Jefferson March (of Northfield) immediately tried the break with all their strength. The train could not be stopped—the child stood unmoved—it must die! Mr. Marsh placed himself on the lowest step, and as the train advanced, swung around his foot and swept the child from the track, saved! Mr. Marsh says that up to that moment he thought of nothing but the child; afterwards, and for days, he was hardly himself, and even in his sleep he saw the child, and would awaken in terror—so severe was the shock to him.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to all seasons and climates; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and of a proper form, to keep the skirt full, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

WHALEBONE SKIRTS

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES' IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be purchased by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber late Assistant of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made strong merits whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. Facts and Statistics can prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents at the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the ablest, most and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credit, and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is generally rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $3.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been purchased of—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield of the choice of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $6 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that the one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be broke under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company will give unexception bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany purchasers, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF LOTTERIES. BALTIMORE, April 15, 1856.

THE undersigned, Commissioner of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from various portions of the country making inquiry as to Lottery Schemes, with which the country is flooded, and which purport to be "decided by the drawings of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries," takes this method to answer all such letters of inquiry, and inform the public that all such Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Lotteries are gross frauds; that certain parties who style themselves Morris & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lotteries at Cleaveland, Ohio, are impostors, and said lottery a fraud, having neither legal nor presumptive existence; and that another fictitious firm, styled Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, are also imposters, and all lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.

RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Contractor for drawing the Maryland Lotteries. The business is conducted under the firm of R France & Co., as Managers, and they have no sole agents in the city of Baltimore. There are, however, some forty licensed venders for the State of Maryland, who derive licenses under him, through this office, to sell tickets in the Maryland Lotteries.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JUNE 23, 1856.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

MINNESOTA.

WINONA, MINNESOTA, June 12.

Dear Chronicle:—A few lines from this section of the country, may possibly interest some of your readers, especially those who feel a disposition to push their fortunes in the West. In these days of violent party feelings and contests, when Kansas and Nebraska exclusively occupy the attention of every newspaper, and their advantages, whether they be real or imaginary, are so warmly urged upon the notice of the public, the claims of Minnesota have been almost entirely overlooked and unnoticed; a fact somewhat surprising, considering her fertile soil, delightful climate, and great natural resources, advantages, which, after her admission into the Union, will cause her to be the most flourishing and populous of the North Western States.

Its scenery in some parts is grand and majestic, in others soft and enchanting.—Many silvery streams flow through its valleys, while innumerable shining lakes adorn the landscape, glittering like dew drops in the sun. The valley of the Minnesota river, the "Undine region of Nicollet," is one of the most delightful countries in the world. Into this part of Minnesota is the great tide of emigration now flowing. Its soil is in fertility at least equal to that of Illinois, while in salubrity of climate and beauty of scenery, it has no superior. The most important thing to the Western settler is the preservation of that greatest of all blessings, health. It is almost impossible to do this in some parts of the West, on account of the fever and ague, a curse from which Minnesota is almost entirely free, and it is asserted that her climate, free from all sudden changes, is a cure for Pulmonary Consumption, Asthma, &c.

In the States east of the Mississippi, very little good land can be had at the government price, it having been nearly all taken up. In Iowa, the recent grant to the railroad will cause the closing of the Land Offices, until these lands are located, but in Minnesota are hundreds of thousands of acres well watered and timbered, with valuable water power, now open to settlers at $1,25 per acre. Land which in a few years must inevitably greatly increase in value. There are many Indians in this territory, most of them dwelling on the Reservation in Bluearth county, from whence in a short time they will be removed farther west; then again still farther, until they are at last crushed between the Atlantic and Pacific waves of emigration. If nations, as well as individuals, are punished in this world for their sins, then we must suffer much, to atone for wrongs done to the Red man. Who can say it is not a wrong to force him at the point of the bayonet from the hunting grounds of his forefathers, from the lands which his ancestors have occupied for centuries. Every race struggling for freedom has claimed and received our sympathy, but when the Indian, like the Seminole, stands up rifle in hand, fighting to the last for the soil that contains the bones of his nation, where is our sympathy then? These Indians of Minnesota belong to the Chippewa and Sioux or Dacotah tribes. From the latter, came the gentle Minnehaha, loveliest of all the maidens. If Hiswatha had lived in these days he would have sought in vain for one like her among the daughters of this race.

To those accustomed to the slow growth of eastern cities, or the dead stand still of the South, the rapid progress of these western towns is a matter of astonishment. Where but yesterday was a deserted lonely plain, today are half a dozen stores and a hotel, tomorrow a flourishing city. A good specimen of this class is Winona, hardly three years since, but one or two solitary houses rose on the beautiful prairie, which forms its site.—Last fall it had 300 inhabitants; now, according to a census just taken, there is a population of 2000, to which every steamboat brings a large accession. Building after building is going up with unexampled activity; contracts for 300 new ones to go up this fall have already been made, and I have been assured by an old Californian that the progress of San Francisco in the most exciting times of the Gold fever was slow compared with that of Winona. Its site is a level prairie about 8 miles in length by 3 in width, on one side is the Mississippi which here runs nearly East and West. On the other are romantic looking bluffs from 500 to 800 feet in height, extending inland for 7 or 8 miles, when we come to prairie land, a back country rapidly filling with industrious settlers, for whom Winona must be the market. Having the best site on the river between St. Louis and St. Paul, in a few years it will be, without doubt, far ahead of Dubuque, Davenport, or Rock Island, and next to St. Paul, the largest city in Minnesota. A charter has been obtained, and stock to the amount of $300,000 taken up in this town alone, for a railroad to Mankato city on the Minnesota river, and the preliminary surveys will be made this summer.

Rochester and Chatfield, a short distance from here in the interior, are of rapid growth, and will be places of considerable importance. At Rochester are some very good mill privileges. La Crosse, in Wisconsin, a short distance below here, and Redwing at the head of Lake Pepin, are both flourishing towns. They were considered very fast places before Winona took the field. One of the largest contractors here is a Portsmouth man, whose courtesy, passengers on the Concord Railroad have in times past often experienced. A few days since we noticed on an upward bound boat, a young lawyer from Portsmouth; we wish him a pleasant tour; if he intends to settle in the West he cannot find a pleasanter place than this, but as our citizens are remarkably quiet and peaceable, disliking and avoiding litigation, it would not be a very profitable location for a gentleman of that profession. PONTIAC.

CAMPHENE — AND RUM.— "The use of camphene and burning fluid should be forbidden by law."—N. H. Gazette.

Why should it be forbidden?

"It is astonishing that any person can be found sufficiently foolhardy to run the risks of using such a dangerous combustible for light. A keg of powder with a lighted wick in it, is a little more dangerous than a camphene lamp, but not much. The least carelessness or inadvertence in the use of camphene and the ordinary burning fluids, may result in death or the most agonizing burns. —Gaz.

That is to say, it is dangerous, and therefore its use should be forbidden by law!

Now let us apply this to rum. Its use is dangerous to property and life,—aye, and to morals too, as camphene is not—yet on the theory of Mr. Wells, whereby he tried to be elected Governor, the use of rum, and its sale also, must not be prohibited, but left to the discretion of the seller and drinker.

"It is singular, when so many heart-rending accidents are continually occurring from the use of these liquid fires in lamps, that they are not wholly given over."—Gaz.

It is singular, when so many heart rending scenes are continually occurring from the use of these liquid fires in men's throats, that they are not wholly given over—very strange—but dreadfully true.

ST. LOUIS, June 18.—Later dates from Kansas are assuming a milder aspect. Rumors of violence have almost ceased to be heard. Armed men are disbanded, or skulking in remote parts of the territory.

A letter in the Democrat, dated Lawrence, 13th, has a report that 6000 armed Missourians are preparing to invade Kansas, but later dates do not confirm this.

This is evidently a border ruffian dispatch. After writing these words, our eye fell on the following dispatch from Chicago, June 20, which explains itself.

A private letter received here from St. Louis states that the recent reports of quiet in Kansas, sent from that city, are a part of a plan to induce the government to remove the troops from that territory.

This letter no doubt refers to a dispatch from St. Louis June 12, and some of later dates.

☞ Harper's New Monthly Magazine for July, is received from A. Williams & Co. (successors to Fetridge & Co.) Boston, via J. F. Shores, jr., of this city.

The first article is Hasty Pudding, illustrated; the second, Negroland and the Negroes. This article is valuable, being a review of a book called "Western Africa,—by Rev. J. Leighton Wilson," one of the best men who ever went out from this country on a foreign mission.

HEADACHE.—We call the attention of our readers to a notice in another column, of Dr. Hutchins' Headache Pills. They are recommended as the best Headache Medicine ever invented, and according to the testimony given by those who have used them, they are doing more for the cure of Headache than anything yet offered to the public. Those who are afflicted with this distressing complaint, can easily try a box, as they are kept by all our Druggists. *

DOUBLE CHRISTIAN NAMES.—An Oxford correspondent of Notes and Queries mentions that the earliest instance he has found of three names, is Oct. 11, 1588, when Henry Donne Lee subscribed the Thirty-nine Articles of the Church of England.

Margaret W. L. Wood, of Lawrence, Kansas, wife of S. A. Wood, Esq., in a letter to her husband, now in Ohio, giving an account of the sack of that city, says; "Dave Atchison, late Vice President of our glorious Republic, took two boxes of cigars from Brooks' store, and stole some shirts which the owner recognised when he saw them on Atchison's back the next day."

In the Portland City Court, June 19, Peter Faher, for illegally selling intoxicating drinks, was fined $5 and cost.

☞ According to the Almanac, to-day, June 23, is the longest day of the year, being 15 hours and 16 minutes from sunrise to sunset.

Speculators in corn in Chicago have met with ruinous losses. They purchased at 48 to 50 cents a bushel, and now cannot realize over 30 cents.

It is said that a Synod of the Rabbas of France and Algeria is to be held in France shortly, with the object of examining the propriety of transferring the observance of the Jewish Sabbath from Saturday to Sunday.

Sir Wm. Berkley, in 1671, wrote to England: "I thank my God that there are no free schools, nor printing presses in Virginia."

NOTHING LIKE IT.

There is nothing equal in the proprietory medicine line to Dyer's Healing Embrocation. It has attained an enviable reputation among the standard medicines of the day. It works almost miraculously in the cure of disease, and no person should be without a constant supply.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

BOSTON, No. 3 CHURCH STREET, Nov. 28, 1848.

DR. HAYDEN.—Dear Sir: On the 18th of this month I was taken dangerously ill, with severe pains through my whole body, with much fever, and great distress in my head. By advice, I concluded to give your Pills a trial. I took three, which afforded me almost instant relief, and I for one can truly say that, without any exception, they are the best medicine I have ever used. I also recommended them to a sick friend, who informs me that he received great benefit from their use, and extols them above all others.

I remain, sir, your obedient servant,

J. B. TRENHOLM.

School for Young Ladies.

THE subscriber respectfully announces that he proposes to open a School for Young Ladies, in Portsmouth, on the 15th of September, provided a number of pupils is obtained, sufficient to warrant the undertaking.

The usual branches of a thorough English Education will be taught; and instruction will also be given in the Latin, French, Italian and German Languages.

There will be four terms, of eleven weeks each, in the year. The charge for tuition will be fifteen dollars a term.

In order that suitable arrangements may be seasonably made, it is important that the number of Young Ladies who may be offered as pupils, be early ascertained. Persons desirous of sending their daughters, are requested to leave their names with Mr. Joseph H. Foster, before the first of July.

Old Stand! New Stock!

MEDICAL CARD.

HAVING located myself at, and assumed the entire charge of the Apothecary Store, so long occupied by Doct. Samuel Hutchings—and recently occupied by William H. Foster—I am prepared to furnish from a new and recently selected Stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, &c., &c., every article usually called for at an Apothecary's.

That I may disabuse an impression many are said to, and others naturally enough may entertain, viz: That a Stand so antiquated—so long occupied for one particular branch of business—must necessarily contain a Stock made up of "Green Earthern Pots, bladders, and Musty Seeds, Remnants of pack thread, and old cakes of roses," &c. &c., I beg to assure them, and through them, my friends and the public generally, that the past few weeks have found me busy in removing from the premises all stale, flat, and unprofitable materials—and in the mean time their places supplied from selections made by myself, with pure, fresh, and unadulterated Medicines. With such—and such only—I shall endeavor to be supplied hereafter.

To the above I have also added a choice assortment of articles for the Toilet—consisting of Hair Oils, Soaps, Cologne; Hair, Teeth, Nail and other brushes, &c. &c.

PATENT MEDICINES—of such as are really valuable and popular—constantly on hand.

Articles called for, not on hand, ordered and supplied at the shortest notice

Physicians Prescriptions will ever receive all the care and attention, in their composition, which their importance demands.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six pacer to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

FREMONT CLUB.—A number of citizens of Portsmouth, favoring the nomination of the Philadelphia and New York Conventions, met at Rechab Hall on Friday evening for the purpose of organizing a Fremont Club. Ichabod Goodwin, Esq., was chosen President; Horton D. Walker, Reuben Rand and Oliver Ayers, Vice Presidents; and John J. Mason, Secretary. It was voted to hold a Ratification Meeting in this city at an early day, and also to request the State Committee to make arrangements for a Mass Ratification Meeting at Concord. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The Presidential campaign is now fairly begun.

Since the above was written, the Committee have announced the Ratification Meeting for this evening at the Temple.

A Grand Mass Ratification Meeting has also been called at Concord for the Fourth of July.

☞ The first Strawberries we have enjoyed this season, were received from Highland Cottage, on Saturday. They were well ripened, and of excellent quality—at least, so palatable, that with the aid of cream and sugar we were enabled to get down the second plateful. Of course they (that is, those Mr. Diman has left—for we are sorry to say that we didn't reserve even a specimen) must have improved by the hot weather of Saturday and Sunday; and 'twill pay well to drive to Stratham, see the beautiful grounds, and try a dish of strawberries.

☞ A train for New Market Junction, P. & C. R. R., will leave Portsmouth at 6 o'clk to-morrow morning, to accommodate persons going to Exater Court.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY, June 20.

HOUSE.—A message was received from the Senate, announcing that they had passed a bill in relation to County Solicitors, in which they asked the concurrence of the House.—Also, that the Senate concur in the passage of a bill relating to the Police Court of the city of Portsmouth.

The bill sent down from the Senate in relation to County Solicitors was read the first and second times, and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

The bill to amend chapters 25 and 42 of the Compiled Statutes, being on its second reading, Mr. Edwards of Keene explained the object of the bill, which is to repeal certain restrictions as to the right of voting by students at colleges, academies and literary institutions. The bill was then ordered to a third reading.

The resolutions in relation to Kansas, were taken up, and on motion of Mr. Bellows of Concord, their further consideration was postponed till Tuesday next, at 11 o'clock A. M.; and made the standing order for that time.—Adjourned.

AFTERNOON.—Met at 2 o'clock.

On motion of Mr. Lane of Dover, it was ordered that bills and resolves which would be in order for a third reading at 3 o'clock this afternoon, be in order at 2 o'clock.

A resolution for paying the Chaplain, was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Barri of Portsmouth, on leave, presented the petition of John Salter of Portsmouth, asking that the Legislature will direct the laying of his petition before Congress.—Referred.

Notices of Bills.—By Mr. Cross of Manchester—bill to incorporate the Contoocook Railroad; also a bill for the relief of the creditors of the Contoocook Railroad. By Mr. Brown of Manchester—a bill to unite the Concord & Portsmouth and the New Hampshire Central and Concord Railroads.

Adj. to 3 1-2 o'clock P. M. next Monday.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, June 20.

HOUSE.—There being no quorum, no private bills were passed.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio said, as next week had been set apart for the consideration of territorial business, and as the report of the Sumner assault is not yet printed, he should not, until Monday week, move to take up the latter for consideratton. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, June 20.

The Kansas commission are expected on Monday. The Committee found evidence that M. O. Oliver voted in the Legislative election. There was no legal voter of that name. Mr. Oliver, of the Committee, remains, collecting testimony that he is not the "M. O." in question. The proof is complete that the Free State men had 535 votes out of the 815 cast at the Legislative election.

WASHINGTON, 20th.—Mr. Sumner's Health.—Dr. Miller's letter, recently read in the Senate, was not intended to show, and does not, that Dr. Lindley's statement as to Mr. Sumner's health was not fully correct.

The Keating Murder.—The Grand Jury will next week make inquisition into the killing of Thos. Keating by Mr. Herbert, of California, and also into the assault on Mr. Sumner by Mr. Brooks.

NEWBURYPORT.—On Friday, in the cases of James Gardner of Lawrence, and John Brown of Salem, arraigned for violation of liquor law, a verdict of not guilty was rendered.

Roderick Bayley of Andover, was convicted of violation of liquor law, and sentenced.—Amesbury Villager.

CLEVELAND, 20th.—The Kansas Convention met at 10 o'clock this morning and effected a preliminary organization. Delegates from Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Kansas were present.

New England was not represented. Delegates from other States are heard of as on the way. Governor Reeder will be here this afternoon.

"DOING HER HOUSE WORK."

Mrs. J. C. Fremont claims the honor of having prevented slavery in California. In the destitution of domestics she set the example of doing her house work with her own hands, and being exceedingly popular made it the fashion of San Fransisco. So that the peril passed by never to recur.

With the above item as a text, Rev. Dr. Stone of the Congregational Journal gives us the following interesting sermon.

We cut the above paragraph from one of our exchanges. It makes a statement which whether true or not, furnishes us a good text for a short discourse. Whatever others may say of it, we are not disposed to question its correctness. Think of it, ladies, here is an example set for you by a woman said to be the wife of the richest man in America. Mrs. Fremont was not ashamed to "do her own house work with her own hands," and it seems that her example soon made it so popular and fashionable for the ladies of San Fransisco to do their own house work, as to turn the tide of public sentiment in favor of female industry and to shut the door of a whole State against slavery forever!

Would that she could produce by the same noble example a similar revolution of sentiment and practice in every city and village in the land with regard to labor! Say not that it was necessity which compelled her to work. No matter; she did work, and gloried in her necessity. It placed her in the position of the highest ladyship before all the good wives of California. She made herself the "helpmeet" of her husband, and the mother of liberty to millions yet unborn.

Now let us utter a word or two by way of improvement.

All ladies cannot do house work with their own hands. Some are phycally unable, others are totally unfit by reason of a false early training, for the duties of the household. And even not all those who have strength and skill for those duties, should be compelled to perform them by public sentiment, if their circumstances in life, or peculiar callings abroad or at home, render it necessary to employ what are called "domestics." The revolution needed is not the inauguration of the habit of labor among all the white wives of the land, but of its universal respectability. Let it become popular for married ladies who are able and know how to do their own work, and the mother or daughter who should think it disreputable to be employed in the kitchen or nursery, claiming the distinction of a queen or princess, as she idles away her time in the parlor, at the piano, the toilet, or in the streets rattling with silks, flounces and embroidery, and dazzling with jewels, would soon find herself moving among the lowly rather than the exalted. These things may for a time make husbands proud of their dolls, but the end of their foolish childishness may be, and often is, mortification at the greetings of missals, saying, "pay me what thou owest."

"She does her own work." "La me!—You don't say so! Nobody is thought anything of that does her own work." Who is this that is so shocked at the idea of labor? It is Mrs. Somebody, who, in her youth, perhaps, was not ashamed of the shop, the mill or the farmer's kitchen, but having been transferred from her humble, but honorable position, to the domicile of a Squire, a Colonel, a Calico dealer, or a Railroad man, she now affects to look with scorn upon what she once respected.

The notion that labor is disgraceful to a lady and unfits her for the fashionable and refined circles of society, meets with a withering and just rebuke in the example of Mrs. Fremont. Should that noble lady ever grace the "White House," we trust the remembrance of the glorious influence of her past example of domestic industry will make her feel how eminent is her opportunity to bless the nation.

Our mind labors with many more thoughts on this subject, but we have said enough to put others to thinking.

A pious old negro, who lived in a region where the people were in the habit of getting religion every time a new minister came around, and losing it again before the next quarterly meeting, was asked how he accounted for these facts, in accordance with his belief in the doctrine of the final salvation of all true believers. He replied:

"When the people get religion themselves, they are mighty apt to lose it as quick as they got it: but when religion gets them, it takes hold and holds on, and never lets 'em go till it takes 'em clean up to heaven."

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

SUMNER TESTIMONIAL.—The subscribers to the testimonial in honor of Senator Sumner held a meeting on Thursday evening in Boston, when a letter was read from Mr. Sumner, positively declining to accept the testimonial, and recommending the application of the funds "to the recovery and security of freedom in Kansas." After a full discussion, it was voted to apply the funds, about $1000, as recommended, allowing such subscribers as desired to withdraw their contributions.

When the Harlem 2.15 railroad train, Saturday, was passing over the Harlem bridge, and dashing on — in free, full, fiery way — three double whistles gave an alarm that startled everybody! The brakemen, all fortunately at their posts, immediately exerted all their power to brake up—and they succeeded just as the engine was about twenty feet, it may be twenty-five feet, from an open draw bridge, yawning for it with twenty feet of water! Meanwhile the firemen were seen leaping over the tender, and aiming for the first car,—but the engineer heroically stuck to his post, and thus saved the train and the lives of all connected with it.

From the Christian Register.

The beloved writer of the following extract, has passed on, into the eternal springtime.

"I have been thinking of coming to the country in the form of a bird, that I may see you in your walks, while I am hopping about in the tree-tops; so you must not be surprised if some morning you should hear a bird calling out—Fanny! Fanny! Fanny!" A. M. F.

COME AS A BIRD.

Come as a bird! come with the birds of spring,
And I will watch for thy soft sailing wing,—
Bidding my heart in quietness rejoice,
While I, expectant, list for thy dear voice.
Come as a bird!

Come as a bird! Winter o'er now has flown;
Come as a visitant from realms unknown;
The passage birds, that hence their stay prolong,
Are now returning, bringing joy and song.
Come with the birds.

Come as a bird! emblems of thee most meet!
Thy heart so guileless, thy sweet voice—so sweet,
Its faintest accents wafted on the air,
Drew hearts to thee, as vesper bells to prayer.
Come as a bird.

Come as a bird; not of thy love bereft,
Deem we thy tender birdling lonely left.
Thou, hovering near, will guard from ill and wrong,
Luring him heavenward with thine angel song.
Come as a bird.

Come as a bird! and though thy song appear
Simply a bird-song to another's ear,
Yet I shall in the undertone,
To hear my name, and whisper back thine own!"
Come as a bird. FANNY R. P.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company
NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, have created a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to $3 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of transporting them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increase of transport, and destruction, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the floods of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought into cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. &c. contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF LOTTERIES.
BALTIMORE, April 18, 1856.

THE undersigned, Commissioner of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from various portions of the country, making inquiry as to Lottery Schemes, with which the country is flooded, and which purport to be "decided by the drawings of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries," takes this method to answer all such letters of inquiry, and inform the public that all Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Lotteries are gross frauds; that certain parties who style themselves Morris & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lotteries at Cleaveland, Ohio, are impostors, and said lottery a fraud, having neither legal nor presumptive existence; and that another fictitious firm, styled Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, are also imposters, and all lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.

RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Contractor for drawing the Maryland Lotteries. The business is conducted under the firm of R. FRANCE & Co., as Managers, and they have no sole agents in the city of Baltimore. There are, however, some forty licensed venders for the State of Maryland, who derive licenses under him, through this office, to sell tickets in the Maryland Lotteries.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JUNE 24, 1856.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

EXETER, June 23.

Messrs. Editors:—Rev. Mr. Lasell was ordained pastor of the First Congregational church in this town on Thursday afternoon last. The exercises were as follows:

Invocation and Reading the Scripiures by Rev. H. A. Lounsbury, of Seabrook. Introductory prayer by Rev. Mr. Colby, of Hampton. Sermon by Rev. Professor Shedd of Andover Theological Seminary. Prayer of Installation by Rev. Winthrop Fifield of South Newmarket. Charge to the pastor by Rev. E. Robie of Greenland. Right-hand of Fellowship by Rev. Ase Mann of Exeter.—Address to the People by Rev. Mr. Whiting of Portsmouth. Concluding Prayer by Rev. J. Dinsmore of Northampton; and benediction by the pastor. The sermon by Prof. Shedd, and the address to the people by Rev. Mr. Whiting of your city, were each highly spoken of by those who were so fortunate as to hear them.

On Sunday evening last, Rev Wm. C. Clark, who, it will be recollected, was severely treated on board the steamer Polar Star a short time since, repeated by request in the New Town Hall, a sermon recently preached by him in the Methodist Church, upon the past, present, and future of the American Republic. The house was crammed to hear him, but many who were not there, have since expressed a wish that it should again be repeated.

We are glad to see that the subject of having a good gymnasium in your city is being agitated, and hope that your citizens will act, as well as talk. We think that if Exeter had what you already posses,a floating bath-house, and what in our humble opinion you ought to have, a good gymnasium, it would be far better for the health and morals of the many young men collected here. A writer in the News Letter recently complained with justice, that what are called "Bowling Saloons" were frequented too much by our young men. As these are not simply bowling saloons—unless the first word is allied to the word bowl—would not a gymnasium tend to draw the young from those subterranean dens of vice.

During the past week the new Town Hall—(that name is not changed yet) has been occupied nightly by Bidwell & Marston's Dramatic Troupe. As this company has so recently appeared in Portsmouth and been so well received, it would be superfluous for us to say anything in their favor, and so suffice it to say that they have well sustained their reputation which preceded them. We understand that they open to-night at Great Falls, and hope that they will be well received by the citizens of that town. If they are not, both parties will lose,—for the company ought to gain golden coin as well as golden opinions, while the public ought to encourage efforts which will be crowned with success, feeling that they are abundantly re-paid.

Alas, how fallacious are human hopes.
Hopes, what are they? Beads of morning,
Strung on slender blades of grass;
Or a spider's web adorning,
In a strait and treacherous pass.

That's what Wordsworth thought, and we are inclined to echo, "what are they?" We hoped that we should have a citizen's celebration here on the Fourth, but now the prospect looks dark. Yet the celebration may be made, and we still hope on. If it happens so, we will kindly inform your many readers of it, and how it is to be conducted; and if not, then tell you of that, when we have official information ourselves. Of course, if you do not have a celebration, nearly all of your citizens will come up into the country to witness and enjoy ours. That is why we vote for having one; seeing so many friends will indeed be pleasant to G. F.

Senator Wilson's reply to Senator Butler, has been published in full in Washington and New York, and will add very much to his reputation as a ready and able debater. The following is a specimen of his coolness.

The Senator from South Carolina tells us that the speech is to be condemned. It has gone out to the country. It has been printed by the million. It has been scattered broadcast amongst seventeen millions of Northern freemen who can read and write. The Senator condemns it; South Carolina condemns it; but South Carolina is only a part of this confederacy, and but a part of the Christian and civilized world. South Carolina makes rice and cotton, but she contributes little to make up the judgment of the Christian and civilized world. I value her rice and cotton more than I do her opinions on questions of scholarship and eloquence, of patriotism or of liberty.

THE OHIO WINE CROP.—The Ohio wine crop is estimated at 500,000 gallons. The quantity bottled by Mr. Longworth this season is 150,000 bottles, and with that added to his previous stock he has now in cellar full 300,000 bottles, mostly quarts, of which 20,000 are of Isabella. The demand rapidly increases.

The wine business is second only in value to the great grain staples of Ohio.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

The National Division of the sons of Temperance, held its meeting on the first week in June, in Kentucky, as we learn from the Temperance Advocate, published at Frankfort, Ky.

The attendance of delegates was very repectable in point of number, talents and influence. About one-half of the States were represented in the National Division, and some of those the most remote in the Union. Maine had one, and California two, delegates present. Of the latter, one was Bro. Israel S. Diehl, present G. W. P. of California, who has carried the banner of our noble order over every mountain top and in almost every valley of that far distant State.

On Friday evening, he gave a narrative of the wonderful progress of the Temperance cause in that State.

Amid all the discouragements which our cause has encountered, we are happy to find a determined spirit of perseverance still animating our friends in every part of the Union. We saw no signs of a disposition to abandon the contest, so long as any resource of moral suasion or legal coercion remained, as a remedy for the great evils of intemperance.

The high position of the head of the Order of the Sons of Temperance in North America, was with great unanimity, awarded to Bro. M. D. McHenry, of Shelbyville, Ky. The officers elect for the ensuing year are as follows:

M. D. McHenry, of Ky., M. W. P.
Geo. Crosby, of Ohio, M. W. A.
F. A. Fickhardt, of Pa., M. W. S.
Robt. M. Foust, of Pa., M. W. T.
Israel S. Diehl, of Cal., M W. Chap.
Jno. R. Williams, of Ohio, M. W. Sen.

The next session is to be held in the city of Providence, Rhode Island, on the second Monday in June, 1857.

MUSICAL.— Dr. Lowell Mason and Mr. George F. Root are holding a 'Normal Musical Institute' for the coming three months, in the village of North Reading, Mass.

The London Musical World states, that Jenny Lind sings her last song in England, on the 30th of June. The rumors about her return to the stage were rumors only. She has had no such intention. Dwight's Boston Journal of Music says "There is hope for us still, since it is nowhere positively stated that she has taken any vow never to return to America."

A writer in the New York Tribune states that 4,382 hand organs are daily ground in the streets of that city.

Jullien, the monster concert man, is giving concerts at Liverpool and Manchester with twelve men in Zouave costume, purporting to be trumpeters of the Second Regiment of Zouaves, "with the glory of the Crimea fresh upon them," as his small bills say.

The Pittsfield (Mass.) Harmonic Society performed Newkomm's 'David' on the evening of the 17th. The Waltham (Mass.) Musical Association have a new hall and have purchased De Monti's 'favorite' Mass, in B flat.—We wish the people throughout New Hampshire were as generally educated and interested in music, as in Massachusetts. They might easily be so, and we trust will be ere long.

FOURTH OF JULY!—Premium Fireworks. Persons who are looking for fireworks for the 'glorious Fourth,' should consult the advertisement of Mr. James G. Hovey, who is one of the most experienced manufacturers in New England. He has every description of articles in the line suitable for cities, towns,or for private use, all of which he will warrant of the best quality. Mr. Hovey for several years has been pyrotechnist for the city of Boston, and always gave satisfaction, and has taken a gold medal, the highest premium awarded by the Mechanic Association. He has a new article of mammoth size, which he has imported exclusively for his own sales from Canton,called "Uncle Sam's Crackers," which produce a heavy report. They are the largest and only article of the kind imported into the country.

The above we copy from the Boston Transcript. Mr. Hovey has a reputation in the New England States, second to no one in this line of business.

LOLA MONTES WHIPPED BY A WOMAN.—The Ballaarat Times of March 3, contains an account of a whipping at length administered to this terrible whipper, by one of her own sex. Lola Montes was engaged to perform at the Ballaarat Theater, for Mr. Crosby.—She quarreled with him about accounts, abused him, and was then set on by his wife. Mrs. Crosby broke a whip on her opponent and then seized Madame by the hair—the rest may be imagined. The Ballaarat Times says that Lola Montes will not be able to appear for a long time on the sage.

EFFECTS OF BORDER RUFFIANISM.—Barbour and Brown were among the victims of Border Ruffinism. A colporteur of the Tract Society, writing from Lawrence, says: I was to-day in the neighborhood where resides the widow of the martyred Barbour. She is as disconsolate as ever, and it is the opinion of her neighbors that she will grieve herself to death. The widow of the martyred Brown is a raving maniac, made so by intense grief.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—The special correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, Washington June 22, says:

The speeches of Colfax of Indiana, and Burlingame of Massachusetts, in the House yesterday, excite universal applause. Mr. Colfax drew a startling and vivid picture of the indignity of the laws promulgated by the Kansas legislature. Mr. Burlingame's defence of Massachusetts, and denunciation of the Sumner outrage, was alike eloquent and defiant, telling chivalry plain truths, in a style indicative of a purpose to maintain them.

This week is expected to be devoted to territorial business. The bill for the immediate admission of the State of Kansas will probably be considered next Wednesday, when an exciting debate is anticipated.

It is untrue that Mexico offers to sell Tehuantepec to us. There are outside influential Mexican interests seeking to induce the government to sell, with some hope of success.

ON DIT.—That John Van Buren is about to marry a young lady recently returned from Europe—the only child of a wealthy Senator of South Carolina, lately deceased.—Prince John will thus become a large slaveholder.

Possible, but highly improbable.

Dr. Kane has received the gold medal of the Royal Geographical Society of England, for this year, in honor of his Arctic Researches. Dr. Robinson the Palestine explorer, Fremont the Rocky Mountain, and Squier the Central American traveller, are the other Americans who have received this Society's medal.

NOTHING LIKE IT.

There is nothing equal in the proprietory medicine line to Dyer's Healing Embrocation. It has attained an enviable reputation among the standard medicines of the day. It works almost miraculously in the cure of disease, and no person should be without a constant supply.

For sale in Portsmouth by J. H. Thacher, W. R. Preston and B. Hutchings.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

BOSTON, No. 2 OLIVER STREET, Nov. 28, 1848.

DR. HAYDEN,—Dear Sir: On the 18th of this month I was taken dangerously ill, with severe pains through my whole body, with much fever, and great distress in my head. By advice, I concluded to give your Pills a trial. I took three, which afforded me almost instant relief, and I for one can truly say that, without any exception, they are the best medicine I have ever used. I also recommended them to a sick friend, who informs me that he received great benefit from their use, and extols them above all others.

I remain, sir, your obedient servant,

Chilson's New Cone Furnace,

(Presenting a cluster of Cones over the fire.)

JUST completed and Patented in America, England and France.

UNPARALLELED ECONOMY IN FUEL!

Retaining and holding the smoke and gases in a cluster of Cones, exposed to the reflected rays of heat acting on the tapering surface of the Cones—not unlike the action of the sun on a sun glass,—the rays of heat and light being brought to a focus in each cone. A perfect remedy for the present enormous waste of heat carried off in the chimney.

The subscriber has been appointed Sole Agent for the sale of the above Furnaces in this city and vicinity, and the several sizes may be seen at his Store, No. 46 Market st, Portsmouth.

Republican Hot-Air Cooking Range.

THIS Range differs from all others in the market in the construction of its flues around the Oven, and from this result its chief advantages.

This range has an extra amount of radiating service in the Hot-Air Fixtures connected with it. The Hot Water Fixtures are conveniently arranged, and sure to give satisfaction. No other Range has heavier castings where the parts are exposed to the fire.

Those purchasing Ranges should look well to the draught around the Oven, as the main thing, if they would secure tenness and quickness in baking, and economy in fuel.

Old Stand! New Stock!

MEDICAL CARD.

HAVING located myself at, and assumed the entire charge of the Apothecary Store, so long occupied by Doct. Samuel Hutchings—and recently occupied by William H. Foster—I am prepared to furnish from a new and recently selected Stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, &c., &c., every article usually called for at an Apothecary's.

That I may disabuse an impression many are said to, and others naturally enough may entertain, viz: That a Stand so antiquated—so long occupied for one particular branch of business—must necessarily contain a Stock made up of "Green Earthern Pots, bladders, and Musty Seeds, Remnants of pack thread, and old cakes of roses," &c. &c., I beg to assure them, and through them, my friends and the public generally, that the past few weeks have found me busy in removing from the premises all stale, flat, and unprofitable materials—and in the mean time their places supplied from selections made by myself, with pure, fresh, and unadulterated Medicines. With such—and such only—I shall endeavor to be supplied hereafter.

To the above I have also added a choice assortment of articles for the Toilet—consisting of Hair Oils, Soaps, Cologne; Hair, Teeth, Nail and other brushes, &c. &c.

PATENT MEDICINES—of such as are really valuable and popular—constantly on hand.

Articles called for, not on hand, ordered and supplied at the shortest notice

Physicians Prescriptions will ever receive all the care and attention, in their composition, which their importance demands.

The patronage of all disposed to bestow it, is respectfully solicited. J. N. M. HILL,

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

LOCAL.

The Chronicle of Tuesday morning described with great particularity an effigy labelled 'Preston S. Brooks of South Carolina,' which was suspended on State street during Monday night. Was the effigy merely put up to make an item for the Chronicle?—Gazette.

Can't say, as we were not there; and didn't know anything about it till the Tuesday morning spoken of—when, on going to work, as usual, about four o'clock, a young gent, residing near, who rejoices in the cognomen of Brown, hailed us, and informed us of the facts we stated. Perhaps "Wash" could tell the Gazette something about the case—though we believe he told us that the first he knew of it, was on being awakened by Brooks looking in at his window, at daybreak!

As to the motive of the patriots who hung up the man of straw—if it was "to make an item for the Chronicle," we acknowledge our obligation for this, as well as numberless other favors conferred by many citizens.

By the way, we don't think much of the whole effigy business—it amounts to about the same as 'saluting' everybody and everything. If ever a man deserved hanging, we believe Brooks does; and if it is best to hang anybody, we don't see why he shouldn't suffer Haman's penalty—but it don't avail much to hang old clothes, any how.

☞ The Fremont Ratification Meeting, held at the Temple in this city, on Monday evening, was attended by ladies as well as gentlemen, and the proceedings were of a decided and earnest character. The meeting was called to order by Ichabod Goodwin, Esq., President of the Fremont Club,—and Hon. Marcellus Bufford was chosen President. Messrs. Horton D. Walker, A. T. Joy and Col. J. McIntire were Vice Presidents.

Addresses were made by Messrs. Bufford, J. P. Morse, H. D. Walker, John Stavers, W. H. Y. Hackett, and others.

All were heard with marked attention, and some with much applause. The tone of the assembly was that of determination to work for freeeom—and intent to support Fremont as the Standard Bearer of Free Men and Free Speech.

☞ There was considerable of a scrimmage in Congress street, about midnight, on Saturday. A couple of the chaps engaged in it, got rather severely handled by some of their boon companions—of whom we are told thirty or forty were present, in all. Rum was at the bottom of it, of course—and we guess in some cases pretty well up to the top.

☞ A fellow from Portland, a week or two since, came here and swapped off three horses and two carriages with a couple of our stable keepers. A few days after, a wealthy gentleman from the same city, came up and claimed the aforesaid horses and carriages as his property, he having a lien on them secured by mortgage. Such is—horse-trading!

☞ The Fremont Salute of 100 guns, on Friday evening, was fired by Messrs. Wm. B. Randall (Commissary General of N. H.) and Reuben Rand. The cannon were posted on South Road, at the foot of Auburn Street, and caused a tremendous reverberation throughout the whole vicinity. To those near the Steam Factory, it seemed as though there must be two guns discharged almost simultaneously—so loud, distinct and explosive was the echo. May every such report awaken an answer in the heart of some slumbering freeman. Z.

☞ A little boy of 5 or 6 years, named Sullivan, who was playing about the timber in Puddle Dock on Sunday afternoon, fell into the water, and though he was got out before life was quite extinct, died in a few minutes.

LAGER BEER.—It is stated that there are twenty-two breweries devoted to the manufacture of lager beer, in Philadelphia, and the entire value of their winter brew, which is not removed from the vaults until May, is about $600,000, the wholesale price being $7 per barrel. In this estimate the fall brew is not included. It is a cheaper article than the former, being less dense, and made for immediate use.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

W. P. Fetridge & Co. Proprietors, 323 Pearl street, New York, and 100 Washington street, Boston. For sale in Portsmouth by William R. Preston. 6mje16

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, June 22.

Steamship Atlantic, Capt. Eldridge, arrived this evening. She brings Liverpool dates of the 11th.

The Atlantic has about 80 passengers, among whom is Millard Fillmore, in honor of whose arrival salutes have been fired from the Collins' dock and batteries.

The steamer Alma started a second time from Havre for New York, on the 11th, but trouble again occurring, she put into Southampton.

England.—The English public were still without official notice of Crampton's dismissal, but regarded it as a fixed fact from positive but unofficial statements of the fact taken out by the Asia. It however, created little excitement. The London papers all have editorials on the subject, and generally argue that as the case is a personal one, there is no necessity to send Mr. Dallas away. The Times continues to exhibit bitterness towards the United States. The Daily News wonders aggressive America should cite the annexation of India as a palliation for her own propensities, India being an entirely exceptional case.

The Morning Chronicle thinks it cowardly to make a scapegoat of Crampton. The London Star, the organ of the Manchester party, thinks it absurd to go to war to avenge the dignity of Mr. Crampton, and ridicules the idea.

Parliamentary proceedings generally unimportant. The bill altering the Parliamtary oath so as to admit of Jews taking it, has been passed by the House of Commons.

Kansas affairs excite notice in England, but without being generally understood. It was argued that they would divert attention from the direction of a foreign war.

France.—It is estimated that the inundation in France rendered 40,000 people houseless and 100,000 are thrown out of employment. Notwitstanding the flood, it was hoped the corn crop would not be much below the average.

Spain. — An attempt on the life of the Queen of Spain is reported. A young man presented a pistol at her, but was immediately disarmed.

Prussia.—It was reported in Berlin that Prussia and Sardinia both demanded to be admitted into the commission for the re-organization of the Danubian Principalities, and that the demand had been acceded to.

Austria.—It is stated that the Austrian government had resolved to erect the Lombardo-Venetian provinces into the Kingdom of upper Italy.

Turkey.—The Russian Minister to settle the affairs of the Principalities has been instructed to retire from the commission, if Moklir Pasha, formerly Prince Mourdze, should be admitted to take part in the deliberations of the commission.

Bessarabia is still in a state of insurrection, refusing longer to recognize the rule of the Sultan.

More Turkish outrages against Christians are reported.

Crimea. — Crimean letters to May 31st, mention the report that 70,000 masons are to re-build Sebastopol after the departure of the allies.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, June 21.

Mr. Colfax of Indiana spoke on the subject of the laws emanating from the legislature of Kansas, branding them as oppressive and disgraceful, and some of them in direct contravention of the organic law and Constitution of the United States.

Mr. Burlingame defended Massachusetts against general and specific charges, claiming that in all that constitutes true greatness she is the first state, and her present performances are superior to her past patriotic endeavors. He was sorry to find at the head of her list of assailants, the President of the United States, who had deliberately perverted history to eulogize the South at the expense of the North. Massachusetts believed, with South Carolina, the fugitive slave law unconstitutional.

Mr. Keitt asked Mr. Burlingame for his authority relative to South Carolina.

Mr. Burlingame, to prove his statement, cited remarks of the Charleston Mercury, which spoke of the fugitive slave law as an infringement of one of the most cherished principles of the Constitution. In conclusion he referred to Sumner's speech. Sumner, he said, was an accomplished scholar and chivalric gentleman. A member of the House who had taken an oath to support the Constitution, stole into the Senate Chamber and smote him as Cain smote his brother.

Mr. Keitt. It is false. (Sensation.)

Mr. Burlingame replied he would not bandy epithets, but was responsible for his own language only, and doubtless the gentleman was responsible for his.

Mr. Keitt. I am.

Mr. Burlingame, after describing and severely condemning the assault, asked—"Call you that chivalry? In what code of honor do you get authority for it? If we are to be called to account by some gallant nephew of some gallant uncle for saying something which does not suit their sensitive nerves, we want to know it. The time may come when Massachusetts may withdraw her representatives to her own bosom when safety cannot be found for them under the flag of our common country, but while her representatives are here they will speak how and when they will.

Mr. Keitt now sought the floor, but it was awarded to Mr. Carlisle (Know Nothing, of Virginia,) who refused to yield it. Mr. Keitt gave notice that he should on Monday reply to some of the points of Mr. Burlingame's speech. Mr. Carlisle condemned the resolutions of the Cincinnati Convention, as he said, the fillibustering platform of the Democrats. Fremont would not receive the electoral vote of any district except that represented by Mr. Giddings. The contest is between Mr. Fillmore, the candidate of the National Party, and Mr. Buchanan, who is supported by a faction.

Mr. Washburn of Maine urged the necessity of union of the opponents of the administration and those adverse to the extension of slavery in the territory. He spoke of Fremont as the standard-bearer of freedom in this contest—as a strong and true man, whose aim would be to maintain the principles of the Constitution. Mr. Washburn triumphed in the faith, nay, in the undoubting conviction, that the proceedings of the Republican Convention will be sustained by a large majority of the American people. Adjourned.

THUNDER STORM.—At New York on Sunday, P. M., the heat of three days, which occasioned several cases of coup de soleil, was brought to an abrupt termination by a violent thunder storm. The squall was very severe in the Bay, and several boats were upset. Three persons were drowned by the upsetting of a small sail boat in Gowanus Bay, and a brother and sister, who were in the same boat, narrowly escaped.

Another boat containing 2 women and one man, was capsized in the bay, and the two women drowned.

An unfinished building in Jersey City, was blown down and several persons injured, one of them, a boy, was instantly killed.

The house of a Mr. York, in Atlantic St., Brooklyn, was struck by lightning, and his wife instantly killed.

MR. FILLMORE.—A New York dispatch of Monday says:

Mr. Fillmore arrived last evening in the Atlantic, and was received by the committee of the Common Council and the Fillmore Reception Clubs. Ae made a speech in reply to Alderman Briggs and another to the crowd in front of the St. Nicholas, where he is at present stopping as the guest of the city. A salute in honor of the occasion was fired, consisting of several hundreds guns, commencing at 10 o'clock and ending at day-light this morning. The reception given to Mr. Fillmore was very enthusiastic, and a large crowd of his friends lingered around the St. Nicholas till long after midnight.

BRANDON, Vt., June 21.—Railroad Casualty.—The down mail train from Burlington was thrown from the track this afternoon one mile south of this place. The engine and baggage car were precipitated down the embankment. The fireman was badly hurt, but the passengers escaped serious injury. Several cars were badly broken. The cause of the accident is said to be the expansion of the rails by heat.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, from the only issue of E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and really self adjusting, and the Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all standard goods, cannot be made satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of a self adjusting and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only manufacturer in the world who will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

WHALEBONE SKIRTS

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington
—OF—
R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber is the Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837; determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered by elsewhere. The unanimous testimony given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of Specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed, and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

Augusr 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of this State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to the Middle and Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is found to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference in transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands is carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent they are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those in the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not affected by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and the Purchaser is required that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be put under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF LOTTERIES.
BALTIMORE, April 18, 1856.

THE undersigned, Commissioners of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from various portions of the country, making inquiry as to Lottery Schemes, with which the country is flooded, and which purport to be "decided by the drawings of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries," takes this method to answer all such letters of inquiry, and inform the public that all Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Lotteries are gross frauds; that certain parties who style themselves Morris & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lotteries at Cleaveland, Ohio, are impostors, and said lottery a fraud, having neither legal nor presumptive existence; and that another fictitious firm, styled Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, are also imposters, and all lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.

RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Contractor for drawing the Maryland Lotteries. The business is conducted under the firm of R. France & Co., as Managers, and they have no sole agents in the city of Baltimore. There are, however, some forty licensed venders for the State of Maryland, who derive licenses under him, through this office, to sell tickets in the Maryland Lotteries.

See yon waving field, now ready to yield
Abundance of red top, and herds grass and clover;
And there waves o'er the plain, the bright golden grain,
Of which each man on earth is a lover.
The Scythe you will find,
The Snath to your mind,
And Rifle of very best grit;
The Fork that's not fickle,
The finely formed Sickle,
And the Rake that all stubbles will fit;
These things may be found
By Farmers all round,
At BLAISDELL'S, on old Market street;
And the keeper you'll find,
Good natured and kind;
To deal with him must be a rich treat. f 10

Morning Chronicle.

WEDESDAY, JUNE 25, 1856.

MR. FILLMORE.—This gentleman has been warmly welcomed at New York. The following sentences close one of his speeches.

My name, unsolicited on my part, and entirely unexpected, has been presented by my friends for the suffrages of the people. If they shall see fit again to manifest their confidence in me by elevating me to that high position, all I can promise is a faithful and impartial administration of the laws of the country to every part of the country.

If there be those either North or South, who desire an administration for the North as against the South, or the South against the North, they are not the men who should give their suffrages to me.

For my own part, I know only my country, my whole country, and nothing but my country."

His arrival and acceptance have something to do with presidential parties and chances.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says that the whigs hold the balance of power in Delaware, Maryland, Tennessee and Kentucky, and that they may vote for Buchanan or for Fillmore, but will not go for Fremont.

The Journal of Commerce says, that there are prominent and shrewd members of Congress from Kentucky and Maryland, and Tennessee, who claim these States for Fillmore, as against Fremont or Buchanan.

The Journal of Commerce adds:

As matters are, the Republicans will no doubt make a hard fight. But in a triangular contest, just as we are now certain of, the Democracy has the advantage in most of the Northern States. But should the Fillmore Americans carry off Delaware, Maryland, Tennessee, and Kentucky, or either of them, the election may be defeated before the people, and thrown them into the House.

The reader who looks at the above extracts as coming from sagacious editors, must see that there is no walking over the course, in the Presidential race this time. The candidates must run fast, or be run down. If the Fillmore Americans carry one slave State, the election may be defeated! They may carry four!—says the Journal of Commerce.

If the idea gets abroad that Mr. Buchanan is by no means certain of carrying all the South,—he will lose thousands of the Swiss troops of the North who wish to be on the strong side,—and the same thing would be true of Fremont at the South, if he had any supporters there on his present platform, who dared to avow such support. It is well known, however, that while men at the north can vote for slavery, or speak for it,—it is not quite so safe to vote or speak for freedom at the South. The Brookses and Butlers don't allow it.

The Fillmore ticket may, however, damage Buchanan's prospects in more than four Southern States,— and also damage Fremont's in some of the Middle States. In the West and North, not much.

The Providence Journal urges the whigs and all other opponents of the administration to unite, because such a union "would be pretty likely to carry the House of Representatives, even if it failed of electing the President." That is coming to the sober second thought.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce says:

The evil of a choice of President and Vice President by Congress is much to be deprecated. But in case the election of President be devolved on the House, it is certain that either Mr. Buchanan must be chosen, or there is no choice in that body.

We don't deem it so very certain, though the no choice is quite probable. But the same House that did choose a Speaker, might choose a President.

The Jour. of Com. adds:

It follows that after the 3d of March, when the term of the House expires, the Vice President elect will be the President elect for the next four years.

Who will be the Vice President elect?—Why, Breckinridge, of course, because the majority of the Senate chose the Vice President from the two highest, and the Democratic majority of the Senate is now very large.

Sure enough, all this does follow—provided the House did not elect: but the knowledge of this beautiful fact might have some influence in logrolling the House together, and so in choosing a President.

MASONIC.—On Tuesday, at Newburyport, St. John's and St. Mark's Lodges of Free and Accepted Masons received Liberty Lodge, of Beverly, who dined at the Merrimac House; were entertained at the Phenix Hall in the afternoon, and afterwards partook of a collation at Washington Hall.

The Herald says, since 1826 the prosperity of the Masons in that city, and in the country, has not been so great as at the present time.

☞ Last Sabbath, at the close of the morning services in Hampton, there was a great rush to the river side, to witness the rite of baptism by immersion. Several hundred people were collected from all parts of the town, and some from the adjoining towns.—Thirteen persons, most of them young females, connected with the Free Will Baptist society, were immersed by elder Waldron, their minister.

PAPAL BIGOTRY.—An English lady lately lost a daughter at Rome, and on the tomb (which was in the English Protestant cemetery) she wished to have the verse from St. Matthew, "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God," inscribed; but it appears that some officer connected with the censorship entered the workshop of the statuary who was working at the tomb, and forbade him inscribing more than the first half of the verse, as he said it was neither right nor just that heretics should see the Lord.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Deacon Benjamin Ilsley, an old and highly venerated citizen, died suddenly on Sunday afternoon, during service at the Federal street Baptist Church. His head was observed to hang on one side by those near him, supposed in a fainting fit.—He was immediately taken out of the church and died without a struggle. His age was 83 years.—Portland Advertiser.

NEW YORK, June 24th.—The Washington correspondent of the Herald says—Gen. P. F. Smith left last evening for Philadelphia, but will return in a day or two, when his instructions will be completed, and he will proceed immediately to Kansas. Col. Sumner will, I understand, remain in command of a portion of the troops.

☞ Rev. Hollis Kendall has removed from Newington and assumed the Pastoral charge of the Methodist Church in Kittery.

PORTLAND, June 24.—A fire broke out at 3 o'clock this morning in Barker & Dingley's stable, in Temple st. destroying the stable; Temple-st. church, insured for its full value; the Codman house, furniture saved; the Casco house, furniture saved; and all the light wooden buildings in the centre of the square. The fire spread across Temple street, burning two or three wooden buildings on the southerly side, together with several stores, including Muzzey's block; stocks saved.

Charles Moody, a brakeman on the Grand Trunk Railroad was so badly injured at Yarmouth yesterday, while shackling cars, that he died this morning.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The Sentinel will not be issued to-morrow. It is said to be sick or dead, from neglect of certain friends who so ardently supported it immediately previous to the nomination of Mr. Buchanan.

Mr. Keitt was prevented from replying to Mr. Burlingame to-day, owing to the debate in the House being strictly confined to the territorial business pending, and objection being raised to his doing so by his political friend, Mr. Richardson.

There is nothing equal in the proprietory medicine line to Dyer's Healing Embrocation. It has attained an enviable reputation among the standard medicines of the day. It works almost miraculously in the cure of disease, and no person should be without a constant supply.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

BOSTON, NO. 2 OLIVER STREET, Nov. 28, 1848.

DR. HAYDEN,—Dear Sir: On the 18th of this month I was taken dangerously ill, with severe pains through my whole body, with much fever, and great distress in my head. By advice, I concluded to give your Pills a trial. I took three, which afforded me almost instant relief, and I for one can truly say that, without any exception, they are the best medicine I have ever used. I also recommended them to a sick friend, who informs me that he received great benefit from their use, and extols them above all others.

I remain, sir, your obedient servant,

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

LOCAL.

LAW AND ORDER.—Our City Marshal and his three assistants seem to receive but little respect from those whose conduct causes the necessity for such officers. The Marshal was endeavoring to stop the firing of 'crackers' in front of Congress Block, on Saturday evening, when, as we are informed, one of the rascals set fire to a bunch and put them in the pocket of the Marshal's coat, where they began to explode before he was aware of the indignity. Wonder what is the cause of such disrespect? Q.

Certainly not because the Marshal is not a respectable, law abiding citizen—for he is so, strictly. But there are two causes which combine to produce the effect. First, the mistaken economy, so called, which actually reduced the police force; and second, the moral effect of the March election in this city.—Every man who knows any thing about the matter, is sure that 99 per cent. of the rowdyism in our streets can be traced directly to the tippling shops. And every man here, who understands the rowdies, knows that they intended in that election, to turn out the Marshal who tried to enforce the laws for the suppression of Intemperance and other vices, and who, with his more decent salary, could afford to spend more time in watching just such rascals as they knew themselves to be. They meant to vote for free rum and free rowdyism, and if they could not get exactly all they wished, to come as near to their mark of perfection as possible.

The Marshal, and the Mayor under whose orders he acts, we are happy to say, are both well wishers to the cause of temperance—but the circumstances by which they are surrounded, are such as essentially to weaken their hands, when they would essay to enforce any police regulation against the usual disorders of Saturday night!

During the remarkable week or ten days, while the New Hampshire Law for the Suppression of Intemperance was generally obeyed here, we had no such disorders. Why? Simply because the liquor shops did not sell.—During the remainder of the year, while the officers tried to enforce the law, we had few such disorders, though we had too many.—Why few? Because the sellers felt unsafe, and the drinkers too, if they happened to get drunk and be noisy. But the Saturday night drunken frolic has now become an "institution." Why? Because the people who join in it, and those who make money by getting it up, are emboldened in so doing by some 'change which has come o'er the spirit of their dreams.' We can think of no others than those above suggested; they began to operate, precisely at the time when an opposition was organized against the law, as tyrannical, unjust and impossible to be executed;—and when all manner of falsehoods began to be published against those officers who aimed to discharge their duty.

Then our citizens sowed the wind—now they reap the whirlwind. Nothing strange has happened. If we will have groggeries, we must have disorders. If we will not pay an ample preventive police, we must get along as well as we can without it.

THE FOURTH.—As we are to have no celebration in Portsmouth, and our Exeter neighbors are reported as having backed out of theirs, we don't see how those who remain in this vicinity on that day, can enjoy themselves better in the afternoon, than by a trip to Diman's Highland Cottage, at Stratham. By his adverstisement it will be seen that a select company will hold a social Pic-Nic in his Greenhouse, (which has been well fitted up for the occasion) about 5 o'clock; which affords a good opportunity for the enjoyment of all the pleasures of common gatherings, without the trouble of providing the necessary eatables — as Mr. Diman is to furnish an excellent supper at a reasonable price. No tickets will be sold to any persons deemed objectionable: and as the number of tickets is small, those who intend to be there, should secure them while they can—for of course, the only limit to that party will be the size of the hall.

It is a beautiful drive of ten miles to the Cottage; and on the P. & C. Railroad, cars leave Portsmouth at 10 minutes before 12 o'clock, by which passengers are landed near the house; and a train returns at about half past 7 o'clock in the evening.

For the Chronicle.

THAT EFFIGY.—Messrs. Editors:—In your issue of Tuesday morning, I notice an article which would seem to implicate me, in the minds of some persons, in the affair of hanging an Effigy of Preston S. Brooks near the house where I reside. I wish to state that I had no connexion with that affair, or any previous knowledge that it was to be. My first intimation of it was on going out, early Tuesday morning.

We concur in your opinion of effigies, but can hardly conceive how this image of Brooks can be called an effigy, since it went on foot (Foote) to the Watch-house.

Yours, E. WASHINGTON BROWN.

CARD PRINTING, &c.—We have recently added considerably to our facilities for executing Printing of all kinds, especially Cards.—Mr. Wm. H. Foster, well known in this vicinity as a skilful printer and ingenious mechanic, has been engaged to aid in our Job department; and we have no hesitation in guaranteeing satisfaction in the execution of all orders. Especially in the printing of Cards of all sorts, can we promise not to be beat. Having "Foster's Patent Card Press" in perfect operation, and the inventor to run it, we invite the attention, and solicit the patronage of friends far and near. Cards of every size, color and quality, furnished and printed at the shortest notice.

A LOUD 'UN.—We are informed that the guns with which the Fremont Salute was fired in this city, the other night, had not previously been used since the last war with England, say 1814. Perhaps it was from having so long a rest, that they were enabled to make such a thundering noise. We never heard the like, about here.

☞ On Tuesday afternoon the National Flag was flung to the breeze across the head of Daniel street, in full view of Market square, in this city, bearing the names of Fremont and Dayton.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, June 23.

SENATE.—Mr. Fish of New York presented a letter from George Sumner, brother of Senator Sumner. It states that the impression which might be drawn from Dr. Boyle's letter that the latter was dismissed from his attendance upon Mr. Sumner, on account of the character of his testimony before the House Committee, was unfounded, as he did not know at the time that Dr. Boyle was dismissed, what his testimony before the Committee was. Senator Sumner at the time was suffering from high fever, with his pulse at 104, and Dr. Perry being willing to take charge of the case, Dr. Boyle's services were no longer required.

Mr. Toombs gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill to take the census of Kansas, to protect the exercise of the elective franchise in that territory, and to provide for calling a convention to frame a Constitution, preparatory to the admission of Kansas into the Union.

The bill provides that all male inhabitants over 21 years of age shall be registered as legal voters, an Kansas be admitted into the Union as a state, with as little delay as practicable. As soon as a census is taken, and it shall be ascertained who are the real inhabitants of Kansas, they shall proceed to the election of delegates to a convention for the formation of a state constitution. This election he would have take place on the first Tuesday in November.

That would give sufficient time, and allow four month's residence to inhabitants, and would come on a day when the people of the different states would be prevented, in consequence of being occupied with the Presidential election, from even attempting to defeat the real wishes of the people of Kansas by interfering with their election. He should at an early day ask leave to introduce the bill.

Mr. Wilson explained the error in the Globe report of his speech, of which Mr Butler complained on Thursday. It occurred in consequence of his being absent from the city, and leaving another person to read the proof-sheet. The error did not occur in the uttered remarks.

Mr. Evans replied to Mr. Sumner's remarks on South Carolina, vindicating her revolutionary history, and defending her domestic institutions, Adj.

HOUSE.—This week being set apart by previous agreement for the consideration of territorial business, the bill to authorize the President to cause the Southern boundary line of Kansas to be surveyed and marked, was passed.

Mr. Wakeman of New York gave notice of intention to introduce a bill amendatory of the act of 1818, prohibiting the introduction or importation of slaves.

The bill authorizing the people of Oregon to form a Constitution and state government was considered. It is the same as that heretofore passed by the House, but lost in the Senate for want of time.

Mr. Jones of Tennessee proposed an amendment, requiring Oregon to have a population equal to the rates of population established under the last United States census.

A debate ensued, involving the question whether such a restriction should be imposed upon new states. Adj.

ST. LOUIS, June 23.—A letter in the Republican, dated Westport, 17th, says Col. Sumner has put the principal roads leading into Kansas in blockade. He has also driven out of the Territory Buford, Jones, Shelby, and other leading Missourians.

Another letter, dated Kansas City, 16th, says Sumner intends to arrest every person under indictment in Kansas, and declares that neither Lane nor any other armed person, shall enter the Territory, except over his dead body.

An attempt was made on the night of the 13th, to assassinate the new deputy sheriff of Douglas county, by a party who fired into his chamber window. The sheriff shot one of the assassins; the others fled.

Col. Sumner has received a despatch from Fort Kearney, stating that the Indians had proclaimed war against the whites. One man had been killed. A company of troops were despatched for the camp near Westport.

"NO."

There's a word very short, but decided and plain,
And speaks to the purpose at once;
Not a child but its meaning can quickly explain,
Yet oft 't is too hard to pronounce;
What a world of vexation and trouble 't would spare,
What pleasure and peace 't would bestow,
If we turned when temptation would lure and ensnare,
And firmly repulsed it with "No!"

When the idler would tempt us with trifles and play,
To waste the bright moments so dear;
When the scoffer unholy our faith would gainsay,
And mock at the Word we revere;
When deception, and falsehood, and guile would invite,
And fleeting enjoyments bestow,
Never palter with truth for a transient delight,
But check the first impulse with "No!"

In the morning of life, in maturity's day,
Whatever the cares that engage,
Be the precepts of virtue our guide and our stay,
Our solace from youth unto age!
Thus the heart shall ne'er waver, no matter how tried,
But firmness and constancy show,
And when passion or folly would draw us aside,
We'd spurn the seducer with "No!"

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that Mrs. J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable article of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

WHALEBONE SKIRTS

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E. & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by me, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered. Numerous testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of rare, valuable and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the former Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap access are afforded to it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thience to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population and business, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new lands in the other States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo, for the South, where a larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market. Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, and that not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands in those States at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for those of adjacent lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in cost of transportation, especially when the cost of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments, the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, and testimonials from well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF LOTTERIES.
BALTIMORE, Md. m13, 1856.

THE undersigned, Commissioner of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from various portions of the country, making inquiry as to Lottery Schemes, with which the country is flooded, and which purport to be "Founded by the drawings of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries," takes this method to answer all such letters of inquiry, and inform the public that all Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Lotteries are gross frauds; that certain parties who style themselves Morris & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lotteries at Cleaveland, Ohio, are impostors, and said lottery a fraud, having neither legal nor pecuniary existence; and that another fictitious firm, styled Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, are also imposters, and all lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.

RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Contractor for drawing the Maryland Lotteries. The business is conducted under the firm of R. FRANCE & Co., as Managers, and they have no sole agents in the city of Baltimore. There are, however, some forty licensed venders for the State of Maryland, who derive licenses under him, through this office, to sell tickets in the Maryland Lotteries.

LETTER FROM CHARLES SUMNER.—The following letter from Hon. Charles Sumner, was in reply to an invitation to speak in Faneuil Hall.

SILVER SPRING, near Washington, June 21st, 1856.

My Dear Sir: I am not strong enough for public speaking, even if I were strong enough for a journey to Boston. Besides, my duties in the Senate have the first claims upon me, and to them I must give my first returning strength. Therefore I am constrained to decline the invitation with which you have honored me.

But I am strong enough to send from my present retreat a brief expression of cordial concurrence in the nominations made by the people's convention at Philadelphia, and also of the gladness with which I shall support them, by voice and vote, with mind and heart.

I have long honored Col. Fremont for his genius in geographical enterprise; for his eminent intelligence; for his manly fortitude;—for his perfect integrity, and for his easy command of men, swaying to his own beneficent purposes even the savages of the forest, while nature herself, in her winter fastnesses, bowed before his march. It is well at this moment when a great crime instigated and sustained by the National Government, that such a man, with a courage that will not be questioned, and with a sensitiveness to right, which will not sleep, should be summoned to grapple with the wrong doers. And permit me to say, that I find no force in the objection that he has never been a politician.

Your candidate for Vice President is worthy to enjoy the same enthusiastic support.—As a lawyer—as a judge and as a Senator, Mr. Dayton has been conspicuous for character and ability; and I rejoice to believe that he will soon have a larger field of activity, where there can be employed for the good of our common country, while the Senate, which is the stronghold of human slavery, will be compelled to receive as its presiding officer, a representative of human freedom.

But better even than the candidates is the Declaration of Principles, under which we now go forth to conquer. Such a Declaration, promulgated by such a Convention, is in itself the beginning of victory. Strong in its simplicity and truthfulness, it must prevail just so soon as it is comprehended. It expresses objects, which must enlist the Conservative and also must enlist the Reformer;—which must rally all who turn with respect to the example of the Fathers, and also must rally all who are filled with aspirations for a brighter Future on earth. It proposes to save Kansas from the revolting Usurpation, which is now established in that fair territory, and in this good work, it joins issue with the Slave Oligarchy, which now sways our whole country; so that in saying Kansas, we shall necessarily overthrow this Despotism, and save ourselves.

For support, it appeals to all, without distinction of party, who love their country. It appeals to the true Democrat, whose democracy is founded on a recognition of Human Rights; it appeals to the true Whig who is animated by that hatred of despotic power which inspired those who earliest wore the name; it appeals to the true American, who is ready to forget all other questions for the sake of union to save Liberty now endangered; and it appeals to the foreign-born, who, rejoicing in the privileges of an American citizen, will not hesitate to join in this holy endeavor to vindicate them against the aggressions of an Oligarchy worse than any tyranny from which they have fled. In this appeal all former differences are forgotten, while men,

Erewhile that stood aloof, as shy to meet,
Familiar mingle here, like sister streams,
That some rude interposing rock has split.

In this contest there is every motive to union and also every motive to exertion. Now or never; now and forever. Such was the ancient war-cry, which, embroidered on the Irish flag, streamed from the castle of Dublin, and resounded through the whole island, arousing a generous people to a new struggle for their ancient rights; and this war-cry may be fitly inscribed on our standard now. Arise now, or an inexorable slave-driving Tyranny will be fastened upon you. Arise now, and Liberty will be secured forever.

Present my regards to your associates in the good cause, and believe me, my dear sir,

Always faithfully yours.
CHARLES SUMNER.

SETH WEBB, JR., Esq.

LAW IN KENTUCKY.

A late number of the Kentucky Temperance Advocate contains the following extract from a legal decision in their Court of Appeals, with remarks by the editor of the Advocate.

"With respect to the question raised in the argument of the cases, in relation to the constitutional power of the Legislature to pass a Prohibitory Liquor Law, we only deem it necessary to remark, on the present occasion, that laws imposing a fine for retailing spirituous liquors without a license to keep a tavern, have been in force in this State for many years, and their validity has never been questioned upon constitutional grounds. And although such laws were in existence at the time the new constitution was framed, yet no provision was made in it for their abrogation, or which is in any degree calculated to render their validity questionable. Nor do we suppose that the constitutional power of the Legislature to prohibit the keeping of tippling houses, or the carrying on of any business which has a tendency to affect injuriously, the morals, the prosperity, and the general welfare of the community, is in any degree doubtful."

The editor says "We regard the above declaration of the highest judicial authority in Kentucky, as more important to the temporal and eternal welfare of the people, than any which has ever been emanated from that high tribunal. To have gained that point, in the great work of redeeming mankind from the evils of intemperance, is an ample compensation for all that has been done or suffered in this glorious cause. The dread of judicial intervention, which hitherto, like a nightmare, has weighed down our hearts and palsied our hands in this great work, is now happily removed; and we feel that we can go on in our great mission of benevolence, not only with a full consciousness of right, but with a full assurance that we are aided and sustained by the strong arm of the judicial department of the government. All that now remains is to press forward the work with all the powers of moral suasion, aided and sustained by legal coercion.

THURSDAY, JUNE 26, 1856.

ATCHISON ON RECIPROCITY.—Mr. A. A. Lawrence of Boston, has written a letter to Mr. David R. Atchison of Missouri, and the latter has answered,—on the subjects of slavery, Kansas, &c.

Lawrence says :—

Since the repeal of the Missouri Compromise by the last Congress, this territory has attracted the attention of distant not less than of the neighboring states ; for it is evident that here must be decided whether there shall be slave or free labor over a vast region of the United States, now unsettled. You and your friends would make slave states, and we wish to prevent your doing so. The stake is a large one, &c.

To this Atchison replies :

You are right in your conjecture that I and my friends wish to make Kansas in all respects like Missouri. Our interests require it. Our peace through all time demands it ; and we intend to leave nothing undone that will conduce to that end, and can with honor be performed. If we fail, then we will surrender to your care, and control the state of Missouri. We have all to lose in the contest ; you and your friends have nothing at stake.

Nothing at stake ? Is Freedom nothing ?—Is the liberty of the press — is free speech nothing ? And is it just as good, and honest, and praiseworthy, to promote slavery as it is to promote liberty. No : says Atchison, in another part of his letter—wherein he represents slavery as a blessing and liberty as an evil. Here are his words :

I have been informed that you have an income of $100,000. Let me suggest that you purchase $90,000 worth of negroes ; come out to Kansas ; feed and clothe your slaves well ; give them employment ; build for them and yourself good houses ; improve their condition ; build for yourself fine barns and stables ; cover the prairies with wheat, hemp and corn ; feed your cattle on a thousand hills ;—assist your poor neighbor ; and my word for it you will do more good for your race, both black and white, than you are doing or can do in Boston.

Mr. Atchison makes one thing as plain as day—viz. the intent and purpose for which Atchison and Douglas concocted the Nebraska Bill, viz. the extension of slavery.

We denounced this intention as we read the bill — and we marked "falsehood" on the clause thereof which asserted that it is not the the intent of the bill to legislate slavery into or out of the territory.

We knew it was a lie then—and Atchison proves it to be a lie now.

It has killed Annanias already — and we expect some of these days to see Sapphira wound up in the same manner, and carried to her grave by the same young men—the victim of the same lie. One told it—the other agreed to it.

Atchison says further—

There now exists no reciprocity between the free and slave states. You and your friends can leave Massachusetts, and pass through and take up your abode in Missouri or Arkansas, and our people and our laws protect your persons and your property, not only from injury, but our hospitality and kindness save you from insult. How different from your state. I cannot pass through Massachusetts or any other Northern state with my servant, without the certainty of having him or her stolen, myself insulted, and perhaps my life taken. There is no reciprocity in this.

There is truly, a real antagonism between slavery and freedom.

Mr. Atchison's reciprocity, which he seeks, is the extinction of liberty—the extension of slavery over all the land—its fit emblem would be Toombs, calling the roll of his slaves in the shadow of Bunker Hill Monument.

Freemen of New Hampshire and Maine ! are you ready to give three cheers for Atchison, Douglas, the principles and intent of their bill, and all the men who give them aid and comfort ?

WASHINGTON NEWS.—The special dispatch to the Boston Advertiser from Washington, June 24th, evening, says :

Secretary Marcy has under consideration the law recently enacted by the legislature of New Grenada, levying a duty of nearly nineteen cents per ounce upon all foreign mails transported across the Isthmus. The law is clearly violative of our treaty with Grenada, and will be resisted.

Mr. Wheeler to-day indicated a purpose to move a recommittal of Douglas's Kansas bill and all the proposed amendments to the Committee on Territories. The purpose of this movement is to propose some modification of the Kansas issue with reference to the interests of the democratic party in the coming campaign ; Messrs. Douglas and Company being badly frightened at their present position.

Mr. Burlingame's speech continues to be the universal theme of conversation, and is thought to have conquered a peace.

☞ Hon Luther S. Cushing, aged 53, died at Watertown, Mass., on Sunday. He was the author of Cushing's Manual, and also a Law Reporter and Judge.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

LEAVENWORTH CITY, June 11, 1856.

Dear F.—Here I am once more at Leavenworth and prepared to write something definite relative to my future course. Since I last wrote to you, I have been again to the Vermillion, and have fully explored that section of the territory. I propose to settle on the river or creek known as the Red Vermillion ; which lies about forty-five miles due west of this river, running in a South-westerly course towards the Kaw or Kansas river, into which its waters flow. This section was explored about two months ago by certain men, who located a town site on the creek, where were found good water power privileges, a fine stone quarry and the heaviest belt of timber I have seen on government land in this territory. On the boat which first conveyed us here, I formed a very pleasing acquaintance with a regular pioneer, from Illinois, who had travelled extensively in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. He accompanied us on our exploration tours.

A proposition has been made to us, by the party who located the above named town site, to transfer to us one quarter part thereof, together with all the water power, provided we erect a mill there during the present season.

We have concluded to accept the offer, and start immediately for Illinois, for the purpose of purchasing at Chicago a portable steam mill, saws, &c. All of our party are responsible men. We have already engaged to cut 100,000 feet. Saw-mills are good property here and pay well. It is said that one mill here clears one hundred dollars per day. The mill at Grasshopper is held at six thousand dollars.

Settlers are pouring in, and upwards of twenty claims have been taken already, although the first claim was located only six weeks ago.

Those who come here must make up their mind to 'rough it.' I slept under a roof night before last, for the first time in three weeks.

The country is new, but you have no idea of its growth. I would here remark that I have also located a prairie claim adjoining the town site, and my Illinois friend a timber claim just below. We shall build a school house there this fall. You find as well informed people here as elsewhere.

People who come here with high notions generally take the back track.—It is much better to take things as you find them—live rough and work hard. I would not advise any one to come here, unless he has at least a small capital, then he can do better than he can in the East. Yours truly, F. H. E.

HIGHWAYMEN.—Rev. A. Webster, Secretary of the Vermont Bible Society, and agent of the American Board, came to Kansas to visit a brother who had been a resident of Prairie city for a long time, and had become insane in consequence of a wound inflicted upon his head a few years since. The reverend gentleman came out intending to take his brother back to Montpelier, Vermont, his former home. He landed in Kansas city, walked to Westport, procured a horse, and in company with a Virginian, a pro-slavery man, started into the the territory ; when about ten miles from Westport they were commanded to halt by a company of regulators, to dismount and allow themselves to be searched. Both gentlemen raise objections to undergoing such a proceeding ; the Virginian becomes very angry and protests that he is just from the South—a pro-slavery man, in favor of Kansas being a slave state—but all to no effect ; the South Carolinians will not believe him.

They took his arms and allow him to proceed on his journey in company with Mr. Webster, who had no arms for them to take. The two gentlemen reached this city last evening.—St. Louis Democrat, June 20th.

SAD AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Saturday, just after noon, a little Irish girl, about six years old, was killed on the Eastern Railroad, at Salem. The ice train had switched off to weigh on the scales at the freight depot, and shackle on other cars, when this girl—a pretty little creature and neatly dressed—who was probably finding her way from school, as she had a book in her hand, running between the train and the cars that were to be shackled, was caught so as to crush her head and cause immediate death. When the fact was announced that a child had been killed, her mother came to the spot, and on recognizing the corpse fainted and fell to the earth, and in an hour after had not come to her senses, the physician supposing that the fainting was accompanied by a paralytic shock.—Newburyport Herald, 23d.

THE PORTLAND FIRE.—The loss by the fire in Portland, Monday morning is estimated to be about $300,000. It is reported that the sufferers are nearly all insured. The Portland State of Maine says :

Fortunately there was no wind. If there had been, there being a short supply of water there is no possibility of telling to what extent the fire would have raged.

THE KANSAS committee of Charleston, S.C. report that they received $6511, and spent $8938, and have armed and shipped 73 men to Kansas. The Charleston committee issued an appeal on the 13th, in which they represent the southerners in Kansas as in danger, and ask immediate aid.

NORFOLK, 25th.—The Americans carried the Municipal election here yesterday by 100 majority, electing F. Ferguson Mayor.

NOTHING LIKE IT.

There is nothing equal in the proprietory medicine line to Dyer's Healing Embrocation. It has attained an enviable reputation among the standard medicines of the day. It works almost miraculously in the cure of disease, and no person should be without a constant supply.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

BOSTON, No. 2 OLIVER STREET, Nov. 28, 1848.

DR. HAYDEN.—Dear Sir: On the 18th of this month I was taken dangerously ill, with severe pains through my whole body, with much fever, and great distress in my head. By advice, I concluded to give your Pills a trial. I took three, which afforded me almost instant relief, and I for one can truly say that, without any exception, they are the best medicine I have ever used. I also recommended them to a sick friend, who informs me that he received great benefit from their use, and extols them above all others.

I remain, sir, your obedient servant,

Republican Hot-Air Cooking Range.

THIS Range differs from all others in the market in the construction of its flues around the Oven, and from this result its chief advantages.

This range has an extra amount of radiating service in the Hot-Air Fixtures connected with it. The Hot Water Fixtures are conveniently arranged, and sure to give satisfaction. No other Range has heavier castings where the parts are exposed to the fire.

Those purchasing Ranges should look well to the draught around the Oven, as the main thing, if they would secure evenness and quickness in baking, and economy in Fuel.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along ?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along ?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge ; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it ; if you wish any person to see anything, show it ; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along ?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It need to take six men to make a pin ; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along ?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself ? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS ; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine ; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints ; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone !

LOCAL.

THE POLICE.—The City Marshal informs us that no crackers were exploded in his pocket and none placed there, on Saturday night, as was stated in the article signed Q.—so that the supposed disrespect indicated by that alleged act, rests on no foundation of that kind.

He informs us also, that the firing of crackers ceased at the time when he came upon the ground. And suggests that if the citizens of Portsmouth wish to have the firing of crackers in the streets suppressed, they should have an ordinance, (as they have in Salem,) prohibiting their sale.

The two salutes, for Buchanan and Fremont, both produced, as such things commonly do, an increased explosion of crackers, and other disorders, contrary to public law. [And here let Uncle Toby say, that in his opinion, if great boys may fire great guns to show themselves patriots, it seems rather hard that little boys may not fire crackers.]

The number of arrests made by police from April 22 to June 18, was 91;—a larger number, as the marshal believes, than have ever before been made in the same length of time. This shows the vigilance of the police;—and it also shows the need of some more efficient moral, social, or legal effort by the citizens, to remove the causes of the disorders, especially drinking.

Parents allow their boys too much latitude: a corrupt public opinion keeps tippling in countenance; and the same low state of morals tends to paralyze the arm of the officers of the police.

We repeat, as the main thing to be remembered, that 99 per cent. of all the police offences, are the direct fruit of the tippling shops. This, no one will deny.

The existing laws, when duly enforced, would greatly diminish the drinking—and in exactly the same proportion as drinking diminishes, so diminish the rows.

The very imperfect execution of the law attempted last year by the city government,—did good, by keeping the evil in check: the effort had a good moral effect.

The change in this respect, is not for the better. It is such as we see.

☞ The City authorities who look after roads and bridges, would do well to look at a little wooden bridge a rod or two to the north of the Creek Bridge. It is not exactly safe; and has a tumble down appearance not very beautiful. A stitch in time there, may save some horse from a broken leg, and perhaps save the city from a law suit.

☞ An Irish boy named Sullivan, about 7 or 8 years old, brother to the lad who was drowned on Sunday last, narrowly escaped a similar fate on Wednesday afternoon. He fell off a wharf at the South-end, and had sunk twice, when Mr. Christian Johnson sprang into the water, and held him till both were rescued by means of an oar. Mr. Johnson cannot swim, and of course endangered his own life—as the water was deep.

THE SHIP JAMES BUCHANAN is to be launched on Saturday morning at high water (between 8 and 9 o'clock,) from the yard of Capt. Samuel Badger.

☞ The Bank of New Hampshire in this city, has declared a dividend of three and a half per cent. payable on the 1st of July next.

For the Chronicle.

SNOBISM.—Messrs. Editors; The notice of Mrs. Fremont, in your paper of Monday, puts me in mind of an instance which occurred in this city last summer. A conceited young fellow invited a couple of equally conceited girls, to go on a pic-nic excursion down river. Afterwards said girls heard that a couple of young ladies, who prove their claim to the title of women by working for an honest livelihood, (in the 'factory') were also to be of the party; and informed their spark that they could not be tinder for him, if those factory girls were going. To please them, he withdrew the names of the latter from the list to be invited. But they had been previously invited by somebody else, with more brains, and they went, we believe. They also heard of these facts, and when, on meeting our snob hero, soon after, he spoke to them as usual—one of them told him he "must have made a mistake, as she had not changed her occupation." This would have cut any sensible man, and have taught a lesson of manhood to any one capable of appreciating any such sentiment. ANTI-SNOB.

☞ We are indebted to Thomas L. Tullock, Esq., for valuable documents published by the Legislature of New Hampshire.

COURT COM. PLEAS — ROCK'M CO.

EXETER, June 25, '56.

The Court of Common Pleas commenced an adjourned term at Exeter on Tuesday—Judge Sargent presiding.

No. 109—James W. Emery, admn'r of Daniel Plummer vs. Samuel Plummer, jr., is now on trial.

Case No. 6 — Bassett vs Salisbury Manuf. Co.,—was the first in order for trial, but has been continued to the next term.

Tuesday was occupied in calling the docket.

Wednesday.—No. 108—Jeremiah Carter vs Webster, Stevens & Ellison, trespass—for injuries to plaintiff's house alleged to have been done by defts. Nov. 11, 1853. At noon the case was submitted to the jury, who after an absence of an hour and a half, returned a verdict for plff., assessing damages at $70.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, June 24.

SENATE.—A message was received from the President, in response to a resolution asking for a copy of the instructions to Mr. Buchanan, late Minister to England, on the subject of the invitation to the British government to enter into a treaty similar to that between Russia and the United States, recognizing the principle of neutral commerce, that free ships make free goods, contraband of war excepted. In representing this subject to Lord Clarendon, August 30, 1855, Mr. Buchanan says:—"It is scarcely necessary to observe that the present proposal does not proceed from any apprehension that Great Britain will ever hereafter reverse the precedent she has so recently established. It has been solely dictated by a desire to give to the principle of Her Majesty's government the solemn sanction of both governments, and trust, by their combined influence, to recommend the adoption of them to other nations of the civilized world." No response from France or England accompanies the President's message.

A resolution, appropriating $40,000 for the purchase and restoration to the British government of the ship Resolute, was passed.

Mr. Geyer introduced a bill supplementary to the act organizing the territories of Nebraska and Kansas, and providing for the faithful execution of said act in Kansas, according to the true intent and meaning thereof.

Mr. Hunter replied to the allusions of Mr. Sumner to the State of Virginia, and commented on the resolutions of the Massachusetts Legislature concerning the late assault. He argued that slavery was the best condition of the colored race, and that no community was to be blamed for the inseparable incidents of a necessary institution. He also essayed to prove that the attack of Mr. Brooks on Mr. Sumner was not a breach of privilege, but merely a matter for the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of law.

Mr. Seward, in reply to Mr. Hunter's argument, relative to the Brooks assault, said the Senator from Virginia has taken a position contrary to the decision of three-fourths of the Senate and a vast majority of the people of the country.

Mr. Butler said Mr. Sumner was the first man who had ever used his privilege as a member of the Senate to lay his profane hands on the revolutionary history of one of the original thirteen states.

Mr. Pearce, Chairman of the committee who investigated the assault on Mr. Sumner, defended the positions laid down in that report, and replied to Mr. Hunter's arguments against it.

Mr. Hunter briefly rejoined. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Whitney introduced a bill for the preservation of peace in Kansas, which was referred to the committee on Territories.

The consideration of the Oregon bill was then resumed, debated, and laid aside.

The bill explanatory of the act of 1844, establishing additional land districts in Minnesota, was passed. Adjourned.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY, June 24.

SENATE.—Read a third time and passed.—An act in amendment of chap. 138, sec. 4, of the C. S. An act relating to the discontinuance of highways.

HOUSE.—Bills presented and referred.—By Mr. Flint of Lyme—Bill relating to Teacher's Institutes—repealing chap. 83 of the Compiled Statutes. Read twice and referred to Committee on Education. By Mr. Tullock of Portsmouth—Bill in amendment of an act incorporating the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad, passed July 14, 1555—repealing that part of the first section of the act which follows the words—"that the capital stock of said corporation shall not be less than one hundred thousand dollars, nor more than five hundred thousand dollars." Read twice and referred to the Com. on Incorporations.

Outrages of the Slave Power.—The special assignment of the day then came up, being the consideration of the resolutions in regard to the recent outrages of the Slave power in Kansas and at Washington—the question being on their passage.

Mr. Edwards, of Keene made a speech on the subject, condemnatory of the outrages, and of their authors and abettors.

Mr. Jenkins of Portsmouth said he had heard it stated that the man who invented resolutions ought to be hung, and he was pretty much of that opinion. He went on to reply to the remarks of Mr. Upton, vindicating the South from the charge of being destitute of intelligence.

With reference to the Emigrant Aid Society, he said he believed that the aggressions in Kansas were the result of the action of that Society. Mr. J. then went on to vindicate the course of President Pierce, and in closing he made some highly eulogistic remarks in reference to Mr. Buchanan, the nominee of the Democratic party, which excited much good humor and applause. Adjourned.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Gov. Reeder, in his late speech in Boston, reveal a plot, of which he had some previous intimations. Next fall, he said, there is to be another armed invasion of the territory simultaneously with the election of the legislature which is then to take place. But as it is thought not politic to have another lawless armed invasion of the ballot box, the next is to be a lawful one. How? In this way.—The first bogus Legislature provided that on the same day when the election takes place next fall, there shall be a general militia training throughout the territory. The polls, therefore, will be surrounded with men bearing arms according to law. And as any body can, by paying a dollar, become a citizen of the territory at an hour's notice, a broad highway has been prepared by the bogus legislature for ten thousand men to enter the territory from Missouri on the day of election and lawfully vote with arms in their hands. Did ever wit of man invent such enginery before? Salem Gazette.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to $50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous Coal lies near the surface in many parts of the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands there still remain, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communication, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, nor the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money in one, two or three annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one fifth of the land purchased shall yearly be kept under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up on a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contractor, or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

TEMPERANCE NEWS.

We find the following summary of intelligence, made to our hand, in the Vermont Standard.

A CONNECTICUT correspondent of the Puritan Recorder says that the Maine Law had operated in 'the land of steady habits' to counteract the sources of want and wretchedness to the poor,—that they are more industrious and better off every way. The writer adds that there has been a "marked diminution of fires in Connecticut—the loss of property from this cause having been full one half less since the Maine Law went into operation."

The Prohibitionist calls DELAWARE "The Maine of the South," and speaks of its active correspondent, T. B. Cowsey, Esq., of Spring Mills, who speaks of the ordeal the law has just passed through in that State before the Supreme Court, concluding in these words:

"The victory is ours. On every point our prohibitory law is completely triumphant.—But see what this man says about 'working the free horses of temperance to death.' We have four lawyers to defend our law, and their fees will be $1000—which will be raised mainly out of the working temperance men. But few of the wealthy take any interest; they are very willing to have the law if others will get it and sustain it."

So it is everywhere. But this writer says, "Fifty true bills have been found against sellers at Milford."

VIRGINIA.—A friend of the editor of the Prohibitionist says, "There is a virtual prohibitory law in force in Rowlesbury, Preston County; some liquors are doubtless sold, but the sale is greatly reduced. The cause of temperance is still progressing — slowly, but surely.

NORTH CAROLINA.—At Ashville and several other points, Divisions of the Sons of Temperance have been strengthened or organized. Some distinguished men have avowed themselves on the side of prohibition, and fully committed themselves to the work.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—General Cary, the editor of the Crusader, has been producing a sensation in this State. At Bennettsville he spoke two hours to a large audience, and, on taking a vote, not a hand was raised in opposition. At his last speech, the Charlestown Mercury says "hundreds were compelled to stand in the aisles and about the doors for want of seats: over 200 gave their names to be added to the Palmetto Division of the Sons of Temperance."

In Greensboro', GEORGIA, the City Council have put the price of license to sell liquor up to $1000—and in Demopolis, Alabama, license to retail has been raised to $10,000.—So in Arkansas, and Missouri, friends are getting the Prohibitionist subscribed for.—And we cannot but hope, that these States will send sober men to Congress within a few years.

OREGON.—A Division of the Sons of Temperance is formed in Oregon city, and flourishes. "Many have been reformed who were far down the road of intemperance, and the hearts of wives and friends made glad." A County temperance meeting was held at Oregon City, April 13, when the following platform of last year was reaffirmed:

Resolved, That, as temperance men, we reaffirm our intention, now and always, to bring the question of prohibition to the polls, until success is attained."

A young man by the name of Edward Bunson aged about 21 years, a son of Dr. Bunson, of Jefferson, Wisconsin, together with a horse on which he was riding, was killed by the lightning, during a thunder storm on Saturday evening. He had been to Dunleith, and was on his return home, when crossing an open prairie.

APOLOGIZED FOR.—A party of armed men headed by Governor Shannon, came to the house of Samuel Walker, a member of the Kansas Legislature, and not finding him at home, turned his wife and children out of doors. The friends of the Governor, however, apologized for it, on the ground that he was drunk!

SUICIDE.—Mr. Thomas Colby, of Bow, N. H., committed suicide, on the afternoon of Sunday last. All the other members of the family were absent, having gone to church.—Upon their return, he was found suspended by the neck, in the barn, by a rope fastened to a round of a fixed, perpendicular ladder.—Life was extinct. The noose was found so to be skilfully tied, so that when his feet were removed from the support of the ladder round, upon which he doubtless stood while adjusting the rope about his neck, it must have tightened instantly, producing immediate suffocation. He had been for several years in a poor state of health, and much afflicted with hypochondria. He had in particular, run of the notion that he should come to want. A year or two since he was discovered in the act of attempting self-destruction, by cutting his throat, and was only prevented by the timely interposition of his son. When the family left for meeting in the forenoon, he appeared quite as well as he had been for a long time previous. He was a farmer in easy and comfortable circumstances. He was a good citizen and neighbor, and a member of the Baptist church. His age was 56.—Concord Reporter.

This case of monomania, as we consider it, is by no means rare among men of property. Poor men have no leisure for such a notion, nor room for it in their brain.

The St. Johns Observer states that another attempt to lay a cable for a telegraph across the Atlantic will soon be made. The length of the cable will be 2400 miles, and two steamers, each with 1200 miles of cable, will meet midway between Ireland and Newfoundland, unite the cables, and proceed in opposite directions to land.

It is said that John Van Buren is about to wed the only daughter of the late John C. Calhoun.—Boston Post.

"The only daughter of the late Hon. John C. Calhoun" will hardly thank the newspapers for giving her two husbands at once.—'Prince John' must defer his pretensions until the Hon. Mr. Cremson of Maryland shall have 'shuffled off this mortal coil' before he can even have 'a showing' with the brilliant, accomplished and dignified matron referred to in the above paragraph.—Boston Courier.

Mr. Rufus Cogswell, a revolutionary pensioner, died in Essex, Mass., on the 17th inst., aged 100 years. Mr. Cogswell was a soldier of the revolutionary war, and was in the American army under Gates, and at the capture of Burgoyne. At the the time of his death he was the oldest person in the town, if not in the county. He had been blind for the last fifteen years.—Salem Gazette.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1856.

LIVE IN BOSTON.—A week ago, the Boston papers gave the following item.

Yesterday, the police of the North Station arrested John Batteese and Ellen Shannon,on a charge of drugging a man named Oliver Sawyer, and then robbing him of $90 in money. The robbery was committed in a cellar in North street, Tuesday night. Sawyer belongs in Bath, Me.

The Times of the 25th, contains this.

Monday.— Twenty-three persons, of both sexes, were brought before the Police Court this morning and fined $5 and costs each, for drunkenness on Saturday and the Sabbath.—Concerning the fact that the Maine Law is in full force in this city, and that 'no liquor is sold on Sunday,' it is a mystery where these unhappy people get their rum.

Spencer Miller, a common drunkard, was sentenced to the House of Correction for three months.

Sarah Smith was fined $3 and costs for habitual drunkenness.

Rosina White, a common drundard, was let off with a fine of $3 and costs.

John MacDonald,a rather respectable looking man, was convicted of common drunkenness, and sentenced to the House of Correction for six months. The Court suspended the sentence for twenty-four hours to enable John to leave the city and reform.

There is a Sunday statute in Boston, and in this city also, which might be enforced without great difficulty, and which would diminish gross intemperance on that day. The Times of course intends part of its remarks for irony—but the reality is, that Boston is a very drunken place.

DEDICATION IN CONCORD.—The Church edifice just erected by the Universalist Society in Concord, will be dedicated to the worship of God and the service of Humanity, on Wednesday morning, July 2d. Service to commence at 10 o'clock. Sermon by Rev.A. A. Miner.

Immediately after the dedication, the State Convention of Universalists will hold its annual session, and continue during the 3rd. Rev. C. H. Fay will preach the Occasional Sermon. Subject assigned by the Convention at its last session, "The sphere of the Gospel Ministry."

A committee will be in attendance at the Church to direct the friends to places of entertainment.

Rev. J. H. Moore, son of the late pastor, is the present pastor of the Church.

LIGHTNING.—On Sunday a house in North Pembroke, occupied by Timothy Drew, was struck by lightning, doing considerable damage. It struck the chimney, which was utterly demolished down to the foundation, scattering the bricks through every room in the house. Most of the glass in the house was broken, the crockery was upset and some of it broken, most of the furniture overturned, and some damage done to the doors and casings. Nothing was set on fire. The chimney contained about 16,000 bricks, which were scattered all over the premises, some of them being thrown six or eight rods. The family were absent.

A large tree in this city, at the corner of Main and Franklin streets, was struck at about the same time, the fluid passing down to the ground, tearing off the bark, and ploughing up the ground at the roots.—Concord Patriot.

A VEERING POLITICIAN.—At an impromptu Fremont meeting in Portland a day or two since, Hon. F. O. J. Smith, who is somewhat distinguished for his nomadic politics, defended his advocacy of the Republican nominee, and last sudden change, by remarking, in substance: "You may think me uncertain in my political career, but you can rely upon it that I am always certain to be on the strongest side; and if I support John C. Fremont, as is my present intention, you can be assured that he will occupy the White House after the Fourth of March next."

A letter dated Montevideo, May 2, states that the ship Star of Hope, of New York for San Francisco, before reported pat in, was discovered to be on fire April 14, lat 46 54 S, lon 62 36 W. After every effort had been made to extinguish the fire without effect, the hatches were calked down, and in 14 days she arrived at Montevideo. At the date of the letter, on taking off the hatches, great heat but no fire was discovered, and the vessel would be discharged to ascertain damage.

THE ASSASSINATION OF "KING STRANG," the Mormon leader, has been mentioned.—The act was provoked by a punishment inflicted on one of the offenders by Strang's order. Strang was at the head of the Mormon community on Beaver Island, Michigan, which it is thought will be broken up by this event.—The Detroit Advertiser says there remains no man among them capable of wielding Strang's influence, or of supplying his place. Dr. J. Atkyn, who spent the last winter on Beaver Island, says he leaves six wives. He was owner of a printing press, and published a weekly paper.

Died in Groton, at the homestead of the late Samuel Lawrence, Mr. Oliver Wentworth, aged 94 years and 4 months, a faithful friend of him and his family, and for 80 years an inmate of his household or a resident upon the farm.

ALBANY, June 25.—The two Democratic State Conventions met last night. The Softs made a proposition to the Hards for a fusion, which the latter rejected, and propose double conventions, meeting at the same time and place, and continue to represent two organizations.

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONFERENCE.

The New Hampshire Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, closed its annual session at Littleton, on the 24th inst.—The following are some of the appointments.

Dover District.

James Thurston, Presiding Elder.

Dover, F. A. Hewes; Portsmouth, Sullivan Holman; Salmon Falls, S. Greer;—Great Falls, High St. Church, R. S. Rust, Great Falls Main St. Church, J. McLaughlin; Rochester, H. Hill; Newmarket, C. M. Dinsmore; South Newmarket, N. L. Chase; Greenland, D. B. Randall; Epping, Eleazer Smith; Raymond, S. P. Heath; Hampton; J. W. Johnson; Kingston, L. Draper; Seabrook, G. W. S. Rogers; Sandown, A. Kidder; Salem, J. L. Trefren; North Salem, L. H. Gordon; Lawrence, Mass., Haverhill St. Church, J. Hall; Haverhill, do. C. R. Harding; Amesbury, do. E. Mason; Salisbury, do, E. Scott.

Concord District.

Lewis Howard, Presiding Elder.

Concord, Samuel Beedle; Manchester, Elm St. H. H. Hartwell; North Elm St. G. W. H. Clark; Suncook, O. H. Jasper.

Claremont District.

A. C. Manson, Presiding Elder.

Claremont, W. F. Evans; Keene, N. Culver; Newport, J. W. Guernsey; Nashua, Lowell St. D. P. Leavitt; Chesnut St. G. S. Dearborn.

Rev. E. A. Edwards of South Hampton, has become pastor of the Baptist church in Wilton.

☞ Frank Leslie's New York Journal for July, contains, as usual, a great variety of reading matter,—and it also contains more than the usual number of illustrative cuts.

BARNUM.—The New York Sunday Courier understands that Barnum has received an offer from the Sydenham Crystal Palace in England, of five thousand dollars a year to go over there and take charge of one of its departments, and the editors learn that Barnum thinks seriously of accepting the offer.

EPIDEMIC AMONG HORSES.—For about six weeks there has been an alarming epidemic among horses in this section, and not only here but in all parts of New England. It is raging now worse than ever. Some fourteen horses have been taken with it in this city.—They are taken suddenly, without any apparent cause, with shivering, and very hard breathing. In half an hour, in severe cases, horses become almost powerless, all action of the bowels and stomach ceases, though the appetite does not wholly depart. The disease is congestion of the lungs. It does not generally terminate fatally if attended to in season. The sickness lasts from 8 to 12 days,—Dr. Butterfield says that it is exactly like the epidemic that raged here in 1822, since when there has been no case till lately. The disease is not contagious. It takes all classes of horses, though generally city horses.—Manchester, N. H., Mirror.

KANSAS NEWS.—Lawrence, June 16.—On Saturday morning, thirty dragoons from the camp near Palmyra, went down to Cedar Creek, where they found a strong force of Missourians posted. They report their number as between 200 and 300. The dragoons ordered the Missourians to disband and leave. This they refused to do. Again the order was given, when the Missourians fired on the dragoons, wounding one, who is since reported dead. The dragoons returned a volley and faced about and fled. The officer in command sent a messenger to Col. Sumner, who left Lecompton on Saturday morning, and meeting the messenger on the way, hurried on to the scene of operations.

The white mechanics of Columbia, S. C., made a demonstration on Saturday week, and burned in effigy a slaveholder who had spoken slightingly of them.

The Worcester Ægis—Old Line Whig—approves of the Republican nomination and platform without reserve, but, or if, and proposes that the Whigs, while retaining their organization, shall support both.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Sumner Case. The Grand Jury today presented a bill against Preston S. Brooks for assault and battery on Mr. Sumner. The latter appeared before the Grand Jury, and gave his testimony.

CHURCHES IN SAN FRANCISCO.—There are in San Francisco 30 churches, having an average attendance of 9665 persons, which is estimated to be one-fifth of the total Christian population in the city. The amount of church property is now $762,500; but as the property was purchsed when real estate commaned high prices, it is estimated that its original cost was $1,250,000. Of the churches two are Episcopal, four Presbyterian, five Catholic, four Cobgregational, three Baptist, three Methodist, one Tnitarian, two French, and three churches are attended solely by colored people.

THE HEAD.—No one will deny its being an important item to keep the head clear and cool. Health depends upon it, and this again upon health. Arnold's Globules and Vital Fluid keep the brain clear and active by making its sustenance—the blood—pure and healthy. This is an item worth attention.

COM. STOCKTON DECLINES.—The Newark Mercury says that Com. Stockton has absolutely declined the nomination of the North American bolters. He goes for Fremont and Dayton.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—The U. S. steamship Saranac, from the Mediterranean, arrived here this morning.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

BOSTON, NO. 2 OLIVER STREET, Nov. 28, 1848.

DR. HAYDEN.—Dear Sir: On the 18th of this month I was taken dangerously ill, with severe pains through my whole body, with much fever, and great distress in my head. By advice, I concluded to give your Pills a trial. I took three, which afforded me almost instant relief, and I for one can truly say that, without any exception, they are the best medicine I have ever used. I also recommended them to a sick friend, who informs me that he received great benefit from their use, and extols them above all others.

I remain, sir, your obedient servant,

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every Body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.—Jacob Mowe of this city, was brought before Justice Odell, on Thursday morning, upon complaint of Mr. Phineas Drake, for "feloniously and burglariously" breaking and entering his Foundry, and stealing therefrom a large white bull dog, which the complainant claimed as his own.

The defence set up was that as the entry was made in the day time the respondent could not be held for burglariously entering, and that a dog was not a subject of larceny. After some consideration by Justice Odell, the prisoner was discharged, on the ground taken by defts. Counsel.

BLACKSMITH WORK.—Will be seen by Mr. G. J. Greenleaf's advertisement, that he has just erected a new and very nice shop, on his old stand, in State street. He has now first-rate accommodations and tools for doing all sorts of work—and will do it faithfully, and at reasonable prices. Mr. Wm. White, one of the best spring-makers and repairers, and iron-workers generally, may be found here. Mr. Greenleaf attends personally to the manufacture and repair of Tools and other tempered work. A new feature in this region is the renewing of old Anvils. But read his advertisement; and see for yourselves that you can get most anything done at Greenleaf's. He is a fair man to deal with; and strangers may be sure of getting suited, as well as his old customers.

Mr. Frank Brewster, the well known and favorite horse shoer, also occupies part of this new shop, and gives undivided attention to that department.

☞ The Fantastics are reqeu sted to meet this evening at half past seven o'clock, at the Room of the City Missionary.

☞ No business of importance was transacted last evening, in the Board of Aldermen; no quorum in the Council.

ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday, Mr. Wm. Fernald, of Kittery, was badly injured while at work at the Navy Yard. A heavy stick of timber fell on one of his feet, completely crushing it. It is feared amputation will be necessary.

☞ Kittery Point bridge, which has been impassable during the past week, is now thoroughly repaired and again open for travel.

☞ The "Opposition to the Administration" Flag, has been flying in Kittery for about a week; but whether for Fillmore, Stockton, Fremont, McLean or Banks, is not precisely known to the outsider. It is presumed, however, to be for Fremont. T.

☞ Rev. T. H. Miller will preach at Newington, in the old meeting house, "Deo Volente," next Sunday.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY, June 25.

HOUSE.—The Com. on Railroads, to whom was referred a resolution instructing them to inquire into the expediency of uniting the Contoocook R. R., with the Concord R. R., reported that said resolution be indefinitely postponed.

The Com. on the Judiciary, to whom was referred a bill entitled An Act in amendment of chap. 148 R. S., reported the bill with an amendment, making ten consecutive years of separation between married parties ground for divorce.

Mr. Cross of Manchester, moved an amendment to the amendment reported by the Committee inserting 7 years instead of 10, which was adopted.

Mr. Jenkins of Portsmouth, moved its indefinite postponement.

The House refused so to postpone—yeas, 128; nays, 147.

The bill was then, after ineffectual motions to lay it upon the table and to reconsider, ordered to a third reading.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Rumor says that Douglas's Kansas bill is to be abandoned for something more plausible and less severe.—He is to report afresh next Monday.

Official and private advices by the Atlantic warrant the belief that Mr. Dallas will be retained. No apprehension is entertained by the Mexican and Spanish relations here that war will grow out of their present differences.

It is currently reported here that Gen. Persifer H. Smith is to be appointed Governor of Kansas in place of Gov. Shannon.

NEW ORLEANS, June 26.—The steamer Granada, from Havana, is coming up.

An arrival at Havana, from Aspinwall, reports that the Illinois had left with $2,250,000 in treasure, and 900 passengers.

The Daily News again calls attention to the domestic troubles in America.

The Times states there is, unfortunately, no longer any doubt that Mr. Crampton is to be dismissed, and though the exact news of his dismissal has not yet reached us, we may certainly expect to receive information to that effect by the next arrival.

As regards the question of Mr. Dallas, the Times considers that question should rest entirely upon the guilt or innocence of Mr. Crampton. If the latter be innocent, Mr. Dallas ought not to remain, and if he be guilty, no false pride should prevent us from acquiescing in his expulsion.

In reference to the Central American question, the Times professes to know that Mr. Dallas is armed with the fullest powers to negotiate, and finally settle the difficulty, even if necessary by appeal to arbitration.

The American Minister had an interview with Lord Clarendon at the Foreign Office, on Wednesday.

In the House of Commons on Thursday, Mr. D'Israeli said, if the government did not go on with the Army estimates, they might expect a discussion on the relations between Great Britian and the United States. The Chancellor of the Exchequer said he would fix Monday, if no objection was made.

The French army is to be reduced 20,000 men.

We have no detailed commercial report by this arrival.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, June 25.

SENATE.—Mr. Wilson presented a petition from the officers of the Massachusetts Emigrant Aid Society, setting forth the objects of the organization, and stating that they have ben much misrepresented by the majority report of the Committee on Territories. They say that their society did not cause the troubles in Kansas, having never infringed any law, nor interfered with the peaceful execution of it; that they had never sent electors in Kansas, nor hired any man, except as a business agent to go there; that they had never paid the passage of a single emigrant, nor is it within the knowledge of the company that any person has gone out under their auspices with any other views than those of settling and staying in the territory. They also represent that their property has been destroyed by the recent outbreaks, pray that the offenders may be brought to justice, and compensation be made for the injuries and losses they have sustained.

The petitition was referred to the Committee on Claims.

Mr. Johnson of Arkansas, took exceptions to some of Mr. Seward's comments yesterday, on the conduct of Mr. Rusk in assaulting Horace Greeley some time ago.

Mr. Seward vindicated the correctness of what he said according to the facts so far as they were within his knowledge and recollection. He did not however at the time remember the precise grounds on which the attack was made.

Mr. Foster alluded to the passage of the Nebraska bill, and spoke with earnestness in defence of the Emigrant Aid Society, and vindicated Professor Silliman and Rev. Mr. Beecher, and Mr. Dalton. The meeting in New Haven, in Mr. Dalton's church, was to bid farewell to their friends who were about to leave for Kansas, and the arms furnished were merely for self defence. It was a significant fact that not one of that party who were thus furnished with Sharpe's rifles had ever been engaged in any of the disturbances in that territory.

Mr. Benjamin expressed his satisfaction with the tone and temper of Mr. Foster's speech.

On motion of Mr. Weller, the Kansas bill, and all the proposed amendments, were then recommitted to the Committee on Territories. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House passed the bill authorizing the President to cause to be delivered, at the expense of the Union, to Utah and New Mexico such arms as they are entitled to under existing laws.

The bill establishing two additional land districts in Kansas was tabled by twenty-six majority.

The bill for the admission of Kansas into the Union with the Topeka Constitution was reported from the Committee on Territories, and was considered.

Mr. Grow of Pennsylvania argued that the people made this request in order to relieve themselves from tyrannical and oppressive territorial laws.

Mr. Smith of Tennessee invoked a spirit of harmony, and expressed his preference for the bill of Senator Toombs.

Mr. Dunn earnestly opposed Mr. Grow's effort to keep the bill before the House, and wished it sent to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union for full discussion.

Mr. Grow contended that to send the bill there would be to ensure its death.

Mr. Dunn moved to refer, pending which the House passed a bill to establish a road from Fort Ridgely, Minnesota, to South Pass of Rocky Mountains, for Nebraska. Adj.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

CHILDREN IN ST. PAULS.—A merchant of this city once informed us that one of the most striking sights he witnessed in the old world, was the exhibition of the London charity schools in St. Pauls.

We copy the following allusion to this assemblage from the letter of the London correspondent of the N. Y. Sunday Times:

That most interesting exhibition, the assembling of all the children connected with the various metropolitan charity schools in St. Paul's cathedral, took place yesterday morning. You can form some idea of the effect of three thousand little ones arranged in rows rising one above another in the body of the cathedral; but you cannot imagine that produced when their fresh, clear voices joined in one glorious burst of harmony, drowning the deep roll of the organ's double diapason, and awaking echoes in the farthest recesses of the building. The spectacle was thrilling and sublime. I would rather hear one stanza of "Old Hundred," sung by this multitude of children, than any of the choruses composed by Italian celebrities, and shouted by operatic nobodies. It may be a plebeian taste, but it is nevertheless true.—Boston Trans.

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby an application, prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procurement of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here avoided to inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MAGSON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed with groves and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the odd lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is very productive and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to $2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Sheep, cattle, and swine, will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $2 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of those lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices dried.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and this too exactly precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the other annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first year's interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro'n under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with incoming materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When more than an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,
Office up to the 1st of May, 53 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. n8 6m

JAMES BUCHANAN.

The American Phrenological Journal for July, contains likenesses and characters of Buchanan, Beecher, Blanchard, Sumner and Warren. We copy the sketch of James Buchanan, which we deem much more likely to be correct than the view given by any partisan friend or opponent.

JAMES BUCHANAN, the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, is a man of tall and portly dimensions, and robust constitution.—He is quiet and unobtrusive in manners, mild and conservative in disposition, and in all the relations of life, gentlemanly.

He is said to be 65 years of age, and though his head is of snowy whiteness he seems to bear his age remarkably well. He has never been married. His vital temperament is predominant, and all the elements of health and longevity are apparent. He is not a man of intensity and enthusiasm like Jackson and Clay, but is cool, self-possessed, careful, noncommittal and prudent, like Van Buren; more disposed to go with circumstances than to step forth and control and mould them on the basis of his own will. Hence he acts in concert with his partisans rather than assumes a bold, dictatorial position, and is more popular as a friend and associate than looked up to as a leader.

He was born in the county of Franklin, in the State of Pennsylvania, of comparatively humble, but honest and industrious parents. Though his parents were able to give him a good classical education, he may be called the architect of his own fortunes. After completing his school education he studied law in Lancaster County, in the same State, which has ever since been his home. In 1814 and 1815, he was elected to the State Legislature, and in succeeding years rose to a high rank among the eminent lawyers which Pennsylvania could boast.

In early times Mr. Buchanan acted with what was called the Federal party, was twice elected to his State Legislature, and three times to Congress as such, and continued to adhere to that party until 1826. After 1828, old party lines having been somewhat effaced, he was ranked as a Jacksonian, and from that time to the present has adhered steadily to the Democratic party. He was first elected to Congress in 1820, and was continued a member for ten years successively, and retired in 1831. Gen. Jackson soon after tendered him the mission to Russia, which he accepted and filled with ability. Among other services, he negotiated the first important commercial treaty between the United States and Russia, which secured to our commerce the Russian ports in the Baltic and Black Seas.

Shortly after Mr. Buchanan's return from Russia, the Democrats in the Pennsylvania Legislature made him their candidate for United States Senator, and elected him. He was twice re-elected to the Senate, and remained in that body until his resignation in March, 1845, when he accepted from President Polk the first seat in his cabinet as Secretary of State.

At the close of the Polk administration he retired again to his home in Pennsylvania, but continued to take an active interest in the political events and questions of the times.

On the accession of Mr. Pierce to the Presidency, Mr. Buchanan was selected to fill the leading foreign mission—that to the Court of St. James.

His name for several years has been spoken of in connection with the Presidency; indeed, he had been a prominent candidate before two national conventions. These circumstances made it probable he would be put in nomination at the next canvass, and accordingly he returned to the United States about the first of May last, and at the Cincinnati Convention received the nomination.

The partisans of Mr. Buchanan will be likely to magnify his virtues and talents, while his opponents will incline to depreciate both. It is no part of our business to do either in respect to any of the candidates who are or may be nominated. In our next number we intend to publish portraits and biographies of the other Presidential candidates, as it is expected the nominations will have been made.

The brain of Mr. Buchanan is massive, but principally developed in the frontal and upper parts. Hence, he is thoughtful, reflective and logical in intellect; elevated, dignified and respectful in feelings. He appears not to be very strongly developed in the organs which give severity, energy and courage—hence he is inclined to live peaceably, and perhaps too anxious to avoid strife. Thus he will show, under ordinary circumstances, too much conservatism, considering the amount of intellect he has to plan a course of action. If he had more Combativeness and Destructiveness to give him Executiveness, and less of Cautiousness, Secretiveness, and Approbativeness, which makes him wary, doubtful, and reserved, we think it would improve his character, and render him a more effective orator, and a bolder and more influential statesman.

His Self-esteem is not large enough to give him a bold and commanding disposition; a tendency to lead off and control the public will. In his intercourse with the world he is too conciliatory, and disposed to move with, rather than stem the current.

SHOCKING TRAGEDIES IN NEW ORLEANS.—The Fourth District was the scene of two frightful tragedies on Saturday night. In one case, Michael Higgins, a cotton sampler, shot his wife at his residence on Eighth street, because she refused to get out of bed to give him a glass of water when he went home drunk. As he seized the gun, she sprang from the bed, and ran out of the house, closing the door behind her. He then put the gun to the door, and fired through the panel, wounding his wife fatally. From that time up to the period of his arrest his conduct was of the most brutal description. The deceased was a native of England, and but twenty-one years of age. She leaves a child fourteen months old. The other tragedy was as follows:—On Saturday night Captain Joseph Gibson was visiting a neighbor on Apollo street, at which place he met Edward Wisely. Wishing to settle a former difficulty, the Captain spoke to Wisely in a friendly manner, and proposed to let by-gones be by-gones.—The latter, however rejected his proposals, and shortly afterwards Mrs. Gibson came to the house for her husband. Capt. Gibson, his wife, and E. P. Phillips, then left together, and as they approached the captain's residents, at the corner of Apollo and Fourth street, it was observed that Wisely was hurrying after them with a large bowie knife in his hand. Philips and Mrs. Gibson asked him what he wanted, and he told them with an oath, it was none of their business.—He then sprang at the captain, and wounded him severely in his right arm, just below the shoulder. With a second thrust he cut him in his left arm. Mrs. Gibson then ran between her husband and the assassin, and received a stab in her abdomen, which is expected to result fatally. By this time Capt. Gibson had drawn a knife, and though so severely wounded, he plunged it in the assassin's heart, and killed him on the spot.—New Orleans Courier, June 17th.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JUNE 28, 1856.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD is one of the questions largely involved in the Presidential election. No party has dared to say no to the popular demand for a wagon road, and immediately following for a railroad, by which the shores of the Atlantic and the Pacific shall be united, and the people upon the Atlantic and Pacific slopes of the continent be brought together. Seeing how decided the popular feeling was in this matter, one party nominated Fremont, hoping that this would carry him to power; and if this was the sole issue, and his opponent was also the opponent of the great road, we should have no doubt that he would carry every single State of the Union; for in not one of them—all else being left out of sight—do we believe there is a majority against such a measure.—But the Democrats were not to be so caught; and so they too passed a resolution in favor of the road. True, out of compliment to Virginia, they renewed adherence to the resolution of 1798; and some persons at the South, who have not yet emerged from the darkness of the Dark Ages, and are much afraid that government will do something to increase the area of civilization faster than they can breed negroes to curse the new States—opposed this proposition; but without it, not one State, except a slave-raising or a slave-consuming State, could have been had, and so it passed.

Men may talk as much as they please that it is contrary to our national policy, as settled sixty years ago. We are not the same nation we were sixty years ago, more than the boy is his grandfather; and the policy that would have answered then, will no more do for to-day, than the old man's hat, breeches and boots will now do for his grandson. Men may sit and palaver that there is no constitutional power for such an undertaking.—There may not be to make it a government work; but why should there not be to aid a road to San Francisco, as well as the thousand and one corporations we are aiding? If it had ever entered into the heads of the farmers of the constitution, who never had looked over the Alleghany mountains, or dreamed of a county west of the Mississippi, that in two generations from that time we should have had States three thousand miles away, they would have provided that such States should not be isolated and unprotected.

The framers of the Constitution did not think that we should purchase foreign territory; but when Mr. Jefferson could find no direct authority to pay for Louisiana, he found constructive powers. They did not imagine that an independent nation would ever ask to be annexed; but when Texas wished to come, we cut a door for her admission, and shall cut another aperture to take the rest of the continent, when they want it. There will be a thousand emergencies arise in the progress of such a nation as this; and it is a humbug to say that there is no power to do what is so obviously needed. * * * *

We talk of the overthrow of slavery?—The Pacific railroad would do more for that than all the agitations in the world. It would throw the live Yankees, the laboring Celts, the free Germans, and the industrious of all nations who here seek a home, west of slavery, shutting it off by the introduction of better institutions, and shortly give such a preponderance to freedom that slavery would beg for existence instead of claiming to rule. —Newburyport Herald

VIRGINIA'S GOVERNOR.—Henry A. Wise, in his effort to give Mr. Buchanan a peculiarly affectionate pat on the shoulder, hits a fearful back-handed stroke. He says that 'no man South' can show a more acceptable record in favor of slavery! He affirms that when Buchanan was charged with having, while "a mere boy," attended a meeting in Pennsylvania which denounced slavery and resolved in favor of the Missouri Compromise, 'Mr. Buchanan, with his own hand, furnished him (Mr. Wise) with the irretragible evidence to show not only that the imputation was false, but that it was next to impossible for it to be true.'

On one question affecting slavery, Mr. Wise declares that 'Mr. Calhoun himself went further North than Mr. Buchanan went.' Our readers will have some curiosity to know in what point the zeal of the great nullifier was surpassed by that of James Buchanan—and we shall let Mr. Wise state it his own words:

"When the issue of incendiary publications arose, he voted to violate the very mails rather than permit the agitators of a Nat Turner insurrection to light the fires of incendiarism by the Post Office."

Mr. Wise goes on at length to commend Buchanan to the Southern support—but this specimen will answer.

DIED.—In London, May 31st, in consequence of a fall from his horse, Daniel Sharp, Esq., President of the Geological Society of London, member of the Royal and Linnæan societies, aged 31.

For the Chronicle.

MUSICAL.—Gents:—Your article in Tuesdays Chronicle, in which you "wish music was cultivated as much in this State as in Massachusetts," does not appear correct. Possibly you think, because there is no advancement in music in Portsmouth, that there is none elsewhere. Are you aware that recently two splendid organs have been set up in Concord? One of them was made by Messrs. Stevens of Boston—is larger than any other in the State; cost $3000; and belongs to the Universalist Society. The other was made by Messrs. Hook, cost $2000, and is owned by the Unitarians. And good ones, and recently new, are owned by all the other societies there.

And that your readers may not suppose there is no advancement out of Portsmouth, I remark that I last Sabbath afternoon heard the instrumentation of a mass, at Kingston, by the new organ in the Methodist meeting-house, with a very respectable orchestra—which was listened to by a large and attentive audience. Organs are every year being placed in our towns, and music is being cultivated, more generally, I suspect, than you are aware of. Reed organs in particular are very common in the country, and after a few years give place to a church, pipe organ. In Kingston are now two new church pipe organs, and there are several new organs which have been placed in churches in New Hampshire within the last two or three years. And I hope the time is not far distant when every well regulated society will have that almost indispensable requisite, a church organ.

Yours, VIATOR.

Epping, June 27, 1856.

THE FOURTH AT MANCHESTER.—The people of Manchester, are preparing for a great time on the approaching Fourth of July. The corner stone of the House of Reformation is to be laid on that day with imposing ceremonies. The Grand Lodge of Masons have accepted the invitation to lay the corner stone, and the military, fire department, Odd Fellows, schools, and all other organizations, and citizens generally, are invited to participate in the interesting exercises of the occasion. The Grand Lodge has extended an invitation to other lodges of the state to be present, and the Governor and Council and members of the Legislature are expected to attend.

ST. LOUIS, June 26.—Advices from Kansas state that Gay, the agent to the Shawnees and Wyandotte tribe of Indians, was murdered by a party of Indians, on Saturday last.

It is reported that Gov. Shannon has resigned the Governorship, to take effect on the 1st of July.

It is reported that Mr. Brown, the editor of the Herald of Freedom, has been killed. The report comes from Westport.

It is also reported that Col. Sumner had a fight on the 19th inst. with a party of Missourians. The result was that Col. Sumner drove the party back to Missouri, and stationed troops to prevent their return.

It is reported that Col. Sumner had refused to let a party of 40 Southerners come from Westport, to settle on their claims at Hickory Point, where they had laid out a town.

It is also reported here, that a company of about 80 men, who recently left Chicago for Kansas, had their rifles and revolvers taken from them at Lexington. It is said they were very insolent on board the boat, threatening what they would do under certain contingencies. No violence was offered to them.

A letter to the Democrat, from Lawrence, 19th, says that Deputy Sheriff Layman, at the head of 30 dragoons, arrested Major Hoyt and James Legate, and marched them to Lecompton. Layman had no papers, and on their arrival at Lecompton, Gov. Shannon refused to recognize his authority to arrest the parties, but Sheriff Jones, who stood by, seeing the dilemma of his subordinates, immediately prepared papers for the legal arrest of Hoyt and Legate, and they were imprisoned.

The Santa Fe mail has arrived, bringing dates to May 31. The Favijo Indians continue their depredations, and it is thought the difficulties cannot be settled without resort to a strong military force, as an opinion seems to prevail among the Indians that their power is superior to that of the United States.—The Apaches were also restless.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—A caucus of the anti-administration members was held tonight, chiefly to consider the Senate resolution fixing the day of adjournment of Congress. It was agreed not to take up the proposition for consideration until after the Kansas question shall be definitely disposed of.

To-day Senator Weller's California wagon road bill passed the Senate without discussion. It will scarcely be reached in the House, as Southern men will enforce the rules, and so prevent its consideration out of regular order.

It is not true that anything is being done by the Government in behalf of Commodore Vanderbilt and the late Nicaragua Transit Company. Don't be deceived by efforts to revive that stock on the pretence that government intends to re-establish the former rights of that Company.

The President has not tendered the governorship of Kansas to Gen. Smith. It is said that Shannon has been instructed by the President that he must resign.—Special Tel. to Boston Adv.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—Com. Stockton. The American Banner, published at Camden, announces that Commodore Stockton has accepted the nomination tendered him, and says that a letter from him will be published in an extra of that paper to-morrow, announcing the fact.

☞ The State Temperance Convention assembled at Dover on Friday, June 27, chose a State Temperance Committee, recommended the formation of County Temperance Societies throughout the State, discussed and passed sundry resolutions, and spent the day and evening in listening to accounts of temperance movements, encouraging and discouraging circumstances, and earnest appeals to renewed vigor in the promotion of the good cause.

Job and Card Printing.

HAVING recently much increased our facilities for the execution of Job and Card Printing in all its varieties, promptly, and in good style, and being ready to furnish our office still further with the new styles of type and the improvements in this branch of the business, as occasion may render desirable—we would respectfully solicit orders in this line, from our friends and the public, in the city or elsewhere.

In order to devote more attention to this branch of our business, we have engaged the services of Mr. WM. H. FOSTER, the well-known, experienced and tasteful Job Printer, who will have charge of the Job and Card Department; and will run

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clicking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

THE SHIP JAMES BUCHANAN will be launched this morning at high water (between 8 and 9 o'clock,) from the yard of Capt. Samuel Badger.

We understand that Capt. Marcy, Senator from Dist. No 1, who is a large owner in the ship, has invited the members of the Senate, and many of the members of the House of Representatives to witness the launch, and that many of them will be present.

☞ We learn that Messrs. J. H. Pearson & Co. of Concord, have leased Pray's Wharf and stores, in this city, for the purpose of engaging largely in the Flour and Salt business. They take possession of the property on the first of July. These gentlemen, at the present time, are engaged in a very extensive business with all parts of this State and Vermont, and will, by this arrangement, infuse new life into the North End.

ACCIDENT.—A little boy aged seven years, son of Mr. Robert Newsome of Kittery, fell overboard on Monday, and came very near drowning. Stillman B. Allen, Esq. happened to be passing just as the child sank the third time, and hastened to his assistance in a small boat, jumped over and took him from the bottom, and carried him into a neighbor's house. The child had been under water about fifteen minutes, and was apparently dead. Mr. Allen removed all his clothes, wrapped him in warm blankets and continued to rub his hands, feet and chest, until he gave signs of life. The boy is now well.

☞ We learn with pleasure, that the suit at law, which has long been pending between a lumber-dealing firm down east, and Mr. Geo. W. Jenness of this city,—arising from the loss by the firm, of a lot of timber sold to a stranger on account of a letter of recommendation given by Mr. Jenness,—has at last been settled, out of Court. Mr. J. has taken Union Wharf to carry on the lumber business again on his own account.

DELICIOUS.—At the stalls of Messrs. Sewall and Foote, in the old Jefferson market, may always be found meat, fruit, vegetables, and provisions generally, of the very best quality. Just now they are supplied with rich strawberries, green peas, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, &c., as good as the best.

☞ See Auction column this morning, for a rare chance to purchase a splendid Piano at a low price; also fine Watches and Jewelry, Crockery ware, &c.,—at Towle's sales rooms. Also a good Chaise, Furniture, and varieties, at Wendell's Auction Store. Both these sales at 10 o'clock—and sales in the evening at both stores.

The Vandalia, Com. Rootes, was at Macao in April, and having completed her 3 years station, had been ordered to proceed to Portsmouth, N. H. to be paid off.

P. & C. RAILROAD.—On and after Monday next, the train which has heretofore left at 11, 50, A. M., will leave at 10,50—an hour earlier. The train from Concord which has left at 5 P. M., will leave at 5,20.

CAMPHENE.—"The use of camphene and burning fluid should be forbidden by law."—N. H. Gazette, June 21.

"We would inform the Chronicle that we are not in favor of the prohibition of the use of camphene and burning fluid by law.—N. H. Gazette, June 28.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY, June 25.

SENATE.—Mr. Hammond, from the Committe on Education, reported the bill without amendment, to enable contiguous School Districts to unite and form a single district. Ordered to a third reading.

HOUSE.—Presented and referred.—Remonstrances of Archelaus Trelethen and 64 others against the Dover and Eliot Bridge. Bill to suppress seine and weir fishing in the town of Exeter. Read twice and referred to the Com. on Fisheries.

Reports of Standing Committees.—The Com. on the Judiciary, to whom was referred certain resolutions from the State of Rhode Island reported the following resolutions:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That fully concurring with the resolutions of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in relation to the payment of the claims of American citizens for spoliation upon their commerce under the authority of the French Government prior to the year 1800,—we believe those claims to be honestly due — that inasmuch as the indemnity for those claims has been assumed by the Government of the United States for more than fifty years, the good faith of the nation imperatively demands their adjustment; and any longer refusal or neglect to pay the same is in our opinion an act of great injustice, and discreditable to our national honor. We therefore request our Senators and Representatives in Congress to use all honorable efforts to obtain a speedy settlement of these long-standing claims, and that a copy of these resolutions be furnished to each of said Senators and Representatives.

Ordered to a second reading.

IN CONVENTION.—Wm. W. Eastman was elected Warden of State Prison; and Wm. B. Randall, Commissary General.

HOUSE.—The bill incorporating the City of Somersworth was read a third time and passed.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

EXETER, June 27.

Case No. 109, James W. Emery, Adm'r of Daniel Plummer, v. Samuel Plummer, Jr., after occupying the attention of the Court, throughout yesterday, was given to the jury to-day.

Case No. 110, Peter W. & Benjamin F. Folsom v. John T. Blake, was then placed on trial. Assumpsit — for goods sold and delivered. Wells and Wood for Plf., Marston for Deft.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

N. ORLEANS, June 25.—The Orizaba brings dates from San Francisco of the 15th inst.

Casey and Cora were hung on the 22d of May, the same day of which Mr. King was buried.

The Vigilance Committee had arrested several other desporate characters, including the notorious Yankee Sullivan. The latter committed suicide on the 1st of June, in his cell at the Committee Rooms, leaving a confession touching the elections in San Francisco.

The opponents of the Vigilance Committee attempted to hold a meeting an the 2d, to denounce the Committee, but it proved a total failure.

Rumors were circulated that Gov. Johnson would make a requisition to suppress the revolution, but nothing had been done as yet.—These rumors created much excitement throughout the state, a word was sent from the interior that a thousand men were ready to march to the assistance of the Committee.—Sacramto alone offered to furnish 1000.

Martial law had been declared at San Francisco.

The committee were determined on carrying out their measures, and continued to make arrests.

The opposition, however, were organising with 700 stand or arms. It was rumored they intended to attack the Committee Rooms, which were strongly guarded with two cannon before the door loaded with grape shot.

All the journals, except the Herald, side with the Committee.

The health of San Francisco was good.—Business moderate.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, June 26.

SENATE.—The Senate took up Mr. Adam's resolution providing for the adjournment of Congress on the 28th of July.

Mr. Seward opposed the resolution. He thought the business of Congress was in no condition to allow the fixing of a day for adjournment, and especially at a time so early as had been designated or desired. The real question of the day (Kansas) had not been taken up in the House, and even here it has only reached an intermediate state.

Mr. Seward could not consent to have the day of adjournment fixed until it is decided what plan shall be adopted for restoring peace in Kansas.

HOUSE.—The bill to admit Kansas into the Union with the Topeka Constitution was taken up.

Mr. Dunn said explicetly he would never vote for the bill in its present form. He wanted the measure secured but surely not in the revolutionary form contemplated.

Mr. Washburn of Maine made some remarks confirmatory of the position of Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Grow gave notice that he would on Saturday move the previous question on the bill.

Mr. Morril from the Committee on Territories, reported a bill to punish and prevent the practice of polygamy in the territories of the United States, providing a penalty of $500, and imprisonment for not less than two nor more than five years. He (Mr. Morrill) said there was but one dissenting vote in the Committee, and the only difficulty was as to the power to legislate on the subject. Referred to the Committee of the Whole. Adjourned.

FROM EUROPE, 5 DAYS LATER.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA.

SANDY HOOK, June 27.—The Asia, from Liverpool June 14, has arrived, with 90 passengers.

There is much excitement in England respecting American affairs.

The government talks in a hostile tone.—Both Palmerston and Clarendon stated in Parliament, on Friday evening, that they had not then made up their minds whether Mr. Dallas should be dismissed or not.

Lord John Russell has given special notice that on Monday he would move an enquiry as to what was the intention of the British government on this question, as much as the almost universal feeling of the British people is in favor of peace.

Palmer was hung on Saturday morning.—He made no confession.

Commercial.—London Money market easier. Consols closed, 13th, at 95 a 95 1-4. The bullion in the Bank of England has increased. U. S. stocks have declined to 100.

Corn is firm, and in some cases 6d a 1s higher; white 30s a 31s 6d; yellow and mxd 29s6d. Beef and Pork dull, at previous prices.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with U.S. Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made strong exertions to procure an appointment prepared and conducted by him. THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is the only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—"During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith in the northwest extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is of the richest mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and excellent fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that large tracts of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. If they send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, affording respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

THE BETTER WAY.—The New York Tribune alluding to Sumner's request that this State instead of paying his sick expenses would give the money for the relief of Kansas, adds very sensibly:

Instead of burning thousands of dollars worth of gunpowder in announcing the nomination of the Republican candidates for President and Vice President, let us trust the announcement to newspapers and telegraph wires, and save the cost of powder to help our brethren in Kansas, now suffering martyrdom and braving death for their love of liberty.

There are hundreds of pioneers who have been robbed of their cattle and slender stores by the Ruffians who now rule and ravage that territory with undisputed sway, who urgently need aid, and need it now. They have been so harassed and plundered that their crops for the current year must be very light, and they can save very little this Fall unless a part of their loss is made up to them. Seed, implements and teams are greatly wanted, and hundreds will be driven away by sheer want of food unless some assistance should be sent from the East.

A GOOD VERDICT.—A Miss Charlotte Keley has lately obtained a verdict against a fellow by the name of Anthony Keary, at Cleveland, Ohio, for $3000. The following are the facts in the case:—

Keary was once injured by the cars of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad Company, and the girl Charlotte nursed him. An attachment sprang up between them, and under promise of marrying her when he should obtain a verdict, his relations became more intimate than the law allows.—The suit against the company was successful, and resulted in a verdict of $6000 for Keary. After obtaining a portion of the money he left the country, and went to Ireland, leaving Charlotte and her child to take care of themselves. She brought a suit of breach of promise, &c., attached the balance yet due him from the railroad company, and gained the verdict against him.

The emigration of the inhabitants of our town, under the auspices of the Mormonites, is more extensive than we were led to imagine. We find it not unusual for husbands to return home at night and find wife and children fled, the house stripped, and a pretty long list of debts, incurred on the eve of departure, left unpaid. Tradesmen, too, are seeking after debtors, astonished to find those who had promised to pay, off to the land of promise.—A hard case has recently come under our notice.

A laboring man took his wages home on Saturday evening, and returned to his work, which detained him until a late hour. When he had finished his labor, he again returned home, but he found his wife and family had fled, and his home stripped. Subsequently he ascertained that, instead of applying his wages to their proper use, they had run deeply in debt, and allowed the money to accumulate to assist them in their flight. They sailed from Liverpool on the 23d ult., with a large number of others, from various places, in the Horizon, bound for Boston.—Preston (Eng.) Chronicle.

John Burrows, of Providence, the driver of one of Flagg & Aymar's Circus teams, who had his back broken in this town on the morning of May 13th, died on Sunday morning, June 22d, at the Alms House, having lived nearly six weeks since the accident. For the past week or ten days his lower extremities were entirely putrid. He was 37 years of age.—Gloucester Tel.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, writes:

Senator Wilson of Massachusetts has procured a rifle with a three feet barrel disguised like a walking cane, which he carries with him constantly, even into the Senate Chamber, ready loaded and capped.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A female of between the age of 13 and 14 years, died suddenly at the Reform School in Providence, on Wednesday last. She was found dead in bed, having previously been in a good state of health.—Her stomach was much inflamed, but on examination, no trace of poison could be detected. The most singular part of the affair is, according to the Providence Journal, that she was "taken up in the street and committed to the Reform School, Nov. 5, 1853, and remained there up to the time of her death.—Nothing is known of her parents or relatives; none have ever visited her since she has been there; and the inquires which have been made by the keeper, directed by such information as he could obtain from her, have proved unavailing. It is not known that the name by whom she was committed is her true name."

THE FISHING BUSINESS.—The Newburyport Herald says, that nearly all the fishermen belonging to that port have arrived from the South, and their labors have amounted to pretty much what fishing did 1800 years ago, when they toiled all night and caught nothing. Very few of them have paid their way, and taken together the fleet have lost considerable money.

A woman at Chicago drowned herself the the other day, in a fit of delirium tremens, by ducking her head in a bucket of water and keeping it there till life was extinct.

In Mason County, Georgia, last week, an insurrection was attempted by the slaves of a man, who had almost famished the poor creatures, for which two were hung and one shot.

The Washington Union thinks the sequel will prove whether the nomination of Fremont was 'a great blunder, or a great exhibition of political shrewdness.'

Two little children of Mr. Caldwell of Hudson, N. H., were poisoned and died this week, it is supposed from lamprey eels.

Mrs. Lydia Elliot, of Concord, N. H., died on Tuesday, at the age of 103 years, 4 months and 25 days.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JUNE 29, 1856.

AN ENGLISHMAN'S VIEW. — In Hunt's Merchant's Magazine, for June, 1856, we are informed that during the last summer, Frank Crossley, Esq., M. P. for Halifax, England, the carpet manufacturer, made a tour in the United States and Canada, and on his return to Europe, delivered a lecture before his constituents, detailing some very interesting information gleaned in his travels of over six thousand miles of the North American continent. Of the Lowell manufactories Mr. Crossley says:—

We first visited the Merrimac Mills, which are very large cotton mills. I was struck with the order prevailing throughout, as well as with the cleanliness of the factories. All the spinning at this factory is upon the throstle principle, and not by mules; they consider it necessary for the peculiar description of goods they make.

The factory girls here seemed to be of a superior class, chiefly farmer's daughters, who have come to make a little fortune for their marriage portion, or to enable them to live independently when they retire from factory life. They earn from two to three dollars per week, besides their board. I visited one of their lodging houses, which was very clean and well furnished; every room except the kitchen was carpeted; there was a good supply of books to read; they work on the average eleven hours per day, or sixty-six hours per week; rather more in the summer, and less in the winter. Now they begin at half past six o'clock in the morning, having breakfasted, and go on till twelve o'clock; then commence again at quarter to one o'clock, and go on till half past six. On Saturday afternoons they stop at about five o'clock.—We visited the Lowell Carpet Company's mills, and saw 200 power-looms weaving two and three ply Scotch, or as they call them, ingrain carpets. They were tended by girls. Their goods have a great many shoots in them, or, in other words, a good deal of inexpensive labor, and very little wool. They have by this advantage almost entirely excluded British carpets of this description.

The Lawrence Courier copies the following from the private letter of a man overwhelmed with a profitable city business, and recommends it to some of our country friends who are longing for the city and its attendant joys:—

I want to make a little money, and go back into the country and have a horse, 3 pigs, 34 hens, 7 roosters, 4 cows, 50 pigeons, 1 dog, no cat, a wheelbarrow, 20 acres of land well situated, with pure water and excellent school advantages—as the papers say—6 geese, 9 ducks, no peacock and a bunch of faggots.—Then I would lie abed till 9 o'clock A. M., (if I wanted to) or get up at 4, as the humor pleased me—drive out, or stay at home; fix the pig-pen, or let the pig run; yoke the oxen, or turn the horse into the mowing-field; roll over and over on the hay-mow, or mix cut feed. I tell you what Aleck, if we could own a farm and live on it, and yet live in a city, it would be all right.

A SINGULAR COMPLIMENT. — The Irish News calls Rev. Theodore Parker "the Sunday dramatist of the Boston Music Hall.

It is very true that Theodore Parker has a large share of dramatic power—and it is also true of some of the Sacred Writers—the writer of the Book of Job, for example. So the compliment is not only very singular, but singularly high.

ROWLAND HILL AND THE ROBBER. — The Prisone's Friend says, an anecdote has been related of the remarkable conduct of Rowland Hill to a highway robber, whom he reclaimed by great kindness, and took into his employ. In a funeral sermon preached at his decease, he gives the following remarkable account;—

'Many persons present were acquainted with the deceased, and have had it in their power to observe his character and conduct. They can bear witness that I speak the truth when I assert, that, for a considerable number of years past, he has proved himself a perfectly sober, honest, industrious, and religious man; faithfully performing, as far as lay in his power, the duties of his station in life, and serving God with constancy and zeal.

And yet this very man—this virtuous and pious man—was once a robber on the highway. More than thirty years ago, he stopped me on the public road, and demanded my money. Not at all intimidated, I argued with him; I asked what could induce him to pursue so iniquitous and dangerous course of life. "I have been a coachman," said he, "but am now out of place; and, and not being able to get character, can obtain no employment, and therefore am obliged to resort to this means of gaining subsistence."

I desired him to call upon me. He promised he would; and he kept his word. I talked further with him, and offered to take him into my service. He consented; and, ever since that period, he has served me faithfully; and not me only, but he has faithfully served his God. And instead of finishing his life in a public ignominious manner, with a depraved and hardened mind, as he probably would soon have done, he died in peace, rejoicing in hope, and prepared, we trust, for the society "of just men made perfect."

Till this day, this extraordinary occurrence has been confined to his breast and mine: I have never mentioned it even to my dearest friend.'

NEW YORK, June 26.—The North American National Executive Committee request Americans every where to hold aloof from all ratifications for a few days, when they expect all will be made fully satisfactory for a union upon principles which American patriots would freely make for union and victory.

A NEARLY SERIOUS ACCIDENT CHANGED TO A LAUGHABLE INCIDENT.—On Monday, as a devoted angler was turning the angle of his boat house, near South Boston bridge, he perceived a small commotion of the ocean thereto adjacent, when his piscatory proclivities induced the belief that a huge fish was caught between the raft and the boat. A second similar appearance of the water confirmed his suspicions; and rushing to the raft, with more haste than dignity, he was in time to see the third disturbance, or struggle, and at the same time the top of a cap yet too far off for him to seize it, when by his prompt direction, an urchin on the end of the raft grasped a handful of hair under the water, attached to an Irish boy, three years old, who was carried to the wharf scarcely gasping, upon touching which, instantly, and to the surprise of several persons who had collected, stood up and "cleared like a rigger" for home. His life was saved by the merest chance.—Post.

FATAL BURNING FLUID ACCIDENT.—About ten o'clock Friday evening, while a girl in the employ of Mr. John Regan of Lynn, was filling a fluid lamp, the fluid took fire and exploded, and a son of Mr. Regan, five or six years of age, was severely burned on his face and arms. He died this morning from the effect of his injuries. It is thought that the child inhaled the flame, and was burned internally. The explosion also set fire to the room, but it was extinguished with little damage.—Boston Journal.

LIVE FISH AT THE PARIS EXHIBITION.—The Strasbourg Railway has brought to Paris for the exhibition in the Champs Elysees, about 3000 fish from the Artificial Piscicultural establishment, formed at Huningen by the French Government. They consist of salmon from the Danube, trout from the lakes of Switzerland, and greyling from the Lake of Constance. These last named have only been hatched this spring, the salmon-trout are fourteen months old, and are 4 3-4 to 6 1-4 inches long. There are two salmon three years old, one of which is nearly 19 inches long by 13 inches in circumference. The fish were conveyed in cylindrical reservoirs made of tin, water being required frequently.

A GOOD HIT.—We were told of an instance that occurred recently, in which the lawyers presented themselves to a Judge at Special Term, in Chambers, armed with a formidable array of books and documents, and had hardly opened their case, probably some question of costs more interesting to themselves than their clients, when Judge Whiting interposed the following question:

"What is the amount in controversy, gentlemen?"

"Two dollars, may it please Your Honor," was the reply.

"Well," said the judge, taking out his pocket book, and handing over that sum, "I will pay it. Call the next case, Mr. Clerk."—N. Y. Jour. of Commerce.

SINGING IN GERMAN CHURCHES.— The Germans make great account of singing in their worship. The hymn is regarded as a very important part of the service.

In many of the German churches little blackboards are placed conspicuously about the room, on which, by means of movable figure blocks, the numbers of the hymns to be sung are presented to the assembly, from the opening of the house. The worshipper may look out his hymns at his leisure. The singing is unique—all joining—men, women and children; it is a perfect storm of song.—No one is afraid to bear on with the full power of his voice. The house is completely filled with sound.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—West Point.—The graduating class of Cadets at West Point were confirmed to-day by the Senate, as Second Lieutenants.

The trial of Brooks for the assault on Sumner is fixed for Monday.

It is expected that the effort to get a vote upon the Kansas bill will be pressed tomorrow; but it is doubtful whether it will succeed, as several of its friends doubt the policy of pressing it now.

James A. Peder has been confirmed as Minister resident at Buenos Ayres, and Robert Fitzpatrick Secretary of Legation.

ST. LOUIS, June 27. — Gov. Shannon arrived here last night. He authorises the Republican to state that he has not resigned. He came to St. Louis to meet his wife, and will return to Kansas in the course of the week.—He reports all quiet in the territory.

A letter to the Republican, from Westport, 24th, says a meeting was held there on Sunday to denounce the murder, by the Indians, of the Agent, Mr. Gay. A committee was appointed to draft an address to the Governor of Missouri, informing him of the murder, and asking him to offer a reward for the apprehension of the murderers. Thirty-five citizens of Westport, the letter states, subscribed $1150, in sums of from $10 to $50 each, for the purpose of offering a suitable reward for the apprehension and conviction of the guilty parties.

The Chicago company of emigrants disarmed at Lexington on Sunday, were on board the West. When the boat landed a Committee of citizens came aboard and informed the Captain of the object of their visit. He introduced them to Mr. Andrews, the President of the Company, who stated in reply to the demand of the Committee that he had 76 men under his charge, who were going to Kansas to settle, that each one of them had a gun and were determined to keep them. The Committee replied that they were satisfied that the intentions of the party were hostile, and that they were recruits for the Lane and Reeder party in Kansas, and that the people of Lexington had determined that they should not pass unless they gave up their arms. After a considerable parley, it was agreed that the arms should be taken ashore and placed in the custody of a responsible merchant, to be restored when the present difficulties in Kansas shall be settled. The arms were then produced from various parts of the boat, and proved to be Hull's carbines, all loaded, and with bayonets attached.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

LAUNCH OF THE SHIP JAMES BUCHANAN.—At half-past 8 o'clock, on Saturday, the noble ship James Buchanan glided gracefully from the yard of Samuel Badger, Esq. into the river Piscataqua, amid the cheers of numerous spectators. In behalf of the owners, Capt. Daniel Marcy, the Senator from this district, had extended an invitation to the Senate of New Hampshire, to witness the event, and Messrs. Rowell of No. 4, Herring of No. 5, Hall of No. 6, Hobbs of No. 7, and Burns of No. 12, with ladies, accepted the invitation. In company with other distinguished gentlemen from abroad, including Judge Sargent and Hon. Geo. W. Kittredge; and the Mayor, and many ladies and gentlemen of this city, this large and respectable portion of the Senate were launched on the water with flying colors. All present spoke in terms of admiration of the ship and the handsome manner in which her first performance was executed.

By invitation of the owners, about fifty gentlemen set down to a fine dinner at the Franklin house, on Saturday afternoon, given in honor of the launch of the James Buchanan. The tables were loaded with the delicacies and luxuries of the season, reflecting cridit not only upon the generosity of the entertainment, but adding another wreath to the well earned laurels of Barnabee, the veteran landlord and experienced caterer. The most social and happy feelings prevailed; the sentiments and speeches were pithy, patriotic and humorous, and everything passed off handsomely. His Honor Mayor Jenness, one of the owners of the ship, presided, and in a few well-chosen remarks, welcomed the guests to the entertainment, as an offering in behalf of commerce and the commercial interests of Portsmouth. At the close of the banquet, speeches and sentiments were given by Senators Hall, Burns and Marcy, Hon. G. W. Kittredge, Hon. Mr. Hoyt of Durham, W. H. Y. Hackett, J. W. Emery, George S. Barton, Clerk of the Senate, Wm. P. Jones, Zenas Clement, W. Williams, Dr. Boardman, N. K. Raynes, A. W. Haven, A. R. Hatch, H. H. Ladd, E. N. Fuller, G. H. Rundlett, E. F. Sise, Lory Odell, John Knowlton and others, and the party separated with an expression of the wish that each of the ships now on the stocks in this city might be named for a Presidential candidate, and the same company invited to celebrate the launch in as good style as was that of the Jas. Buchanan.

☞ In the Court of Common Pleas at Exeter, on Thursday, Wm. D. Perkins of this city, was fined $5 and costs for assaulting Mr. Newton of Gosport, last summer. Perkins had retracted his plea of not guilty, and plead guilty.

The case Willey vs City of Portsmouth, for damage by alleged defect in highway, near Creek Bridge, is set down for trial on Monday.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—As will be seen by an advertisement in another column, The Ladies of the Middle Street Society, have made arrangements for a grand Festival at Jefferson Hall, on Tuesday and Wednesevenings, and Wednesday afternoon. Strawberries and Cream, and Ice Cream, in greatest perfection, will be supplied in abundance. The hall has been tastefully trimmed, and presents a beautiful appearance. Everybody will attend, of course.

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday morning a boy named George Stickney, aged about ten years, had his left hand badly injured by the premature discharge of a pistol which he was loading. Boys are apt to be too careless in their handling of fire-arms.

DUST.—Market street is in a very dusty condition at present, and the dust which is constantly flying is a great annoyance to all whose business calls them on the street.

Will not our merchants and other men of business, aid more liberally the present season than heretofore in protecting their new goods, stores, offices and yards from the clouds of dust that will surely arrive?

And can we not have a good watering-pot? It would do good service! Be ready gentlemen, down with the dust! S. W. G.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser mentions that President Pierce has been quite unwell during the past week, and Secretary Marcy has to attend to business in the city.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY, June 27.

SENATE.—The bill to establish the city of Somersworth was read a third time, under a suspension of the rules, and laid on the table.

Reports.—The Judiciary committee reported back the bill to incorporate the Dover and Elliot Bridge Company with an amendment, providing that unless the bridge shall be completed within six years instead of ten the act shall be void. The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Varney of Dover stated the effect of this bill. It proposes to construct a bridge across the tide waters of the Cocheco river, and would greatly injure the navigation. He had already presented remonstrances from a great number of individuals, and there would be more still who wished to be heard. He moved to recommit the bill to a select committee, to consist of the delegations from Dover and Portsmouth. Adopted.

Bill Introduced.—By Mr. Ray of Derry—bill for the establishment of a Board of Education, State Normal School and other purposes. Read twice and referred to the Com. on Education.

Read a third time and passed.—Bill to authorize selectmen to lay out winter highways.

The Senate gave notice that they have postponed to the next session of the Legislature, with order of notice, an act in amendment of an act entitled as follows:—An act to incorporate the Mount Washington Road Co.—Also that the Senate had indefinitely postponed the bill relating to relief of the Insane—postponed from the last to the present session of the Legislature.

The committee on Banks reported that the bill authorizing the banks of this State to subscribe for stock in the bank of Mutual Redemption for any other bank of a similar nature, be indefinitely postponed. Adopted.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, June 27.

SENATE.—The House bill establishing two additional land districts in Minnesota was passed.

A message was received from the House announcing the death of Hon Mr. Bayly of Virginia.

Mr. Mason spoke in exalted terms of the deceased, and offered resolutions of respect and condolence, which were adopted. Adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr. Milson of Virginia announced the death of his colleague, Mr. Bayly, pronouncing a high eulogy upon his public and private character, and offering the customary resolutions of respect, which were adopted and the House adjourned.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Illinois arrived this morning, with $2,280,000, and 950 passengers. She connected at the Isthmus with the Golden Age.

The papers are filled with matters concerning the revolutionary state of affairs at San Francisco.

Casey and Cora were hung by the Vigilance Committee, at the same time the funeral rites of Mr. King were being performed.—The place of execution was surrounded by 2000 bayonets.

Ex-Judge McGowan, formerly Chief of Police of Philadelphia, had been indicted by the Grand Jury as an accessory to the murder of King, but had escaped.

The Vigilance Committee had arrested several ballot box stuffers and desperadoes. The Committee have also obtained possession of a fraudulent ballot box of ingenious construction, which was used at the last election. The most astounding frauds have been revealed.

On the 3d, the Governor issued a proclamation declaring the country in insurrection and authorizing the Maj. Gen. of the 2d Div, of the State Militia, to raise an army th preserve law and order. This action did not alarm the Committee. They have 5000 men, fully equipped and ready for instant action, having been thoroughly organized and drilled under competent officers. Men, money and amunitions of war from all parts of the State are at their command, and it is confidently believed that the Governor's efforts will fail.

The Volunteer Militia in San Francisco and Sacramento have disbanded, to avoid being called out by the Governor. It is reported, however, that 1200 men had been enrolled under government authority. No collision was anticipated.

Nicholas Graham, a murderer, was hung on the 31st of May, by the authorities, at San Francisco.

A petition, numerously signed, was in circulation, asking the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature. The Vigilance Committee deny having anything to do with this petition.

The Herald, the only journal which opposes the Committee, puts a different color on the state of affairs, and represents thousands of good citizens responding to the Governor's call.

Judge Kellogg, a venerable citizen of Michigan, arriving last Saturday at Washington, was uncertain when the cars stopped whether he had reached the Federal city or not. But as he entered the main hall of the depot, he saw a man caning another ferociously, all over the room.

"When I saw that," says the Judge, "I knew I was in Washington, immediately."

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home market for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to $30 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first year, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Coal in abundance is mined at several points along the Road, and is cheap and excellent fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands in those States, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communication, adds the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due on the two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, reaping, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,
Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

DYER'S HEALING EMBROCATION

AN

REMEDY

ALMOST miraculous are some of the cures effected by the use of this remarkable preparation. As a healing, pain destroying remedy

IT IS UNSURPASSED.

It is uniform in quality, convenient for application, neat and delicate in its nature, leaves no stain upon the dress or skin, and is unfailing in its curative properties and effects. It cures

RHEUMATISM,

Cuts, Wounds, Scalds, Bruises, Burns, Lumbago, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Neuralgia, Tooth Ache, Headache, Pains in the Side, Back or Limbs, Sore Throat, Ague, Cramps, &c. &c.

Physicians prescribe and recommend it with the most perfect confidence; and by the use of it themselves thousands have been saved from an untimely death.

Beware of imitations, and purchase none but the genuine, with the name of "Dyer's Healing Embrocation, Providence, R. I." blown in the glass, and the fac simile of the proprietor's signature upon the outside wrapper.

For sale in Portsmouth by J. H. Thacher, Wm. R. Preston and B. Hutchings, and by all respectable Druggists and dealers in medicine throughout the United States, at the following prices:—2 ounce bottle 12½c; 4 ounce bottle 25c; 8 ounce bottle 37½c.

Old Stand! New Stock!
MEDICAL CARD.

HAVING located myself at, and assumed the entire charge of the Apothecary Store, so long occupied by Doct. Samuel Hutchings—and recently occupied by William H. Foster—I am prepared to furnish from a new and recently selected Stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, &c., &c., every article usually called for at an Apothecary's.

That I may disabuse an impression many are said to, and others naturally enough may entertain, viz: That a Stand so antiquated—so long occupied for one particular branch of business—must necessarily contain a Stock made up of "Green Earthern Pots, bladders, and Musty Seeds, Remnants of pack thread, and old cakes of roses," &c. &c., I beg to assure them, and through them, my friends and the public generally, that the past few weeks have found me busy in removing from the premises all stale, flat, and unprofitable materials—and in the mean time their places supplied from selections made by myself, with pure, fresh, and unadulterated Medicines. With such—and such only—I shall endeavor to be supplied hereafter.

To the above I have also added a choice assortment of articles for the Toilet—consisting of Hair Oils, Soaps, Cologne; Hair, Teeth, Nail and other brushes, &c. &c.

PATENT MEDICINES—of such as are really valuable and popular—constantly on hand.

Articles called for, not on hand, ordered and supplied at the shortest notice

Physicians Prescriptions will ever receive all the care and attention, in their composition, which their importance demands.

The patronage of all disposed to bestow it, is respectfully solicited. J. N. M. HILL,
Druggist & Apothecary,

Chilson's New Cone Furnace,
(Presenting a cluster of Cones over the fire.)

JUST completed and Patented in America, England and France.

UNPARALLELED ECONOMY IN FUEL!

Retaining and holding the smoke and gases in a cluster of Cones, exposed to the reflected rays of heat acting on the tapering surface of the Cones—not unlike the action of the sun on a sun glass,—the rays of heat and light being brought to a focus in each cone. A perfect remedy for the present enormous waste of heat carried off in the chimney.

The subscriber has been appointed Sole Agent for the sale of the above Furnaces in this city and vicinity, and the several sizes may be seen at his Store, No. 46 Market st, Portsmouth.

Republican Hot-Air Cooking Range.

THIS Range differs from all others in the market in the construction of its flues around the Oven, and from this result its chief advantages.

This range has an extra amount of radiating service in the Hot-Air Fixtures connected with it. The Hot Water Fixtures are conveniently arranged, and sure to give satisfaction. No other Range has heavier castings where the parts are exposed to the fire.

Those purchasing Ranges should look well to the draught around the Oven, as the main thing, if they would secure evenness and quickness in baking, and economy in Fuel.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JULY 1, 1856.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

LETTER FROM EXETER.

EXETER, June 30.

Messrs. Editors: — It has been reported that Prof. Joseph G. Hoyt, of this place will deliver the annual oration at the anniversary of the Societies connected with Bowdoin College, at the next Commencement, which happens about the 6th of August. From the high reputation which Prof. Hoyt has so justly obtained, we anticipate a rich treat for the students of that College.

We have just seen a copy of the annual catalogue of Phillips Exeter Academy, by which it appears that one hundred and sixteen students have attended that time-honored institution during the past year. 99 are at present connected with it, with three gentlemen as instructors. This, we believe is one of the oldest institutions in the country, having been founded in 1781, through the liberal donations of John Phillips, L. L. D., who, at his decease in 1795, left a large portion of his estate for the benefit of the institution. It is under the control of a board of trustees, seven in number, only three of whom can be residents of Exeter; two, at present reside in Portsmouth, one of these being president of the board. As we have understood the story, Mr. Phillips had an only son, who, without doubt, would have inherited his father's property, at his death, as well as that of an uncle, but who proposed, while in College, that his father and uncle should devote their wealth to the endowment of such institutions as this, which finally resulted in the foundation of this academy, and also of the Phillips Academy in Andover, Ms. Such instances of disinterestedness in young men are the more praiseworthy from their rare occurrence.

The course of study for preparation for college, which has for a few years past, occupied four years, has been shortened, and three years is all that is now necessary to enable one to acquire a sufficient knowledge of the classics and mathematics, &c., to enter at Harvard. This has been effected by omitting one or two books not actually requisite, and going over a little more ground, in a shorter time.

As some men were digging a cellar for a new house near the Academy, a few days since, they found a small grave stone, on which was inscribed, "Here lyes ye body of Susanna Rogers, daughter of Benjamin and Susanna Rogers, who died October ye 20, 1715, aged 2 months, Memento Mori." It was buried about a foot below the surface, lying face upward, but how it came there no one seems to know. Neither is it known to whom it refers, as the whole family of Rev. Daniel Rogers was probably buried in the cemetery, and that is supposed to be the only family of that name which has ever resided here.

The people of Exeter possess one thing of which they are justly proud, and that is a small but good Town Library. It was founded in 1853, we think, when the sum of $300 was appropriated by the citizens for the purpose. Since then, it has gradually increased, and by the report of the Committee for the last year, we learn that the whole sum paid to them during 1855 for the use of the Library, was $332,62, of which $254,91 were expended for books, amounting to 457 volumes.

Phillips Exeter Academy has also, for two or three years, until the last, presented annually $100 for the purpose of increasing the library. At present there are about 1500 volumes contained in the library. It is much used by the people of Exeter, who well appreciate the advantages in this respect.—From April 1st., 1855, to March 1st., 1856, 11000 vols. were taken out, by 904 different persons.

The library is in the charge of the Superintending School Committee, who receive donations and purchase books. A room has been fitted up for its special accommodation in the new Town Hall, but it has not removthither as yet.

Our statement that the proposed celebration of the Fourth of July had been abandoned, was somewhat premature, although we it received from what we considered good authority—a member of the Committee of Arrangements. By the News Letter of this morning we learn that a company of "Border Ruffians" will make grand parade in the morning at 5 o'clock. It will proceed through the principal streets, and finally halt in front of the Squamscott House, where an oration will be delivered by the Orator of the day—Gov. Shannon, with his 1st and 2d assistants, Joe Bluskin and Harry Hambug.

A procession will be formed at the new Town Hall, at 9 o'clock, and proceed through the principal streets to the Grove near the Depot, where refreshments will be provided. An oration will then be delivered by Judge Nash of Boston, and the Declaration of Independence read by Rev. S. Fletcher. The officers of the day are Charles H. Bell, Esq., President; Nath'l M. Jewell, Chief Marshal; Wm. B. Morrill, Esq., Toast Master.

The procession will consist of Fire and Military companies, a company of Continentals, Car of Beauty, representing the different states of the Union, Floral Procession, scholars, "citizens generally," &c. The ceremonies of the day will conclude with a display of Fireworks, in the evening, interspersed with music by the Boston Cornet Band, which will be in attendance during the day. G. P.

WAR.—The London Punch has a capital picture, representing John Bull and Brother Jonathan, as individuals. It is entitled—"Please return a favorable answer." Mr. Bull is extending his right hand to Jonathan with the words: "Come, Jonathan, why should we fight—am I not a man and a brother?" Jonathan is represented with his left hand in his breeches pocket, while his right hand is holding a lighted cigar, and it is quite evident from the expression of his features that he has to make quite an effort to withhold his assent to the considerate and hearty request of Mr. John Bull. We give below an extract from Punch on the war question;

A Challenge to America. — Let us quarrel, American kinsmen. Let us plunge into war. We have been friends too long. We have too highly promoted each others wealth and prosperity. We are too plethoric; we want depletion—to which end let us cut one another's throat.

Let us sink, burn, kill, and destroy—with mutual energy—sink each other's shipping, burn each other's arsenals, destroy each other's property at large. We will bombard your towns, and you shall bombard ours—if you can. Let us ruin each other's commerce as much as possible, and that will be a considerable some.

Let our banks break whilst we smite and slay one another; let our commercial houses smash right and left in the United States and United kingdom. Let us maim and mutilate one another; let us make of each other miserable objects, cripples, halt, and blind, adapted for the town's end, to beg during life.

Come, let us render the wives of each other widows, and the mothers childless, and cause them to weep rivers of tears, amounting to an important quantity of water privilege.

The bowl of wrath, the devil's punch-bowl, filled high, filled high as possible, share we with one another. This, with shot and bayonets, will be good in your insides and in my insides—in the insides of all of us brethren.

O, how good it is—O, how pleasant it is, for brethren to engage in internecine strife! What a glorious spectacle we Christian Anglo-Saxons, engaged in the work of mutual destruction—in the reciprocation of savage outrages—shall present to the despots and the fiends.

How many dollars will you spend; how many pounds sterling shall we? How much capital we shall sink on either side—on land as well as in the sea! How much we shall have to show for it in corpses and wooden legs!—never ask what other return we may expect for the investment.

THE COURTESIES OF SOUTHERN DEBATE.—The following extract from the speech of Hon. A. H. Stephens of Georgia, on the passage of the Nebraska bill, in the U. S. Senate, shows how courteous the chivalry was then,—how careful not to offend those members of Congress from the free states who were willing to do almost anything to save their party and to keep the Union from sliding—but who saw through the swindle, and knew their constituents would see through and condemn it—and who expected defeat at home in consequences.

Well, gentlemen, you make a good deal of clamor of the Nebraska measure, but it don't alarm us at all. We have got used to that kind of talk. You have threatened before, but you have never performed. You have always caved in, and you will again. You are a mouthing white-livered set. Of course you will oppose: we expect that; but we don't care for your opposition. You will rail, but we don't care for your railing. You will hiss, but so do adders. We expect it of adders, and we expect of you. You are like the devils that were pitched over the battlements of heaven into hell. They set up a howl of discomfiture and so will you. But their fate was sealed and so is yours. You must submit to the yoke, but don't chafe. Gentlemen, we have got you in our power. You tried to drive us to the wall in 1850, but times are changed. * * * * You went a wooling, and have come home fleeced. Don't be so impudent as to complain. You will only be slapped in the face. Don't resist. You will only be lashed into obedience.

☞ In New York, says the Mirror, while some workmen were engaged in excavating the cellar corner of Barclay and Washington street, they discovered a tremendous live eel, about six feet three inches in length. It is supposed to have been there since the place was filled in, many years ago.

Belgium has been one of the most intensely Roman Catholic countries in Europe—the tide appears to be turning in favor of Protestantism, the friends of the latter having fifteen mission stations, in which some four thousand persons are brought under Protestant influences and teaching.

WASHINGTON, June 28th.—Gen. Persifer Smith arrived here yesterday, and had an interview with the President, received his instructions, and left last evening direct for Kansas, where he is to take charge of the U. S. troops. Col. Sumner will remain where he is, and there is to be no change in affairs there, except to keep out invasions, come from what quarter they may.

☞ A man named Brown, about 28 years of age, was killed by lightning in North Hampton, od Sunday evening. He was standing in the doorway of his house at the time.

We learn that the deceased was a Mr Alfred Brown, son of Jere. Brown of Hampton; he was at the door of a Mr. Garland, in North Hampton, with a daughter of Mr. G. Both were struck down; but the young woman soon recovered from the shock.

A shower nearly at the same time, at Berwick, was accompanied with a violent wind, blowing down a barn and injuring some other buildings, trees, &c.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

COOL PLACE.—The 'heated term' which began on Sunday, and continued through Monday, will have the tendency to call up pleasant thoughts of cool places where to pass away the warm weather. To our taste, there is no better place on the whole coast than the Appledore House, kept by Hon. T. B. Laighton. His advertisement will be found in another colum. On Sunday at noon, the thermometer, at the Shoals stood at 68; in Portsmouth at the same time 96.

☞ The Strawberry Festival prepared by the ladies of the Middle Street Society, opens this evening, at Jefferson Hall. The Hall is tastefully trimmed, and presents a beautiful appearance—that is, it did last evening, with only a few young ladies present—but to-night, O to-night! The gentlemen of this Society are justly noted as uncommonly courteous to strangers visiting their church; but the ladies are vastly more court-cous than the men—especially as they have an object to attain—which in this case at least, is a most commendable one.

CONGRESS.

SATURDAY, June 28.

HOUSE.—Messrs. Howard and Sherman of the Kansas Investigating Committee have arrived. The House resumed the consideration of the Kansas Bill. Mr. Stevens of Georgia intimated a desire to offer a substitute, which was discussed; he said the pending bill admitted on its face that the Topeka constitution was formed against law and order. He was inclined to think that the real object of this movement was not so much to get Kansas into the Union as a free state, as to kindle the fires of civil war in the country.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio, in the course of his reply to Mr. Stevens said that he could prove that Jefferson denied the constitutional power to acquire territory, and could produce the original manuscript of a letter written by Jefferson a few years before his death, in which he not only approved of the Missouri Compromise, but in express terms admitted the power of Congress to exclude slavery.—This letter he intended to have lithographed to accompany his speech. He denied that the Kansas Nebraska bill carried out the provisions of the Compromise measures of 1850, arguing the constitutionality and expediency of excluding slavery from the territories.

Messrs. Campbell and Stephens repeatedly interrupted each other for explanations regarding the controverted points in slavery.

Mr. Evans of Maryland was in favor of admitting Kansas as soon as practicable without regard to the number of inhabitants, provided a fair election could be had. He would send thither Gen. Scott to secure such a result. He contended that popular sovereignty was an egregious error, because no people could exercise sovereign power till they had acquired complete jurisdiction over the soil.

Mr. Morrill contended that the administration must be held responsible for present agitation, and argued against the extension of slavery into the territories.

Mr. Dunn of Indiana, expressing a wish to strike down what was left of present disturbances and restore things to where they were previous to the Kansas Nebraska act, offered an amendment substantially to restore the Missouri Compromise.

Mr. Grow moved the previous question.

Mr. Walker made an unsuccessful motion to adjourn, and then to lay the bill upon the table, which was negatived, 104 to 70.

The demand for the previous question was sustained by 90 against 63. The main question was then ordered, that the bill be first in order on Monday. Adjourned.

COMING BACK. — Some excitement was created in New York by the telegraphic despatches from New Orleans, announcing that the Illinois was on her way to that port, with nine hundred passengers. Not a word being said about the action of the Vigilance Committee, the conjecture is, that the Illinois brings back a large number of loafers, rowdies, pick-pockets and gamblers, who were on the proscribed list of the Committee at San Fransisco,

"I SEE THEM ON THEIR WINDING WAY."—The Lowell News of the 27th says, about two hundred persons from this city went to Concord, Mass., to-day, on summons to attend before the Grand Jury and testify in liquor cases. A part of the company went in carriages, accompanied by the Lowell Brass Band. They took a tent along with them, together with a large supply of liquor, apparently with the intention of getting too drunk to testify. A detachment of Lowell police have also gone to Concord in obedience to a summons from Sheriff Keyes, who is to have a heavy squad of officers on the ground to prevent disturbance. It is quite probable that if this army of King Alcohol does not train very soberly and discreetly while in Concord, they will find themselves in a worse place than attending the Grand Jury as witnesses.

LIQUOR ON THE FAMILY TABLE.

To the women of the land, whose refined customs, less exposed manner of life, pure and uncorrupted morals, and natural predilections in favor of the Right, present an almost impregnable bulwark to the encroachments of Vice, we have, in the hour of trial, been accustomed to look as the palladium of our hopes. Their hearts we knew were right; their actions were not biased by hopes of political aggrandizement; and their almost unlimited moral influence is not to be swerved from its proper course by any of those mercenary considerations which affect the sterner sex.

But do our fair readers ever consider how much they are contributing, innocently perhaps, but none the less potently, to a spread of the unnatural appetite for intoxicating liquors which has proved one of the most dangerous elements of crime in our community? Does that fond mother, as she watches the downward steps of her idolized son, whom in agony she sees fast approaching the vortex of irretrievable ruin, ever dream that she first implanted within him the seed of habit which has grown to be a tree of evil?

The family table is the earliest nursery of mind, character, and disposition. At its sacred shrine, plastic youth receives those first impressions, which in after years harden, and develope the character of manhood. The lessons there taught are indelible, and rarely effaced from the memory.

What, then, must be the responsibility of that mother who teaches her child the first lesson of intemperance, by tickling its infant palate with pies, puddings, sauces and sweetmeats, highly flavored with wines and brandies? Does she not know that she is stimulating an appetite which must in time become uncontrolable; that she is, perhaps, taking upon herself the fearful responsibility of a soul utterly lost?

We shall hail as a most gratifying feature of the progressive Temperance Reform, a general determination on the part of the women of this State to abandon the use of liquor in any form upon the family table.—Saratogian.

ALMOST DOWN.—The railing of the balcony on which Col. Fremont stood when his N. Y. friends called him out, last Wednesday evening, suddenly broke and fell to the ground. If Col. F. had been leaning over an inch further, he would doubtless have fallen. He had a narrow escape, together with several gentlemen who stood near him. After he had withdrawn, the crowd insisted upon seeing Mrs. Fremont, calling out loudly for "Jessie!" she having been Miss Jessie Benton when a maid. At this rate, Col. Fremont will get into the condition of Prof. Stow, and he only known as the husband of his wife!—Eastern Argus.

Mr. Buchanan seems to be in no danger of getting into a similar condition.

WALKING ON RAILROAD TRACKS.—A lamentable accident occurred on the Erie Railroad near Sloatsburg, about 38 miles from New York, on Friday evening, 6 o'clock, whereby two young girls lost their lives, and another was badly injured. The three girls, who were all between the ages of 12 and 14 years, were returning home from work, walking on the eastern track. When near the Sloatsburg station they observed a freight train coming East, and immediatly crossed over to the other track. From the noise made by this train they did not hear the approach of a train going West, and before they were aware of their fearful situation they were struck by the cow-catcher, went under, and the cars passed over them. Their names were Acker, Wilson, and Merritt. Miss Wilson was instantly killed. Her skull was fractured, and one of her arms completely servered from her body. Miss Acker was picked up alive, but died within a short time. Miss Merritt will recover.

THE STRAWBERRY CROP in this part of the country has been nearly all gathered. It matured very rapidly after its first appearance in the market, so that the season has been unusually short; and on account of the large quantities of this fruit which it was necessary to force upon the market, low prices prevailed, and the cultivator has received but a partial remuneration. A considerable portion of the crop has perished on the vines, from the impossibility of gathering it as fast as it ripened, during the late severely "heated term." One of the largest producers has brought to market 60,000 baskets, for which about $2,300 was realized. With more favorable weather, he calculated upon a crop of 100,000 baskets, and an income of $4,500.—N. Y. Jour of Com.

HYDE PARK, PA., June 28.— Murder. — Wm. P. Stephens, Justice of the Peace at this place, was shot dead this afternoon near here whilst riding in a carriage. N. N. Jones, who was with him at the time, says he was so frightened that he did not stop to look at the murderer. The deceased leaves a family.

EMIGRATION FROM NORWAY TO THE UNITED STATES.—The Algemeine Zeitung states: "The emigration from Norway to the United States is very considerable this year. Several large ships from different ports of Norway, with full cargoes of emigrants, have left for America. The Bark Juno, of Bergen, sailed a few days ago with 130 passengers. Seven other ships, with 1500 emigrants, will leave this port for the United States shortly.—"Several of these persons have left behind good farms, and the emigration fever in some parts of Norway is so great that the value of property has fallen considerably."

WASHINGTON, June 29. — Mr. Oliver of Missouri having returned, all the members of the Kansas Investigating Commission are now in this city. Messrs. Sherman and Howard have just completed their report, which will probably be submitted to the House to-morrow.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Capt. Decrow, aged about 68 years, one of our old and respected citizens, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon (26th) in the store of his son on Central street. He was in good health up to a few minutes before six o'clock, when he suddenly put his hands to his head and fell senseless to the floor.—Bangor Whig.

THE MORMON CASE IN NEW YORK.—The Englishman, Jervis, who has followed his wife and children to this country, to reclaim the latter, so that they should not join the Mormons, has made up with his wife, and withdrawn a writ of habeas corpus. The Court granted the request, on condition that the children were not to be removed out of its jurisdiction.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece cr breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

WHALEBONE SKIRTS

Please Notice—None genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OVER TWO MILLION ACRES

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Gales'ph on the north-west, in the north-western part of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and from many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That the cost of the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security for the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the profit price will be reduced for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set upon ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Old Stand! New Stock!
MEDICAL CARD.
HAVING located myself at, and assumed the entire charge of the Apothecary Store, so long occupied by Doct. Samuel Hutchings—and recently occupied by William H. Foster—I am prepared to furnish from a new and recently selected Stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, &c., &c., every article usually called for at an Apothecary's.
That I may disabuse an impression many are said to, and others naturally enough may entertain, viz: That a Stand so antiquated—so long occupied for one particular branch of business—must necessarily contain a Stock made up of "Green Earthern Pots, bladders, and Musty Seeds, Remnants of pack thread, and old cakes of roses," &c. &c., I beg to assure them, and through them, my friends and the public generally, that the past few weeks have found me busy in removing from the premises all stale, flat, and unprofitable materials—and in the mean time their places supplied from selections made by myself, with pure, fresh, and unadulterated Medicines. With such—and such only—I shall endeavor to be supplied hereafter.
To the above I have also added a choice assortment of articles for the Toilet—consisting of Hair Oils, Soaps, Cologne; Hair, Teeth, Nail and other brushes, &c. &c
PATENT MEDICINES—of such as are really valuable and popular—constantly on hand.
Articles called for, not on hand, ordered and supplied at the shortest notice
Physicians Prescriptions will ever receive all the care and attention, in their composition, which their importance demands.
The patronage of all disposed to bestow it, is respectfully solicited. J. N. M HILL,
Druggist & Apothecary,

Wanted a Good Coat Maker.

Chilson's New Cone Furnace,
(Presenting a cluster of Cones over the fire.)
JUST completed and Patented in America, England and France.
UNPARALLELED ECONOMY IN FUEL!
Retaining and holding the smoke and gases in a cluster of Cones, exposed to the reflected rays of heat acting on the tapering surface of the Cones—not unlike the action of the sun on a sun glass,—thus rays of heat and light being brought to a focus in each cone. A perfect remedy for the present enormous waste of heat carried off in the chimney.
The subscriber has been appointed Sole Agent for the sale of the above Furnaces in this city and vicinity, and the several sizes may be seen at his Store, No. 46 Market st, Portsmouth.

Republican Hot-Air Cooking Range.
THIS Range differs from all others in the market in the construction of its flues around the Oven, and from this result its chief advantages.
This range has an extra amount of radiating service in the Hot-Air Fixtures connected with it. The Hot Water Fixtures are conveniently arranged, and sure to give satisfaction. No other Range has heavier castings where the parts are exposed to the fire.
Those purchasing Ranges should look well to the draught around the Oven, as the main thing, if they would secure evenness and quickness in baking, and economy in Fuel.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 2, 1856.

THE ARGUMENT.

The New York Mirror, in speaking of temperance and prohibition, says:

So far from prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors, they have wiped from the statute books the provisions which regulated its traffic. * * * The history of the whole movement is but another example of the fundamental principle, that vice and folly can never be eradicated by direct and severe attack. The vituperations of the virtuous, the thunders of the law, do not win man from their darling vices. The harshness and stringency of legal enactments defeat the ends for which laws are made.

There is a mixture of truth and fallacy in these statements, which might amuse if it were new, or puzzle, if it were not too weak. Put into another form, and applied to another vice, they might read thus. Men and women are not to be made pure and chaste upon compulsion—lewdness cannot be eradicated by vituperation from the preacher and the moralist—therefore, there should be no laws against adultery and fornication—but only a wholesome law of licensed regulations.

The Mirror goes on to say:

No instance is more thoroughly in point than the superstition of witchcraft, which defied every form of severity and reproof, and waxed strong in proportion to the harshness of the penalties inflicted. It was not until the laws against witchcraft were abolished that witchcraft ceased. What the thunders of the Vatican, the outrages of the Conventicle, and the terrors of the Stake, could not destroy, expired of sheer inanition when left to itself.

Never was there a more unfortunate allusion. The thunders of the Vatican, outrages of the Conventicle and terrors of the Stake, were not directed against the superstition or belief of witchcraft—but against persons, who were either accused of witchcraft, or who pretended to divination. Those who undertook to suppress witchcraft by penal laws, were not fighting against superstition. On the contrary, they most superstitiously supposed that they were fighting against the devil, by hanging, burning, or drowning those unfortunate people whom they deemed his servants.

There is no imaginable parallel between the laws against witchcraft, and those against intemperance.

Once more: In New-England, certainly, the cessation of the witchcraft delusion was not consequent upon a change of laws.—The prosecution of witches threatened to find victims in the family of one who had been active in urging on the delusion—and the efforts of Moodey, Willard, and some other men of sound mind made the great movement pause! The public mind slowly awoke from the dream,—and the change of laws followed, some time after.

We do not say that intemperance, like witchcraft, would die out if left to itself; but we believe it will yield only to social progress and the amelioration of a higher and more humanizing civilization. That kind of philanthrophy which persecutes the offender, puts him on the defensive, and createst hat sympathy which we feel for even the most abandoned malefactor.

Witchcraft did not die out in New England—there was nothing of the sort to die.—The delusion notion that people were bewitched was what died.

Lastly, we always feel pity for the poor drunkard, when the law punishes him—as he is not only an offender, but a victim. But we cannot say quite so much for the man who victimized him, when he gets brought up with a round turn.

PACIFIC NEWS.—The news from England, by the arrival of the North American, is important, comprising the satisfactory intelligence that the difficulty with the United States would probably be settled amicably, and that Mr. Dallas would not be dismissed. The matter was brought before the House of Lords on the 14th, when the ministry gave assurance of peace,—and the funds rose in the market.—These two Anglo-Saxon nations do not wish to fight each other. So mote it be. Let the people plant corn.

SAFE RECOVERED.—The safe of the Atlantic, which was sunk with that vessel about four years ago on Lake Erie, has at last been recovered by the company recently employed in that behalf. The safe, it will be recollected, belonged to the American Express Company, and contained considerable money.

FIRE.—June 29, at Yarmouth, Me., the old Jenks' house and a stable connected with it, were burnt. The Congregational church caught, but was extinguished with the loss of the spire. The academy and several of the surrounding buildings were on fire at different times, but were finally saved.

FIRE AT NASHUA.—A fire broke out in one of the largest factories in Nashua, on Tuesday. When the cars left Concord in the afternoon, the report was in circulation that the mill and nine dwelling had been destroyed, and the fire still raging. The wind was blowing a gale.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.—The following extract from a private letter received in Salem, (says the Salem Register,) from a very intelligent and highly respectable clergyman, well known to many of our citizens, may be relied upon as truthful and unexaggerated. When such testimony is given by men whom we know and can trust, who can doubt that the outrages committed have been aggravated and intolerable? The clergyman says, in a letter dated at Lawrence, K. T., June 12;—

"I do not know how it would have been possible for us to have gone through the last year, had it not been for the kindness and liberality of Eastern friends, some of whom were total strangers, or nearly so. May that God who loveth the cheerful giver reward you an hundred fold for your labor of love.

I trust we shall not always be in our present condition here. Just now we are subject to all kinds of robbery—some have been robbed of nearly all they possessed by the invading U. S. posse. I have already suffered to the amount of three hundred dollars, within a month—a valuable horse and other things—and when remonstrating and endeavoring to save my property, I narrowly escaped being hung.

The half of what has been done here within a month, and under the protection of U. S. law, will never be known East. It could not be believed if told; and yet we are determined to hold on to the end. We need not only the aid of the East, but their prayers."

This calm and plain statement from a sufferer, in whose veracity implicit confidence may be placed, (says the Register,) will outweigh all the sneers and scoffs of doubters, and add another proof to the already irrefutable mass of testimony that the sympathies of the people in behalf of oppressed Kansas are not misplaced.

LATEST FROM KANSAS.—A Chicago dispatch of June 30, says:

Gentlemen arrived from Kansas, report concerning the disarming of the Chicago Company at Lexington, that from 300 to 500 Missourians and South Carolinians, who had been driven from Kansas with some citizens of Lexington, gathered at the landing, armed with cannon, and threatened to fire on the boat if their demand was not complied with. Under these circumstances the captain of the steamer insisted upon the delivery of the arms as the only way to prevent the destruction of the boat.

Another dispatch from St. Louis states that when the disarmed party reached Weston, Mo., they were all arrested and conducted by a guard, consisting of a large party of South Carolinians, and would be landed at Alton, Illinois. It is naively added—"and being unarmed, there is no danger of conflict."

MR. DOUGLAS'S NEW KANSAS BILL.—The Boston Advertiser's special correspondent says the new Kansas bill reported in the Senate by Mr. Douglas is a rehash of Geyer's and Toombs's bills, and evades the duty of immediately effecting a radical cure. It proposes a future convention to form a constitution, which will be just as likely to be again controlled by Missourians. It is an ingenious fraud, designed to hoodwink the people for the Presidential campaign.

The editor of the Advertiser says "this bill omits one feature of his former Enabling bill, viz. it concedes the point that Kansas must not be admitted as a State unless it has 93,000 inhabitants. In other respects, the new bill appears from the account we have of it, to be an improvement."

☞ We have just received from the publishers, J. M. Emerson & Co. New York, a copy of a very large and handsome Monthly, of 96 pages, entitled the United States Magazine for July, 1856, new series, No. 1. It contains likenesses of McLean, Douglas and Walker, with many other illustrations, and much curious and valuable matter.

THE SPEECH.—A. Williams & Co. (successors to Fetridge & Co.) Boston, have sent us, The Speech of Charles Sumner, for which he was stricken down in the Senate Chamber at Washington. This is a fine pamphlet edition of 94 pages,—and is for sale by J. F. Shores, jr., of this city.

☞ No business of importance was transacted by the N. H. Legislature on Monday. A short session only was held, in the afternoon.

☞ A large lot of Machinist's Tools and Machinery is offered for sale at Newburyport. The attention of all interested is called to the advertisement in another column.

ARRESTS.—The Boston Traveller of Monday says for the forty-eight hours ending this morning, 164 persons were arrested by the Police of that city, of whom 49 were minors. Nearly all of them were foreigners.

BELL RINGING.—The New York Mirror is down upon the ringing of the Church Bells, in cities, on the plea that it injures the sick.—It says:

In country villages, where congregations are scattered, and where time-pieces regulate themselves, "the sound of the church-going bell" echoes harmlessly and pleasantly through hill and valley.

But we earnestly protest against this everlasting ding-dong in large cities; and respectfully suggest the passage of an ordinance for the entire suppression of bell-ringing except in cases of fire, invasion, Fourth of July celebrations, and other public calamities.

The Revue Franco Italieune reports a terrible event having occurred recently at Bolzanmo, in the Italian Tyrol. A schoolboy of the town school threw a stone at a peacock belonging to the master, and killed it. The father of the child came forward voluntarily to pay the value of the bird. But the two masters, who were priests, determined that the child must nevertheless receive exemplary chastisement. At a moment when all the scholars were gone out for a walk, the "murderer" of the peacock was detained and beaten till his back was broken; he died on the spot. The father who was sent for by the people who heard the cries of the child, came at once to the school, and seeing his infant dead, fell upon the two priests and killed them by repeated stabs with a knife.

EXAMINATION OF BROOKS.—Washington, June 30th.—Brooks appeared this morning at the Criminal Court, accompanied by Messrs. Orr and Keitt. The witnesses were discharged until further notice, in consequence of the District Attorney receiving a note from Mr. Sumner, stating that his physician did not think it prudent for him to attend at present, owing to the condition of his health.

NEW YORK, July 1st.—The Washington correspondent of the Courier and Enquirer telegraphs that Gen. P. Smith has gone to Kansas with stringent orders to prevent the emigration of Free State men with arms.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it: if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ The Strawberry Festival, last evening, was one of the most pleasant of social gatherings—agreeable to all visitors, as the rush of visitors must have been to the managers. Old Jefferson Hall never looked better, filled as it was with a lively host of 'the lovely and the brave,' and prettily trimmed (the Hall we mean) with flags, pictures, evergreen and flowers. The company enjoyed themselves hugely, discussing strawberries, ice creams, and other delicacies, interspersed with the topics of the day,—and broke up when they got ready; adjourning till this afternoon, and to meet also this evening. The Quadrille Band furnished very acceptable music.

☞ The alarm of fire on Tuesday forenoon was caused by the burning of a pile of wood, belonging to F. W. Rogers, on the Concord Railroad, back of the Steam Factory. The fire was caused by a spark from a locomotive. The damage is small, though a shed against which one end of the wood pile rested, was considerably scorched.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.—We are to have no celebration, in Portsmouth, unless on private account.

At Exeter there is to be a public celebration, commencing with a display of Border Ruffians or Fantastics, at 5 o'clock in the morning; with a Procession at 10, a Collation in a beautiful grove, speeches, &c., and fireworks in the evening.

Mr. Diman, at Highland Cottage, Stratham, will entertain a goodly crowd during the day, and spread bounteous tables for a grand Pic-Nic in his green-house at 5 P. M.

At Manchester, imposing and appropriate ceremonies will be observed at the laying of the corner stone of our N. H. State Reform School, by the Free Masons.

At Concord a great Fremont ratification meeting is to be held, and addressed by Messrs. Hannibal Hamlin and Lot M. Morrill, the distinguished seceding Democrats, from Maine, among others.

These are all the celebrations we hear of in this part of the State.

In Massachusetts, at Haverhill and Marblehead, considerable preparation is being made for a "time."

Maine won't shout much.

"HUSBAND, COME WITH ME."

These are the simple, yet affecting words, that were uttered by a female, as she forced her way through the crowd that had assembled on Main street in the city of Concord a few months since, to her drunken husband.—It was at the time of a great political meeting, thousands of strangers were present, spirituous liquors were freely offered for sale, and he had imbibed the sparkling poison to such an extent that his reason for the time was almost dethroned, and there he was upon the sidewalk, with hundreds gazing upon him with intense interest, and listening to his demoniacal ravings and aberrations. But his wife had not forgotten him, she whom he had taken at the hymeneal altar and sworn to love and honor, came to his rescue, and led him away with feelings of tenderness and affection, regardless of the jeers and shouts of those who surrounded her on every side. Oh! could the rumseller who sold him that which is fast carrying him to the dishonored drunkard's grave, have been there and witnessed the scene, he would certainly have had compassion for the victim's wife and family, if but a single spark of humanity remained within his hardened soul. And when we see such events constantly transpiring before us, we are led to enquire how long shall these things continue? and to pray that God "who doeth all things well," will come quickly and arrest the hand of the tempter, ere he lays waste the fairest prospects of society.

DAMAGE BY THE WIND.—At about 6 o'clock Monday evening, a violent tempest of wind and rain passed over Salem and vicinity, accompanied by some hail and thunder.—At South Danvers, the steeple of the New Baptist church, the raising of which was scarcely finished, was blown down, and the building badly wrenched. It injured a neighboring house somewhat in falling.

In Salem, the trees were considerably injured, some of them being torn up by the roots, and others badly broken. In South Salem a barn was entirely demolished and chimneys blown down.—Traveller.

FROM EUROPE.

QUEBEC, June 30.

The Canadian screw steamship North American, from Liverpool on the 18th June, arrived at this port this evening.

The American difficulty is likely to be settled amicably, and Mr. Dallas not be dismissed.

The Funds rose slightly in consequence.

In the House of Lords, on Monday evening, the 16th, the Earl of Clarendon stated in reply to the Earl of Derby, that it was not the intention of the government to advise her Majesty to suspend Diplomatic relations with the United States. This announcement was received with loud cheers.

The Earl of Derby expressed his satisfaction at the statement, but he regarded the course taken by the government as humiliating, and acknowledging that they had been in error.

Clarendon appealed to the House not to join the Earl of Derby in pressing the question, and the subject was then dropped.

Consols closed at 94 1-4 a 94 5 8.

In the Liverpool Cotton market on Monday the sales amounted to 12,000 bales, of which speculators took 5000, at prices 1-3d higher than the closing rates of the previous Friday. On Tuesday the market became dull, the business being restricted to 5000 bales, and the quotations receded to those current on Friday.

In breadstuffs a slight improvement had taken place in some articles. Corn is called 1 a 2s higher. Western Canal Flour is quoted at 38s, Philadelphia 36 a 37s.

The state of trade in Manchester, and the manufacturing districts, was improving.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, June 30.

SENATE.—Mr. Douglas, from the Committee on Territories, made a voluminous report on Kansas matters.

It contains an elaborate argument in favor of the bill accompanying the report, which provides for the appointment of five Commissioners to be selected by the President from different sections of the Union, &c., as before stated.

Mr. Douglas gave notice that he would ask for a vote on the bill on Wednesday.

Several private bills were passed. Adj.

HOUSE.—Mr. Grow made the closing speech in favor of the admission of Kansas.

Mr. Stephens moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Territories, with instructions to report instead thereof the substitute which he had offered, providing for the appointment of five persons by the President, to make an enumeration of the inhabitants of the territory, and an apportionment of districts, with the view of electing a Convention for the formation of the State Constitution, &c.

Mr. Dunn moved as an amendment that the Committee be required to report a bill restoring the Missouri Compromise.

The amendment was adopted by seven majority, viz. 110 to 103.

The motion to recommit with instructions as amended, was voted down, only two voting in the affirmative, Messrs. Dunn and Harrison.

A motion to recommit, without instructions, was also rejected by 101 yeas against 109 nays.

Mr. Jones, of Tenn., moved to lay the bill upon the table. Negatived by one majority.

The main question was then taken on the passage of the bill, and the bill was rejected by one majority, viz. 106 to 107.

[The N. H. members voted for the bill—as did all from New England, except Fuller from Me., who voted against the bill, and one absentee from Massachusetts.]

The result was greeted by clapping of hands and vociferations of joy by the opponents of the bill, while its friends exhibited signs of disappointment.

Amid the confusion the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The regular correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, under date of Washington, Monday evening, June 30, says:

The bill for the admission of Kansas, was defeated in the House to-day, by the union of Messrs. Haven, Harrison, Dunn, Broome, Valk, Wheeler, Whitney, and all the Northern Fillmore men, with the Administration party. Every other professed opponent of the Administration from the North, voted for the bill.

The object of these Fillmore men is to make a better pro-slavery record at the South than the Buchanan men enjoy, with the view of carrying the Southern States for Fillmore. This is the secret of their treachery to their constituencies to-day.

An effort to reconsider the vote to-morrow is contemplated. Its success is doubtful.

The editor of the Advertiser says this news is "unexpectedly bad."—It adds:

The passage of the bill by the Senate was of course problematical; but that it should fail in the House, when pressed to a vote, is mortifying.

The Northern Fillmore men took this occasion to indicate their opposition to the admission of Kansas as a Free State.

We cannot help hoping that the reconsideration will prevail. If the members named would regard either the wishes of their particular constituents, or the interests of the country at large, they could not hesitate a moment to give their support to the bill. The friends of Mr. Fillmore put his cause in a most uncomfortable position by their opposition to the bill, and incur a fearful responsibility. The change of a single vote will save the bill.

The unbroken front, now as always presented by the representatives from the Slave States, is worthy of notice.

All the affirmative vote is thrown by the free States, which also throw 23 negative votes.

The Slave States of themselves threw but 80 votes, but were assisted to reject the bill by the Northern democrats and Fillmore men.

The only New England vote against the bill was Mr. Fuller, democrat, of Maine.

If any body wishes to see how the Fillmore movement is viewed in Louisiana, we refer him to the following item which we cut from the Baton Rouge Gazette, bearing the nomination of Fillmore & Donelson.

No sane man at the South can oppose the election of the nominees of the American party, unless indeed, he be allied with the Black Republicans of the North.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

WHALEBONE SKIRTS

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E. & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Dunleith, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, also afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivation and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crops of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first year, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield of the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and good fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that independently of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. Hauling not only the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market, and the expense, for every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their produce, and thus lessens their precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract, the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's constructions of the contract will be received as

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany purchasers to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State, also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,

Cochecho Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

THE subscriber having been appointed Agent for the above named Company, will receive applications for Insurance of Real or Personal Estate. The risks are divided into Three Classes, viz: 1st, or Farm Class; 2d, or Village Class; 3d, or Union Class. The average assessment in the Farm Class from April 1850 (the time of the Classification) to Jan. 1856, has been less than 1 of 1 per cent. annually on the amount insured. In the Village Class for the same the average yearly assessment has been less than 1 10 of 1 per cent. on the amount insured. In the 3d, or Union Class, from Oct. 1846 to Jan. 1856, the (yearly) average of assessments has been less than 1-6 of 1 per cent. on the amount insured.

Old Stand! New Stock!
MEDICAL CARD.
HAVING located myself at, and assumed the entire charge of the Apothecary Store, so long occupied by Doct. Samuel Hutchings—and recently occupied by William H. Foster—I am prepared to furnish from a new and recently selected Stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, &c., &c., every article usually called for at an Apothecary's.
That I may disabuse an impression many are said to, and others naturally enough may entertain, viz: That a Stand so antiquated—so long occupied for one particular branch of business—must necessarily contain a Stock made up of "Green Earthern Pots, bladders, and Musty Seeds, Remnants of pack thread, and old cakes of roses," &c. &c., I beg to assure them, and through them, my friends and the public generally, that the past few weeks have found me busy in removing from the premises all stale, flat, and unprofitable materials—and in the same time their places supplied from selections made by myself, with pure, fresh, and unadulterated Medicines. With such—and such only—I shall endeavor to be supplied hereafter.
To the above I have also added a choice assortment of articles for the Toilet—consisting of Hair Oils, Soaps, Cologne; Hair, Teeth, Nail and other brushes, &c. &c
PATENT MEDICINES—of such as are really valuable and popular—constantly on hand.
Articles called for, not on hand, ordered and supplied at the shortest notice
Physicians Prescriptions will ever receive all the care and attention in their composition, which their importance demands.
The patronage of all disposed to bestow it, is respectfully solicited. J. N. M HILL,

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1856.

A FIELD FOR MISSIONARIES.—The New York Sun suggests that missionaries be sent out to christianize Utah. This is a good suggestion. We have Utah now knocking at our doors to be admitted into the Union, and before long we shall have to take her in with all her pagan practices, for notwithstanding the Anti-Mormon plank of the 'Republican' platform, Congress cannot constitutionally make any "law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." Why not then send missionaries to Salt Lake to christianize them before they are republicanized? We send them to the antipodes to convert heathens, and here we have the heathens at our very doors.

There are many fallacies in the above item. The first we shall notice is, that if Utah knocks at the door of the Union, we shall have to take her in. There is no such thing in the book. New States may be admitted—not shall be.—The only shall about the matter, is the will of the people or of Congress. The latter made the State of Maine wait a while, till they could bring in Missouri as a slave state, by the side of Maine.

It is true that Congress can make no laws about religion:—but then polygamy is not religion—and a law against polgamy would not violate the Constitution in this respect, any more than do the laws against mail robbery, piracy or murder.

If anybody should get up a church where murder is a sacrament, and theft a daily duty, and then build a State whose politics should include these beautiful planks in its platform—we think Congress would not infringe the Constitution by keeping such a "mother of harlots" and robbers out of the Union till doomsday.

HISTORICAL.— We see a political party presenting candidates for the Presidency and the Vice Presidency, selected for the first time from the free States alone, with the avowed purpose of electing these candidates by suffrages of one part of the Union to rule over the whole United States.

The above extract, taken from a report of Mr. Fillmore,s speech at Albany, is historically inaccurate. In 1828, the National Republican ticket contained the names of John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, and Richard Rush, of Pennsylvania.

The Democratic ticket, in 1828, was from the slave States, vis: Andrew Jackson, of Tennessee, and John C. Calhoun, of South Carolina. In 1824, John C. Calhoun was a candidate for the Vice Presidency on tickets with three Presidential candidates from the slave States, vis; Andrew Jackson, Wm. H. Crawford, of Georgia, and Henry Clay.

FIRE IN CAMBRIDGEPORT.—At about half-past eleven o'clock on Tuesday night a fire broke out in the extensive lumber yard of Gale, Dudley & Co., situated on Main street. The large stock of lumber in the yard was mostly consumed. From thence the flames spread to a store and stable, which were consumed, with hay, &c., Engine No. 2 of Cambridge, having been placed on the wharf, had to be abandoned from the sudden spread of the flames, and the firemen were compelled to jump into the dock to save their lives. The engine was destroyed. Several buildings on the opposite side of the street took fire from the intense heat, but were extinguished. A number of engines from Boston and neighboring towns were present, and rendered efficient aid in checking the fire. The illumination was grand, and attracted large crowds to the scene of disaster. The fire was probably the work of an incendiary.

NASHUA, July 1.—About 5 minutes after the bell rang for dinner, and after the operatives had left, a fire broke out in the spinning room of No. 1 mill of the Nashua Corporation, and in an incredible short space of time it was entirely destroyed. The sweeper who remained in the mill, made her escape upon the roof of the additional part, from which she fell to the ground, and was fatally injured. Had the fire occurred while the mill was in operation, the operatives in the room above would inevitably have perished. The wind was very high, and the fire caught in many places remote from the mill. On High and School streets, some dozen tenements, including two stores, occupied and principally owned by Irish, were destroyed. Generally insured. One or two buildings south of Pearl street, were also destroyed. The loss of the corporation was $200,000, upon which there was insurance for about $100,000.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—A riot occurred at the Fillmore demonstration in this city last night, during which Mayor Magruder and several of the police were attacked with stones and bludgeons. The Mayor was badly injured, the mob following him more than a mile, with cries of "kill him! kill him!" The mob was finally dispersed, and one or two arrests made.

The widow of Keating, who was murdered at Washington by Herbert, Democratic member of Congress from California, died of grief a few days since, making Herbert's crime a double murder. What name shall be given to those who shield him from deserved punishment?—Boston Chronicle.

REQUIRED BY HUMANITY.—A petition is in circulation among the physicians of Boston asking the city authorities to suppress the noise usually made on the night before the Fourth of July, on account of its injurious effect upon the sick.

STATE CONVENTIONS.—In Maine, at Bangor, on the 1st inst., the Democratic and strait Whig conventions met. Gov. Wells was renominated by the former; and George F. Patten nominated by the latter. Of this last it is said, "the action of the convention was eminently national and adverse to the Republicans."

In Massachusetts, at Springfield on the 1st. the American Convention met.

The Committee on Credentials reported 104 towns, represented by 523 delegates.

The informal vote on Presidential preference was as follows:—Whole No. 455; J. C. Fremont 222, Millard Fillmore 219, Robert F. Stockton 1, N. P. Banks 6.

After the Convention adjourned, 100 Fillmore men organised a separate Fillmore convention, and ratified the nomination of Mr Donelson as Vice President.

The regular convention, or that part of it which did not bolt, nominated a board of electors, to vote for Fremont and Johnston.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.— The July number of the North American Review is laid on our table by the editor. It has a rich, attractive and varied table of contents. It contains twelve articles from as many different writers. The opening article is a splendid paper on "The Character of Washington," in review of Washington Irving's three volumes. Article II is quite an interesting paper on "Damascus," in review of an English work. Article III is a notice of "Bond's Genealogies of Watertown." Article IV is on "Plato in History." Article V is a suggestive and valuable paper on "The Present and Future of American Art." Article VI treats of "Prescott as a Historian," in a worthy manner. Article VII, on "The Literature of Friendship," is a grand contribution on a theme which deserves more attention than it has yet received. Article VIII is a treatise on the rival "Routes to India." Article IX, on "Surgical and Medical Miscellanies," is a review of Dr. George Haywood's work. "Motley's Dutch Republic" is reviewed in article X. The Memoir of Thomas H. Perkins, and Freeman Hunt's "Lives of Eminent Merchants," are the text to article XI. "The American Expedition to Japan," is considered in article XII. Besides these papers, twenty pages are devoted to reveiws of new books, etc. The North American is having quite a large accession of new subscribers from various quarters, and under its present editor, is fast attaining its true position at the very head of American periodical literature, not only in ability and character, but in power and influence. It is published by Crosby, Nichols & Co, Boston; and is furnished to subscribers, by J. H. Foster of Portsmouth.

PERSONAL, DECIDEDLY.—The San Francisco Bulletin, the editor of which, James King, has just been murdered for his unflinching expose of villains in that city, is now edited by a brother of the late editor. In his salutatory article, he pitches into "the powers that be," thus—they having been foisted into their offices by cheating at the ballot-box.

We would ask: Who now fills the responsible position of Judge of the Court of Sessions? T. W. Freelon—whom the eyes of the whole community rest on with suspicion. Does not Mayor Van Ness still occupy the Recorder's chair, to collude, compound, and connive at crime? Is not District Attorney Byrne still in a position to aid Bill Lewis in escaping the punishment he so richly merits? Does not David Scannel—who dare not disobey the commands of Joe Palmer—still hold the keys of your jail? Oh! the corrupt hounds! Can they not see the people repudiate their past acts? Have they no shame? Why do they not resign their positions obtained by fraud?

The Bulletin is also out upon "the political gambling bank of Palmer, Cook & Co, that sink of iniquity;" and calls the firm, 'cold-blooded, heartless villains."

"INDEPENDENCE."—The editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, (who was recently murdered by another editor, for commenting upon the corruption so rife in California,) said in his prospectus that "Whatever may be our political bias individually, as conductor o this paper, we shall act indepedently of either of the political parties that now divide the State. By being independent of either party, however, we by no means intend a neutrality or indifference to public affairs; but in all matters of public interest we shall advocate such measures as may seem to us best for the public good."—That is just it—and in so doing, "either party" or any person that gets hit, cries out— stick to your neutrality.

A NEW HAMPSHIRE COW.—Benjamin Bedell, of Bath, N. H., says, in the Exeter News-Letter:

I have what I call a good cow, 7 years old last spring. She gives the following quantity of milk that is rich and good. Quantity given in the morning 19 pounds; at night 27 lbs.—making 46 lbs. in one day. The said cow was turned out to grass the 15th of May and has had nothing but what she has got in the pasture since she calved, the 20th of April.

☞ A new barn, hardly completed, belonging to Mr. J. H. Prescott, of Epping, was blown down on Monday night—injuring a quantity of sleighs, and other goods stored there.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it. If you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ Manny's Improved Mowing Machine, which gained the highest premium at the great Show in Paris, — was put into the grass at Mr. Charles Hayes's Farm on Tuesday afternoon. Two horses and one man, with this machine, can cut grass as fast as 10 or 12 mowers can do it with scythes. No mower can cut it so clean as this machine does on clear ground. These seem be to the machines for mowing—and ere long the old scythes will be the exceptions, like hand-presses and hand rakes. The farmers who procure them first, will be so much ahead of their neighbors. Messrs. Bennett & Treadwell are sole agents for Portsmouth and vicinity, and will furnish them at the manufacturer's lowest prices.

☞ Mr. Charles A. Shannon, of this city, was seriously injured on Wednesday, by falling from a staging on which he was painting the house of Charles E. Myers at Gravelly Ridge.

☞ No paper will be issued from this office on Saturday morning, to-morrow being the Fourth of July.

☞ A four-horse Omnibus will run to Dimank's Highland Cottage, Stratham, for the Fourth of July Picnic—leaving Portsmouth about 3 o'clock, P. M. For seats, apply to Frank W. Miller.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, July 1.

SENATE.—Mr. Cass said a very grave transaction had occurred on the Pacific coast, according to accounts just received, into which an examination ought to be made. Gov. Stephens, of Washington Territory, has proclaimed martial law there, and has arrested a Judge of the District Court, and sent him away some distance, thus closing the Court. Mr. Cass did not desire to prejudice the case, but it certainly seemed a great assumption of power. He submitted a resolution calling on the President for the facts in relation to the matter. Adopted.

Mr. Collamer of Vermont submitted a minority report from the Committee on Territories on the Kansas question. The report was read, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Thompson spoke somewhat in favor of the bill to admit Kansas, reported yesterday by the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Bigler also spoke for, and Mr. Hale against it.

Mr. Adams moved to amend by striking out that part which gives the right of suffrage to persons who shall have filed their declaration of intention to become citizens of the United States in compliance with the naturalization laws.

Mr. Crittenden hoped the amendment would be adopted. He thought those foreigners who had declared their intention to become citizens had no more right to vote than those who had made no such declaration. Adj.

HOUSE.—Mr. Barclay of Pennsylvania (of the majority) moved a reconsideration of the vote by which the Kansas bill was rejected. He said that he was informed that there were warrants in this district for the arrest of Reeder for treason. This he regarded as fanciful. He was disposed to rebuke it now by voting for the bill in order to protect the people of ess.

Mr. Houston of Alabama expressed regret that the gentleman had changed his mind, either in consequence of persuasion or other means.

Mr. Barclay replied that he had acted from a conscientious sense of duty, and would not be intimidated by the lash.

Mr. Houston disavowed any intention to impeach the integrity of the gentleman, nor did he censure him. He moved to lay on the table the motion to reconsider.

Mr. Houston's motion was superseded by the presentation of the report of the Kansas Investigating Commission.

The report shows that as soon as the bill to organize the territory of Kansas was passed, a large number of the citizens of Missouri went into the territory and held squatter meetings, passed resolutions denouncing Abolitionists, and declaring that slavery existed therein. In the autumn of 1854 a secret political society, called the "Blue Lodge," was formed, the plan of operations of which, with its oaths, etc., are given in the report. The lodge controlled all the subsequent movements and invasions on the part of the Missourians.

In February, 1855 a census was taken, and the number of legal voters was ascertained to be 2905. Previous to the election in the spring of 1855, active preparations were made in Missouri to invade the territory, and a complete organization was effected. Leaders were chosen, tents, provisions, ammunition and arms distributed, and the forces were drilled, in companies, in Missouri; and on the the day before the election it is testified, at least five thousand Missourians took up the line of march for Kansas, and companies went into every representative district of the territory, excepting one.

In detailing the acts of these companies, and the declarations made by them, a great portion of the testimony consists.

At the election, November 29, 1854, for a delegate in Congress, there was no evidence of fraud except in the sparsely settled and remote districts, where citizens of Missouri appeared and voted. Details in relation to these facts are given in the report, which says: "It is reduced to mathematical precision that 1700 illegal and non-resident votes were cast by citizens of Missouri; the remainder, being legal votes, amounted to 1100." Mr. Whitfield would have been elected without the aid of his Missouri votes, he having a plurality of all the votes cast. During the winter of 1854-55 great excitement existed in the territory on account of the invasion, public meetings were held, and much bitter feeling manifested.

☞ Uncle Toby acknowledges the receipt, from the immortal Goodwin of Exeter, of a further supply of his superior hair oil.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, July 1.

The steamer Canada, Capt. Stone, from Liverpool, June 21, 11 1-2 A. M., arrived at this port this evening.

England and America.—The British steamers which left England on the 18th, took out the intelligence of Crampton's arrival, and also of the declaration in Parliament, that Dallas would remain, and that the British government would negotiate with him.—Present advices add nothing to this information, except that apprehensions of war are passing away more rapidly than they arose.

The nomination of Mr. Buchanan has excited little attention, the machinery of Presidential nomination not being generally understood in England. The leading presses, however, discuss the matter.

France.—Napoleon is taking steps to have the Empress appointed Regent for her son.

Two and a half million francs have been collected for the sufferers by the inundation.

Russia.—An expedition is fitting out at Hamburg by the Russian American Company, to sail next month for Russo-American territory. The expedition is of the nature of a new colony, numbering 500 persons, including artificers of all kinds.

LATE FROM KANSAS.

A St. Louis dispatch of the 30th, (evidently in the interest of Atchison & Co.) gives the following account of late movements.

The captured emigrants to Kansas, the Chicago Company, which was disbanded at Lexington, arrived here on Saturday. It is reported that the company offered the captain $1000 not to land at Lexington. The arms that were taken from them were placed in a warehouse for safe keeping, and a receipt given for them. During the scene no hard words passed.

On the arrival of the boat at Kansas, Sheriff Jones, with a company of 30 South Carolinians, boarded, and on the way up the river, Atchison, Stringfellow and Russell also came on board, and after learning what had occurred, they demanded an audience with the leaders, whom they informed that orders had been given to disband all armed parties in the territory, and that they had better return home. The Chicago Company considered the advice good, and before the boat reached Leavenworth, the whole of them had determined to return. When the boat touched at the latter place, a large crowd assembled on the shore; on being informed that the party had concluded not to land, but to proceed to Weston, or return in the boat, they were satisfied, and made no further demonstrations, but sent an escort with the company to Weston, where the emigrants made no attempt to land, they having given up all idea of settling in Kansas. The committee appointed to escort the company back report that on the passage down, the Star of the West met the steamer Sultana on her way up, with more members of the same company. The Republican learns reliably that this company is to be paid secretly by Chicago $100 each for going to Kansas, a part of the money to be expended in arms and amunition. The remainder was to be remitted after landing at their destination. After leaving Alton the company found that the contract would not be fulfilled, which caused much dissatisfaction among them.

The "Republican" above mentioned, is the organ of the border ruffians.

The following item is another St. Louis dispatch of the 30th, from a different source, as the "Democrat" is a free state paper.

A letter to the Democrat, from Lawrence 28th, states that five free state men, who were arrested and disarmed near Ossawatomie on 27th of May by a party of United States dragoons under Lieutenant Johnson, had arrived in that city after four weeks detention, during which time they had been kept in chains, until finally discharged by Judge Cate, nothing being found against them.

Next, we give a dispatch dated Chicago, July 1.

A Worcester company of 44 men, bound for Kansas, on board the steamer Sultana, were disarmed on Friday last, in a manner similar to that adopted with the Chicago company. The scene took place at Waverly, 10 miles below Lexington. Their captors have announced their intention to detain them as prisoners, and dispose of them to suit the exigences of the times. Sixty Sharpe's rifles were taken from them. The above is from a reliable source, a well-known gentleman having witnessed the occurrence.

It is also reported that a company from Ottawa, Illinois, were also disarmed and arrested on Saturday. All the river towns have announced a determination to allow no emigrants from the North to enter Kansas.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, at Jefferson City, 20th, charges Gov. Price with having sent 12 cannon and 22 boxes of muskets from the United States arsenal to Stringfellow, to assist in the conquest of Kansas.

And lastly, we copy a dispatch from New York, July 1.

A letter in the Times, dated Lawrence, June 21, says:—"The Southern forces are gathering at Lecompton, Tecumseh, Big Springs, and other places, in large numbers, and they are laying in large stores of provisions, in order to make the long and strong pull on the 4th of July. No aid is yet received from the states. There must be a great battle at Topeka. Col. Sumner threatens to go home to the fort and abandon his work if the Legislature meets, and they will as sure as God is above."

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY, July 1.

HOUSE.—Reports— From the Committee on the Judiciary, Leave to withdraw, on the petition of John Salter; adopted. Also, a bill to amend an act to establish the city of Dover—new draft; ordered to a second reading. Also, a bill to amend an act relating to the laws of corporations, with an amendment; amendment adopted.

The committee on Finance—bill providing for the assessment of a State tax. The sum to be raised is $70,000.—Ordered to a second reading. Also, the usual resolutions appropriating money for the insane, blind and deaf mutes.

Mr Tullock of Portsmouth, from the select committee on the apportionment of taxes, reported that they had completed their work, (since the 12th when they were appointed,)—and presented a bill, which was read and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Herbert resumed his remarks in opposition to the Kansas resolutions at great length.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credit and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to $2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market; and that not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands there sold at seven dollars per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although the giant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due one year from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be constructed for a proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information, will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

N. H. STATE TEMPERANCE CON.

The Convention met at Dover, in the City Hall, June 27, '56, at 10 A. M.

The meeting was called to order by Rev. E. W. Jackson,—when Wm. Burr, Ed. of the Morning Star, was chosen President of the Convention—Rev. T. H. Miller, Ed. Phenix, was chosen Vice Pres. Rev. J. M. Durgin was chosen Secretary. Rev. Mr. Palmer of Newmarket addressed the Throne of Grace. D. Palmer, Esq. called for a report from the State Temp. Com.

E. W. Jackson, Secy. of said Com., then proceeded to make a verbal report, in which he spoke of the law, for the suppression of intemperance, passed by the last Legislature, as a signal triumph. He spoke with much warmth and eloquence upon the false reports of the operation of the law, given by several newspapers in different parts of the State, pretending to show there was actually an increase of the use of alcoholic liquors. Mr. J. showed that there had been a diminution in the use of the "evil spirits" during the past year, notwithstanding the untiring efforts of the enemies of the law to make it powerless Mr. J. spoke of the circular issued to the Clergy of N. H., asking their views and opinions of the law;—and in every instance, save one,—their hearty approval and support of the law were unqualifiedly given.

D. Palmer, Esq., remarked concerning the non-enforcement of the law in several of the counties, and one of the principal reasons why the law was not enforced, was opposition on the part of the officers, sworn faithfully to execute the law.

At this stage of the Convention, Messrs. L. G. Hill, O. Wyatt, and Jno. Cartland were constituted a committee to prepare business for the Convention, and to nominate a State Committee.

A letter from Gov. Morrill of Maine was then read, in which he said, his zeal for the cause of Temperance was in no wise abated, nor his hope of a speedy triumph dissipated by the temporary check it has received in that State. Maine will soon resume her proud position, and again lead more conspicuously than ever, the grand Temperance column of states under the only banner that will ensure victory finally, prohibitive legislation honestly and manfully enforced.

Adjourned till 2, P. M.

Afternoon.—Mr. Rogers of Portsmouth, made a statement of the condition of the Temperance cause in his city, which was listened to with much interest.

Rev. E. W. Jackson spoke of the importance of union and untiring perseverance.

Rev. E. Hutchins spoke for Old Dover.—Said the jail for several days or weeks had been tenantless. This jail answers for two or more counties,—and the emptying of the jail may fairly be attributed in a great degree to temperance efforts.

Rev. Stephen Merrill of Wolfboro' spoke eloquently for Old Carroll County. He hoped the Law would be sustained, and as the legitimate result, the woes of intemperance forever cease. He said that a good woman of Wolfboro' estimated the law to be worth $100 to her, already, in the earnings of a now sober husband, who before was drunken and idle. He spoke also of two keepers of tippling places, who were about all that were left in one town,—but they quarrelled, and used up each other by mutual prosecutions.

The business Committee reported that the following gentlemen, together with the chairman of the several county Committees, constitute the State Committee:—Theodore F. Abbott, Manchester; J. W. Ray, Derry; J. E. Goodwin, Milton. This report was accepted, and the committee elected.

The Committee also presented the following resolutions:

1. Resolved—That in assembling in our annual Convention, we feel called upon first of all to render our grateful acknowledgements to Almighty God for the success which has attended our efforts during the past year.

2. That the Law for the Suppression of Intemperance, passed by our last legislature, meets our approval—and we believe its provisions reasonable and constitutional.

3. That it is the duty of every good citizen, and especially of every temperance man, to see that this, like all other statutes, should be observed and executed.

4. That to secure a more efficient action in the enforcement of the Law, a County Society be organized in each county in the State.

5. That we recommend the Chronicle & Phenix as a good Temperance paper, and request the State Committee to publish their official documents in the same.

6 That the State Temperance Committee for the last year be instructed to publish the report of all monies received and how expended, properly audited, during their administration.

7. That it is the duty of the friends of Temperance in this State to make renewed effort to arouse the moral sentiment of the State, as well as to thoroughly execute the law.

8. That to this end we invite the co-operation of all Christian Ministers, and Christian Churches, to preach and pray for our complete and final success.

9. Whereas it is here proposed to confine the money raised in the several counties to the counties where raised, to be there expended for the advancement of the cause of temperance, it is; Resolved, that the subject be referred to the State Committee.

A motion was then made by J. M. Durgin to reconsider the 2d resolution—but after an able discussion by Rev. Mr. McLaughlin of Great Falls, the Convention unanimously refused to reconsider.

The Convention was not large, but harmony, and a good degree of zeal characterized the Convention.

Voted to dissolve the Convention.

J. M. DURGIN, Secretary.

P. S. A meeting was held in the evening, at the City Hall, in which Mr. Hamlin of Dover, and Rev. Mr. McLaughlin took a prominent part, much to the edification of the audience.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1856.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Boston Advertiser's special dispatch from Washington, Wednesday evening, July 2, says:

The Senate is now in session, with the probability of continuing all night. Mr. Douglas and his adherents are determined to force a vote, before adjourning, on the new Kansas bill reported by him, notwithstanding a number of Senators are still desirous of being heard. The debate to-night has been warm and interesting. Mr. Clayton in the course of his speech, boldly denounced the invalid territorial laws as infamous, tyrannic, and worthy of revolutionary resistance. He gave notice that he should move a proposition ordering nol. pros. to be entered on the Kansas indictments for treason.

The question on Mr. Barclay's motion to reconsider the vote rejecting the Kansas bill is the first business in order in the House to-morrow (Thursday.) The prospect of success is good.

The Senate was in session at 2 A. M., July 3, with no particular prospect of adjournment.

Advices have been received here of the massacre of the mail riders between Fort McKaniit and Fort Chadbourne, Texas, on or about the 1st of June. On Saturday, the 7th, a party of Camanches went into Chadbourne, when Capt. Eastman, in command there, suspecting them to be the same party that killed the mail riders, attacked them, killed seven of them instantly, wounding several mortally; the rest, about half a dozen, escaping.

FRENCH CLAIMS.—In the U. S. Senate, July 2, the Chair laid before the Senate a communication from the Secretary of State, transmitting the original journal and proceedings of the Board of American Commissioners at Paris to liquidate and audit the claims of American citizens against the French government, for debts due them, and for satisfaction for which provision was made by a Convention between the United States and France, April 30th, 1803.

Mr. Clayton said this report was made in answer to a resolution by him some time ago. He desired to call attention to the document, because it completely refuted the ground upon which the President based his veto of the French Spoliation Bill. The veto rested on the assumed basis that the claims for spoliation were all examined and allowed, under the treaty of 1803, but this document discredits the fact, that so far from this, they were excluded for the reason that the Commissioners would have nothing to do with them.

He alluded to the fact that many years since, he examined the subject when it was before the Senate, being a member of the Select Committee, of which Daniel Webster was the chairman. Mr. Webster took no part in the matter. Mr. Clayton, being second on the Committee, investigated the subject, and reported a bill, which, contrary to the expectations of many of its friends, passed both houses by decided majorities, but unfortunately encountered the veto of President Polk. Afterwards, another bill, similar to that, passed Congress, and was vetoed by President Pierce. The latter veto was not based upon the same reason as the former, and any Senator who would take the pains to examine the document now before the Senate, would see that the whole foundation of Mr. Pierce's veto was an error in fact. He added his sympathies were strongly in favor of these claimants, and he hoped that some measure would be adopted by which justice should be done them.

CHIVALRY.—The Savannah Georgian, of the 20th instant, noticing the nomination of Col. Fremont, calls him "the first traitor" of the South, "poor wretch," "knave," "tool," "mad climber of the Rocky Mountains," &c., and asks: "Does not the earth seem to heave under us at the thought? Does it not try in vain to rid itself of this foul disgrace?"—The valiant Georgian concludes his chivalrous tirade as follows:

"The poor creature is indebted for his present elevation to the idea inculcated by his bosom friend Greeley, that, from his own experience of the practical operation of slavery, he can, in the magnificence of his unsullied conscience, face the people of his birthplace. Coriolanus once stood at the gates of Rome with the beside Volsci at his back; his mother and his wife with streaming eyes went forth to subdue the heart of the incensed Roman. If John Charles Fremont (who is to Coriolanus in dignity as the opossum is to the lion) shall ever appear with the legions of Abolition at the gates of the Constitution, and shall but touch with his unhallowed hand its sacred portal, his mother land will wally forth, not in tears, but displaying the cord of hemp, as well the emblem of his treason as the reward of his treachery."

INTERESTING NEWSPAPER CASE.—A case of considerable interest is now on hearing before an auditor, appointed by the Supreme Court, to ascertain the parties liable for debts contracted in the establishment of the Chronicle Newspaper. The immediate claim is for paper furnished to the amount of some $5000 by Rice & Kendall. Eight or ten lawyers of eminence represent sundry persons supposed to have been friends of the enterprise, but who now doubt whether they were, or at least whether they are answerable for the debts incurred.—Boston Post.

The Chronicle belongs to the Republican party, and is very anxious about "what we owe Kansas," and "our obligations to Freedom."—Eastern Argus.

It did belong to the Rum party, by whom and for whom it was got up, and in whose cause we suppose it spent the $5000. It has lately passed into other hands and now become Republican.

NICHOLAS GRAHAM.

Nicholas Graham, on the 20th of Jan. 1856, murdered James Brooks on board a steamer in California,—for which he was hung, at San Francisco, May 30. A paper of the 31st says, the prisoner, since his confinement, has expressed great penitence for his crime, saying it was his only one, and ascribing its committal to the influence of strong drink, and often remarked that if his example would deter but one single man from becoming a drunkard, he would die contented.

The following is an extract from his confession, signed by him, verified by his priest, and circulated at his execution. It is a whole sermon on intemperance.

I desire to publish to the world the particulars of the crime for which I am to suffer death. My name is Nicholas Graham; I was born in the county of Armagh, Ireland; I do not remember my age; I have always worked hard and honestly for a living. I have been a fireman on the steamer Columbia at various intervals for the past two years. At the time I killed Joseph Brooks I had been on the steamer for nearly three months. I did not design to kill him. He had threatened several times to beat me, and had challenged me to fight him that evening. I went on shore expecting to meet him but did not do so. I was afraid to fight him, as he was a more powerful man than myself. During my stay on shore I drank freely and became intoxicated. I went on board in that state. Brooks was lying in his birth; I went up to him and drew my knife, and stabbed him several times; he jumped up and ran on deck; I followed him and stabbed him again.

I acknowledge my guilt and the justice of my sentence of death. I am satisfied to die; I feel that I deserve to. The free use of spirituous liquors is the cause of my coming to this disgraceful end. For the past seven or eight years I have worked constantly; I have spent all the money that I earned for liquor, and have drunk deeply. I write this for publication after my death, and if the notice of my execution, and the cause of the commission of the crime, — for which I suffer, should deter but one of my fellow creatures from following in my footsteps, and induce him to refrain from man's greatest curse—Rum—I feel that I shall not have lived or died in vain.

My fellow creatures, let the voice of a man on the brink of the grave be heard in warning against this detestable vice. I know, from my own experience, that the use of intoxicating drinks is the cause of the greatest evils of life.

MR. SUMNER.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post, writes as follows, under the date of July 1,:

Mr. Sumner still remains in a condition of health which justly excites the alarm of his friends. Two weeks since he was carried in a very feeble condition to the country-seat of Mr. F. P. Blair, about 5 miles from Washington. No perceptible improvement has resulted from this quiet seclusion. On his return to the city towards the last of last week, he undertook to write some letters, but the effort was too much for his shattered nervous system, and Friday and Saturday were the two most painful days he has experience during his whole illness. He has, therefore, again been removed to the country, which he will not leave, it is hoped, before symptoms of permanent change for the better shall be manifested. At present, he is not able to undergo any continuous mental or bodily labor, and whenever he has attempted it, a severe reaction is sure to follow.

ONE BORDER RUFFIAN CAGED.—A Washington dispatch of July 2, informs us that Herbert, the Representative, who shot Thomas Keating the Irish waiter, has been indicted for murder, and is committed to jail to await his trial.

Herbert was one of the majority of one who voted to reject the free Kansas bill in the House. He also voted, of course, not to enquire into the conduct of Brooks, another murderer in attempt, and quite possibly in effect. Brooks voted not to meddle with the Herbert murder.

☞ The Boston Bee has taken the names of Fillmore and Donelson from the head of its columns, and hoisted the flag for Fremont and Johnston, as its candidates for President and Vice President, in accordance with the action of the American Convention at Springfield.

☞ The Newburyport Herald informs us that in Marblehead, during the shower of Monday P. M. the lightning struck a tree upon the Common, where it has struck ten times within twenty-five years, and so electrified a young lady named Clark, in that neighborhood, that she was not able to speak next day.

GOV. Colby, of New Hampshire, made himself very funny over the bachelorship of Mr. Buchanan. He thought the ladies wouldn't sustain a man who hadn't sustained a woman. But grandmother Jones, who is much better authority says—"This wasn't the way with the gals in my time; we turned up our noses at the married men, and were constantly running after the single ones."—Post.

BATTLE BETWEEN A SNAKE AND WEASEL.—On Saturday last, a gentleman visiting a spring, in Rochester, heard a slight squealing, and on searching for the cause, saw a black snake and a weasel in a sharp contest. When discovered the snake was coiled around the weasel, giving the animal rather a hard squeeze, but finally the weasel slipped through the snake's coil, and then turned and took the 'varmint' by the throat and killed it almost instantly. "Pop goes the weasel."—New Bedford Standard.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY, July 2.

SENATE.—The Com. on Finance reported the resolution providing for the contingent expenses of the State, without amendment—Passed.

Mr. Burns gave notice of a bill relating to the sale of liquors.

The vote rejecting a bill in relation to the fees of sheriffs and other officers was reconsidered, and the bill passed.

HOUSE.—A petition for the re-organization of the militia, was presented and referred.

The Com. on the State Prison reported a joint resolution that the Attorney General be authorized to take measures to secure payment by Rufus Dow and Gideon Webster of all sums and unsettled accounts, for the use the State. Ordered to a second reading.

Bill to establish a new proportion for the assessment of the public taxes—read a second time and laid on the table.

The Kansas resolutions were then taken up.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters loudly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six pages to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin: now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, July 2.

In the Senate, a communication was received from the Secretary of State, transmitting the journal of the proceedings of the Board of American Commissioners at Paris, to adjust the claims of American citizens against the French government. Mr. Clayton called attention to the document as a complete refutation of the ground on which the French Spoliation bill was vetoed.

The Kansas bill reported by Mr. Douglass was then taken up. After considerable discussion the motion to strike out the clause giving the right of suffrage to all persons who shall have filed their declaration of intention to become citizens of the United States, was adopted. Mr. Wilson moved to amend by substituting a bill abrogating "all acts passed by the Legislature of Kansas, or any assembly acting as such."

An animated and exciting debate ensued, a sketch of which, up to 2 o'clock this Thursday morning, is given. The Senate was still in session with no prospect of an adjournment.

In the House, the report of the Kansas Investigating Committee was referred to the Committee on Elections, and ordered to be printed. Authority was given the minority to report at any time within ten days, with the privilege of taking additional testimony.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The Kansas Committee close their report as follows:—

Your Committee report the following facts and conclusions as established by the testimony:

1.—That the election in the territory held under the organic or alleged territorial law was carried by organized invasion from the state of Missouri, by which the people of the territory have been prevented from exercising the rights secured to them by the organic law.

2.—That the alleged territorial Legislature was an illegally constituted body and had no power to pass valid laws, and their enactments are therefore null and void.

3.—That these alleged laws have not as a thing, been used to protect persons and property and to punish wrong, but for unlawful purposes.

4.—That the election under which the sitting delegate, John W. Whitfield, holds his seat, was not held in pursuance of any valid law, and that it should be regarded only as the expression of the choice of the resident citizens who voted for him.

5.—That the election under which the contesting delegate, Andrew H. Reeder, claims his seat, was not held in pursuance of law, and that it should be regarded only as the expression of the choice of the resident citizens who voted for him.

6.—That Andrew H. Reeder had a greater number of votes of resident citizens than John W. Whitfield, for delegate.

7.—That in the present condition of the Territory a fair election cannot be held without a new census, a stringent and well guarded election law, the selection of impartial judges, and the presence of the U. S. troops at every place of election

8.—That the various elections held by the people of the Territory preliminary to the formation of the State Government have been as regular as the disturbed condition of the territory would allow, and that the Constitution passed by the Convention, held in pursuance of said elections, embodied the will of the majority of the people.

As it is not in the province of your Committee to suggest remedies for the existing troubles in the territory of Kansas, they content themselves with the foregoing statement of facts.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

WM. A. HOWARD,
JOHN SHERMAN.

The report contains full and complete details of every thing connected with the territory of Kansas prior to the 19th of March last, and says it is clearly proved that Samuel J. Jones, the Sheriff, was the main cause of the recent disturbances in which he so prominently figured. It is also proved that Mr. Oliver, one of the investigating committee, went into Missouri with one of the invading companies, and made a speech in the 15th election district, but it is not proved that he voted.

$5000 FOR SEDUCTION.—In the Circuit Court holden at Newport, R. I., last week, the only case tried before the jury was Francis B. Fairweather vs. Alfred H. Willard, all of Providence. This action was brought by the plaintiff for seducing his daughter under a promise of marriage. It was commenced on Tuesday morning, and ended on Friday evening. The jury, after being out fifteen minutes, returned a verdict for the plaintiff of $5000 with costs.

SUDDEN DEATH.—As Mrs. Tuttle, about 27 years of age, wife of Mr. Tuttle, formerly of Newburyport, was walking along the road in Seabrook, accompanied by a little girl, she was seen by a gentleman to stagger and fall before he could reach her, and died instantaneously. She had been unwell for some time past. She leaves a husband and two children. —Herald.

DEBATE ON KANSAS.—Mr. Douglas's bill for peace, (and slavery,) in Kansas, was debated in the Senate, July 2.

Mr. Wade said he stood up to advocate no new doctrine, but the great principles of equal rights to all men. He alluded to the passage of the compromise measures of 1850, which were called "finality measures," and said the democratic party had put the present administration into power upon a platform pledging them to resist slavery agitation. He did not know how they intend to resist, whether with bludgeons or otherwise; however, they had no right to resist the agitation of any subject pertaining to this government. He stood here to resist all attempts to infringe the right of free speech, whatever might be the consequences.

Mr. Pugh replied, and said Mr. Wade had used language not becoming to a gentleman nor a Senator, nor a black republican, but language becoming a blackguard. (Sensation.)

The Chair called Mr. Pugh to order.

Messrs. Bell of Tennessee and Douglas had some sparring about a night session.

The question was taken on Mr. Adams's motion to strike out the clause giving the right of suffrage to all persons who shall have filed their declaration of intention to become citizens of the United States, in compliance with the naturalization laws. It was adopted, he vote being as follows:—

Yeas—Adams, Bayard, Bell of Tenn., Briggs, Brodhead, Brown, Clay, Clayton, Collamer, Crittenden, Fessenden, Fitzpatrick, Foot, Foster, Geyer, Hunter, Iverson, Mallory, Mason, Reid, Thompson of Ky., Yulee —22.

Nays — Messrs. Allen, Bigler, Butler, Bright, Cass, Dodge, Douglas, Evans, Jones of Iowa, Pugh, Seward, Slidell, Toombs, Weller, Wilson, Wright,—16.

Mr. Wilson moved to strike out all after the enacting clause in the bill, and insert "All acts passed by the Legislature of Kansas, or any assembly acting as such, be and the same are hereby abrogated and declared void and of no effect.

Mr. Crittenden said it seemed to him that some explanation was required Was the remedy for the disturbances in Kansas complete and entire?

Mr. Wilson replied that in his judgement the bill was to make Kansas a slave state.

Mr. Weller—The proposition is to repeal all laws, and settle the dispute by physical force.

Mr. Toombs—that is a good way;—nobody objects to that.

Mr. Seward said he would, with the greatest pleasure, vote for Mr. Wilson's amendment. The present bill can have no other tendency and effect than to confirm the success of the object of the passage of the law abrogating the Missouri Compromise, and form a slave State out of Kansas. There is no code, there are no laws, and no legal society in Kansas, other than that of the organic act of 1854. The government of that territory is an usurpation and tyranny, and there are no legal nor moral obligations to treat it with the least respect. The House, more true to freedom than the Senate, sent a Commission thither, whose report establishes these facts beyond all question. The day for compromises has ended.

Mr. Toombs—I am glad of it.

Mr. Seward—And so am I. Henceforth we take our stand on the Constitution.

Mr. Toombs, interrupting—On the higher law.

Mr. Seward, continuing—They who stand there are firm, and those who do not are on a slippery and unsubstantial foothold.

Mr. Toombs—I think so, when you get on the higher law.

Mr. Crittenden regretted exceedingly to hear Mr. Seward say that the day of compromises had gone by. The Constitution of the United States was a compromise. Every bill passed was a compromise. Men could not live in civil society or private life without compromise. If we have arrived at the determination that we will never compromise again, we might as well throw our constitution to the winds.

Mr. Hale said the objection he had to the bill was that he was not willing to entrust its execution to the present executive, in whom he had not the slightest confidence. If the Senator from Kentucky had such a high opinion of compromises, that they will come with healing on their wings to the whole nation, if such is his belief as to what compromises will do, why was it not the first dictate of patriotism, prudence and justice to see what the effect will be of restoring the great Compromise of 1820. He believed with Mr. Crittenden, that these are perilous times.

On Thursday morning, July 3, at half-past 12 o'clock, Mr. Crittenden moved for adjournment; but Mr. Douglas, and others, who had been regaling in private rooms, came in and voted down the motion, by yeas 9, nays 22, and then retired.

At 2, A. M., Mr. Seward said a session had generally lasted three or four hours, but the present session had occupied nearly fourteen. He would say to Mr. Crittenden, he was not against all compromises, but against a compromise involving moral rights, political justice, or high political expediency. By no act of his should any man be held or kept in slavery. On this he could not compromise.

Mr. Reid replied to Mr. Seward's remarks relative to slavery, saying that when a majority of the people of the North became prepared to enforce the doctrine declared by Mr. S., this Union cannot last an hour longer.

Finally, Douglas's Kansas bill passed—33 against 12.

SENTENCE OF A MURDERER.—New Haven, July 1, P. M.—Randolph, the murderer of his wife, who was to be hung this month, had his sentence changed this afternoon to imprisonment for life. It was believed that the killing grew out of a drunken quarrel, and he has just confessed that such was the fact.

CIRCUS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING. — We are informed that a portion of Flagg & Aymar's International circus was struck by lightning, last night, while passing between Nashua and Concord, Ms. Four horses were killed, and two men badly stunned. Being overtaken by the shower in Tyngsboro', they very foolishly took refuge under a tall tree, the most dangerous place to be found.—Lowell News.

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—Fall of a Wharf —Loss of Life.—The wharf at the foot of Red street, in this city, caved in this evening, and the heavy shears used by Merrick & Son for raising machinery, fell among the crowds of men, women and children who were promenading. It is reported that from 20 to 30 persons were crushed, maimed or drowned.

July 2.—Two bodies only have been found up to noon to-day. Ten others, women and children, are missing.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

THIS Range differs from all others in the market in the construction of its flues around the Oven, and from this result its chief advantages.

This range has an extra amount of radiating service in the Hot-Air Fixtures connected with it. The Hot Water Fixtures are conveniently arranged, and sure to give satisfaction. No other Range has heavier castings where the parts are exposed to the fire.

Those purchasing Ranges should look well to the draught around the Oven, as the main thing, if they would secure evenness and quickness in baking, and economy in Fuel.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, in gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plew and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of—that those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands is carried either in wagons or across uninterrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the Road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,
Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. m3 6m

Old Stand! New Stock!

MEDICAL CARD.

HAVING located myself at, and assumed the entire charge of the Apothecary Store, so long occupied by Doct. Samuel Hutchings—and recently occupied by William H. Foster—I am prepared to furnish from a new and recently selected Stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, &c., &c., every article usually called for in an apothecary's.

That I may disabuse an impression many are said to, and others naturally enough may entertain, viz: That a Stand so antiquated—so long occupied for one particular branch of business—must necessarily contain a Stock made up of "Green Earthern Pots, bladders, and Musty Seeds, Remnants of pack thread, and old cakes of roses," &c. &c., I beg to assure them, and through them, my friends and the public generally, that the past few weeks have found me busy in removing from the premises all stale, flat, and unprofitable materials—and in the mean time their places supplied from selections made by myself, with pure, fresh, and unadulterated Medicines. With such—and such only—I shall endeavor to be supplied hereafter.

To the above I have also added a choice assortment of articles for the Toilet—consisting of Hair Oils, Soaps, Cologne; Hair, Teeth, Nail and other brushes, &c. &c.

PATENT MEDICINES—of such as are really valuable and popular—constantly on hand.

Articles called for, not on hand, ordered and supplied at the shortest notice

Physicians Prescriptions will ever receive all the care and attention, in their composition, which their importance demands.

The patronage of all disposed to bestow it, is respectfully solicited. J. N. M HILL,

Druggist & Apothecary,

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JULY 7. 1856.

THE preacher has an immense advantage over all other public speakers—is completely master of the situation. Like the writer of imaginary conversation, he may put what imbecilities he pleases into the mouths of his antagonists, and swell with triumph when he has refuted them. He may riot in gratuitous assertions, confident that no man will contradict him; he may exercise perfect free-will in logic, and invent illustrative experience; he may give an evangelical edition of history with the inconvenient facts omitted; all this he may do with impunity, certain that those of his hearers who are not sympathising are not listening.

This paragraph, which we find floating about in the papers, would be greatly improved by striking out the last member of the sentence, beginning "all this he may do with impunity."—It is quite certain that any preacher, who is wicked or foolish enough, may do all these absurd things, and more—but it is not true that he can do it with impunity—neither is it true that all listeners sympathize with him. The writer of the paragraph tells as many falsehoods in it, as he attributes to those whom he describes.

GEN. SMITH.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune states that Gen. Smith's instructions concerning Kansas are emphatically to prevent armed invasion from any quarter, and to afford protection to peaceful settlers at any cost. Sumner will retain his present position, subject to the orders of Smith, who is intrusted with large discretion, and is fully possessed of the President's views. Smith was selected for this trust with reference to his prudence, ability and firmness, as well as legal knowledge, enabling him to discriminate on delicate points that may arise.

This may be true: if any real protection is extended to peaceful settlers, we shall be happy to make a note of it. But until we see something of the kind, we disbelieve the story. As yet, we have seen no evidence of any attempt by the Federal government, to protect any thing there but slavery.—Those who have attempted to protect anything better, are denounced and arrested as traitors.

SPECULATIONS.—The following speculations upon the prospects of Mr. Fillmore are worth as much as such speculations ordinarily are. We quote from the Baltimore Patriot:

"The New York Tribune very frankly admits that Mr Fillmore will pretty surely receive the electoral votes of Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky and Tennessee. North Carolina and Louisiana it puts down as doubtful. Florida not impossible, and perhaps Georgia.

Mr Stuart of Virginia, claims all the above mentioned States as certain for Fillmore, and adds to them Massachusetts, New Jersey, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Missouri and California. In addition to these States, the Philadelphia Times expresses the opinion that Mr. Fillmore's prospects in Mississippi and Arkansas are now of a very suspicious character, and are improving daily; and that in Virginia the Old Line Whigs, who, to the number of twelve thousand, turned the scale at the last Gubernatorial election in favor of Mr. Wise, will go in a body for Fillmore. If these speculations are based upon reliable data, it is therefore not improbable that Mr. Fillmore will succeed in carrying the following States:—Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Florida, Missouri and California.

"If, however," says the Times, "the election goes to the House of Representatives, as it must, no candidate having 149 votes, a majority of the whole number of electoral votes, which amount in all to 296, it is impossible to conjecture the result, while it is certain that the Fillmore delegations of Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Delaware and Maryland will hold balance of power, and may force a union on their candidate. It is evident that no one of the candidates has a majority of the whole number of States, at present in the House. Texas and Iowa are ties, the former having one American and one Democrat.—If Mr Clingman (Whig) should vote for Fillmore, North Carolina would also be tied. Mr. Buchanan has only nine certain States in the House, viz: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georga, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia, with a possibility of North Carolina. He would therefore have no chance in that body, as a vote is cast by States, and sixteen being a majority of the whole number.

The Providence Journal says:

Senators Cass and Douglas will come before the people of their respective States next winter, for re-election, as their terms of office expire on the 4th of March next. Should Illinois and Michigan be carried by the Republicans, both these gentlemen will be defeated and left at home. A victory of this kind, would, in an extraordinary manner, demonstrate the strength of the anti-slavery extension feeling in the north.

☞ The Boston papers speak in the highest terms of a splendid stock horse which has just been sold to a gentleman in Louisiana, for $2000. He was raised by Mr. Atherton, at Claremont, N. H., is six years old, stands 15 1-2 hands high, and weighs 1000 lbs. He was sired by old "Green Mountain Morgan," and is certainly one of the most perfectly modelled horses ever seen.

A NEW CITIZEN.—Rev. Dr. Carruthers, pastor of the Second Parish Church in Portland, Me., took the oath of allegiance last week in the United States District Court.

TWO YEARS. — The Portland Argus of last Saturday says:

The reason given by Mr. Hamlin for his desertion, denotes a foregone conclusion in his mind. He complains of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Yet for all practical purposes, this repeal was embodied in the platform of 1852. As a matter of principle there is nothing in the resolutions adopted at Cincinnati, which was not contained in the Compromise of 1850 and the Baltimore resolutions of 1852. We do not understand how any man who could sincerely and honestly support the latter, can hesitate to support the former.

Two years ago the Argus was accustomed to speak as follows:

The Oxford Convention, of last week, refused to make the Nebraska bill a democratic 'test;' and so have the regular conventions generally in our State. Our papers and our public men express their own views upon it, but they claim to do nothing further. Some foolish persons have made the 'test' for their own government, and have read themselves out of the party on it. But their folly is their own, and not ours. There is no need of such a 'test.' The Nebraska bill is a thing done.

THE FREMONT RATIFICATION MEETING, held at Concord on Friday, July 4th, was most successful in all particulars. We are told by those who were present, that the numbers were very much larger than at any other political meeting in that city this year. The number present is variously estimated at from 8000 to 15,000. Speeches were made by Hon. Anson Burlingame, Hon. Lot Morrill, and several other distinguished gentlemen, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

☞ The rain caused a postponement of the Exeter celebration, and the oration, (which was delivered in the new Town Hall by Rev. J. M. Steele of Stratham, Mr. Nash of Nashua, being unable to attend,) was delivered first—the procession, collation, &c. being reserved for the afternoon and fair weather.—A good change, we think,—only on this occasion we had previous arrangements which brought us home—so that we can not speak from observation respecting the show. We saw a fine looking Fire Engine Company in uniform, however, with the Boston Cornet Band; and a hundred or more children, under direction of Mr. B. B. Thompson, made a pretty display.

MUSIC A-COMING.—C. J. Warren, New York, has sent copies of a little political song book, at $1 per hundred, entitled, Freedom's Songs for 1856, Addressed to the People of the United States, by Charles J. Warren.

☞ The Piscataqua Association will meet with Rev. J. T. Otis, in Rye, on Tuesday, July 8th, at ten o'clock, A. M.

The Harmony Association meets at Ossipee Centre on the same day at 11 o'clock, with Rev. Horace Wood.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY, July 3.

SENATE.—The committee on Railroads, reported a resolution to indefinitely postpone the bill in addition to an act constituting the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad a corporation in this State, passed June 30, 1847. Agreed to.

The committee on Railroads reported the bill to unite the Manchester & Lawrence and Concord Railroads, in a new draft. Ordered to a third reading, by a vote of 7 to 5.

Read and referred.—To the committee on Incorporations—bill to incorporate the Dover Insurance Co.

HOUSE.—Petitions presented and referred.—Of C. S. Whitehouse, for a reorganization of the N. H. Militia.

Reports.—From the Committee on Banks—Bill to incorporate the Five Cent Savings Bank in Dover. The bill was ordered to a third reading, a motion to lay it on the table having been lost; also, that the bill to incorporate the Concord Granite Bank be indefinitely postponed. Adopted. Also, a bill to incorporate the Union Bank at Concord. Ordered to a second reading.

Committee on Incorporations—bill to incorporate the Dover Insurance Company.—Ordered to a third reading. Also, that the bills to incorporate the Nashua Cemetery, the Brick and Fuel Manufacturing Company, and the Union Meeting House at Centre Harbor, be indefinitely postponed. Adopted.

Notices.—By Mr. Bellows of Concord, bill relating to the taking of inquisitions as to insanity.

By Mr. Stevens of Nashua, bill for the removal of the courts from Amherst to Nashua.

By Mr. Tullock of Portsmouth, bill to amend an act in relation to the pilotage in the harbor of Piscataqua.

The bill relating to the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad was taken up and considered, and a number of amendments adopted.

Mr. Edwards of Keene offered an amendment, providing that the State Treasurer need not be required to be a Trustee of the mortgage bonds, which was adopted, and the bill was ordered to a third reading.

The committee on Railroads were instructed to inquire as to the expediency of establishing by law the rates of fare and freight upon railroads.

The bill to enable the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad to extinguish its debt and for other purposes, was considered, and lost, 64 to 132.

Bills to incorporate the Dover Insurance Company; to incorporate the Union Bank at Concord; to incorporate the Dover Five Cent Savings Bank in Dover, passed.

Kansas resolutions.—The House resumed the consideration of these resolutions, on motion of Mr. Edwards of Keene, and the vote was taken as follows:—yeas 155, nays 92. So the resolutions were adopted.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Another Emigrant Company Robbed.—Passengers from Lexington bring intelligence of the capture of the Ottawa Company of emigrants on board the Arabia on Friday night. The men were robbed of everything, and kept close prisoners. It was resolved by the mob to take the Massachusetts men up the river, to hang their leader, Mr. Decatur, and keep the remainder as prisoners, confiscating their arms, money, provisions and baggage, to the use of the mob.

ST. LOUIS, July 2.—Steamboats Burnt.—Six steamboats were burnt this morning, at the levee, viz: the St. Clair, Paul Anderson, Grand Turk, S. M. Stockwell, Saranac, and Southerner. All old boats except the Southerner. Loss $100,000.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A man named Hitchcock was killed on Sunday morning, in Farmingdale, Me. by being crushed between his own horse which he was bridling, and a wagon driven rapidly by. He belonged in Damariscotta.—Portland Argus.

DEATH OF MR. INGALLS.—We learn from the Examiner that the Rev. Lovell Ingalls, one of the oldest and most devoted missionaries of the American Baptist Missionary Union died at sea, March 14, on his return to Rangoon from Calcutta, where he had gone in search of health.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that travel at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "iced the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

LOCAL.

FOURTH OF JULY.

In the city of Portsmouth, there was no public celebration by the city beyond the usual salutes of artillery, and the peals of bells at sunrise, noon and sunset.

There was, however, a Border Ruffian Celebration, which began over night and lasted, with some intermissions, till sundown and after, on the fourth. There seemed to be a combination of great boys, free drinkers and rowdies, with desperadoes and bullies, to make a unique celebration: and they did so. Take it for all in all, we hope we shall never look upon its like again.

The small arms and crackers had been going a little for a day or two—and on Thursday evening, their noise audibly increased. By midnight a patriotic bonfire had been kindled in Market square, formed of stolen barrels, boxes, boards, signs and so forth. It blazed fiercely; and as the wind was high, the sparks flew about briskly, to alarm the timid and delight the boys, great and small, who capered about, fired crackers and guns, hooted and made noises of all kinds except musical sounds.

Under cover of this noise and confusion, windows, doors and shutters were smashed in on a dozen different shops and houses, chiefly occupied by poor people, mostly Irish. The railing was stolen from the steps of the Baptist church in Middle street, and fences were destroyed elsewhere.

One rowdy, a criminal who had been in jail some time ago, aided by others like himself, assaulted and injured the ex-jailer who had officially held him in custody.—This offender, we are happy to say, is arrested.

Drunken boys were seen about town next morning—fights occurred between men in the afternoon—and we saw, in Islington street before sundown, such a sight as we never saw before, viz; a drunken man strike a woman with his fist, and beat out the brains of his rum-bottle by smashing his carpet-bag against the fence. The spirit departed from the bottle, and oozed out through the bag; the bystanders interposed to save the woman's head, and we passed on—to muse on law and moral suasion.

We have no doubt the police, with the Mayor, did the best they could under the circumstances, for law and order. But the circumstances were most unfortunate.

The tippling-shops, the drinking places forbidden by the Law of the State, have been sustained and encouraged in this city by a corrupt public opinion, by a sottish practice, and by a crafty appeal to prejudice and passion, made by men who knew better, but who wished to advance themselves, and who did not scruple to lie about those officers who endeavored to enforce that law and other laws in this city and county.

Here, on the 3rd and 4th, we behold the fruits.

Besides this, the policemen are few, and poorly paid.—If one of them gets beaten in a street riot, his remedy is good for but little. The drunken patriot who struck officer Adams, was found not guilty by a soft jury, on a mere legal quibble.—If the policeman without warrant, knocks down a drunkard who comes at him, he is sentenced to jail.

When the mayor of Portland put down a mob by force, the men who got up that mob raised a public opinion that revolutionized the city, state, and law.

Mayors and policemen are like other men—they do not like to expose themselves to blows and curses, unless sustained by public opinion, which after all, is the only real law in this country.

If we will have rum and rum-shops, we must have rows and mischief.

If we wish to have order in spite of rum, we must have a strong preventive police, well paid,—and pay a good round tax therefor.

We go for moral suasion, steady, strong, persevering, that shall aid the police, clear the groggeries and close them, and prevent drunkards from beating their wives in the streets.

In the mean time, we believe the owners of the damaged property have a good claim against the city which must be paid and put into next year's tax—perhaps $500.

☞ Sixteen arrests were made by the police of this city, on the 3d, 4th and 5th of July, for connexion in some way with the drunken rows.

☞ A correspondent of the Boston Ledger, in giving an account of the Fourth in this city, heads his letter "Pandimonium in Portsmouth."

☞ Joseph B. Adams, Esq, was considerably injured on the 4th, by being thrown from a wagon. The wagon was upset by the shying of the horse, which was frightened by the firing of a pistol near him.

☞ To persons desiring board in the country, in a beautiful, quiet situation, we would recommend Mr. Ambrose Wiggin, adjoining the grounds of Mr. Diman, in Stratham, as one of the most desirable places in all respects.

SATURDAY, July 5.

POLICE COURT.—Before Justice Odell.—Joseph Cornelius, for aggravated assault on George W. Towle, Esq.,—on the 4th of July—was sentenced to 21 days' imprisonment in jail, to pay $5 and costs—and to give $100 bonds to keep the peace.

Joseph Cornelius and Allen Rand—for assault on Mrs. Conner. It appeared that Cornelius, Rand and one Charles Walker, who had been out all night, went into Barth. Conner's groggery, and bought and drank a glass of gin each, but did not pay for it—that a quarrel arose, in which Cornelius struck Mrs. Conner with a stick of wood, dragged her by her hair, &c.

Rand was discharged. Cornelius was fined $10, costs $6.87—and to give $100 bonds for good behavior.

Joseph Cornelius, for assault and battery, on Mrs. Eliza A. Ham, was fined $10; costs $5.70, and $100 bonds to keep the peace.

Joseph Cornelius, for assault and battery on Mrs. Susan Chase, fined 10; costs, $7.70; bonds $100.

Three boys, viz, Daniel Hennessey, Geo. Brooks and James Buckley, for assault on Harry Bright, July 5, were fined $6 each; costs $1.47 each; and each to give $50 bonds for good behaviour.

☞ The Fourth of July, at Mr. Diman's, passed off most pleasantly. Highland Cottage was numerously visited during the day, though the rain in the morning and the clouds in the afternoon lessened the pleasure going here and elsewhere. The Pic-nic was pronounced extra nice, and was carried through by Mr. Diman in the best style. The feast was as good as can be got for double the money, most anywhere—and all who were there want to go again. The Portsmouth Quadrille Band well entertained the company, many of whom improved the opportunity to "join in the merry dance." Mr. Diman intends to have another similar entertainment early this week—tickets to include a ride out and back on the P. & C. Railroad. This is one of the most delightful places to visit, and has been much improved since last year.

☞ It will be seen by his advertisement that Mr. A. C. Mann has opened a new periodical depot, on Daniel street, in the store recently the city liquor agency. He is prevented by ill health from pursuing his usual avocation, and is worthy of encouragement in his new business—to which he will attend with promptness and fidelity.

We learn that a line of Steamboats commence running next Monday, July 7, between Portsmouth and Boston, connecting with the steamer Cochecco, which will run regularly from this city to Portsmouth, for the transportation of passengers and freight.—Dover Gazette.

The people in this city have not before heard of this arrangement.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, July 3.

SENATE.—The temporary chairman took his seat at noon.

No Senators present.

After signing several enrolled bills, including the Kansas bill, adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr. Campbell gave notice that he would call for the Report of the Committee on the Sumner Assault on Tuesday, but would not then move the previous question, if the friends of the parties involved desired discussion.

Mr. Clingman said there would be a discussion.

Mr. Campbell then said he would move the previous question on Wednesday.

Mr. Barclay's motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill to admit Kansas into the Union with the Topeka constitution was rejected, was called up, and adopted by 101 yeas to 99 nays.

The bill was then passed—100 yeas against 97 nays, as follows:—

Yeas—Messrs. Albright, Allison, Ball, Barbour, Barclay, Bennett (of New York,) Benson, Billinghurst, Bingham, Bliss, Bradshaw, Brenton, Buffington, Campbell of Pa., Campbell of Ohio, Clark of New York, Clark of Conn., Clawson, Colfax, Comins, Covode, Cragin, Cumback, Danville, Davis of Mass., Dean, Dewitt, Dick, Dickinson, Dodd, Durfee, Edie, Edwards, Emrie, Flagler, Galloway, Giddings, Gilbert, Granger, Grow, Hall of Mass., Harlan, Hickman, Holloway, Horton of New York, Horton of Ohio, Howard, Hughston, Kelsey, King, Knapp, Knight, Knowlton, Knox, Kunkel, Leiter, Mattison, McCarty, Meacham, Miller of New York, Millward, Morgan, Morrill, Mott, Murray, Nichols, Oliver of New York, Parker, Pearce, Pelton, Perry, Pike, Pringle, Purviance, Robbins, Roberts, Robinson, Sabin, Sage, Sapp, Scott, Sherman, Skinner, Stranahan, Tappan, Thorington, Thurston, Todd, Trafton, Wade, Wakeman, Walbridge, Waldron, Washburn of Ill., Washburn of Wis., Washburn of Me., Welch, Woodruff, Woodworth, (one omitted.)—100.

Nays—Messrs. Aiken, Allen, Barksdale, Bell, Bennett of Miss., Bocock, Bowie, Branch, Brooks, Brown, Burnet, Cadwallader, Caruthers, Caskie, Clingman, Cobb of Georgia, Cobb of Ala., Cox, Craige, Crawford, Cullen, Davis of Md., Denvir, Dowdell, Dunn, Edmundson, English, Etheridge, Eustis, Evans, Faulkner, Florence, Fuller of Me. Fuller of Pa., Goode, Greenwood, Hall of Iowa, Harris of Md., Harris of Alabama, Harris of Ill., Harrison, Havens, Houston, Jewett, Jones of Tennessee, Jones of Pa., Kelley, Kennett, Kidwell, Lake, Lindley, Lumpkin, A. K. Marshall of Ky., H. Marshall of Ky., Marshall of Ill., M'Mullen, M'Queen, Miller of Ind., Millson, Oliver of Mo., Orr, Packer, Peck, Phelps, Porter, Powell, Purryear, Ready, Ricaud, Rivers, Ruffin, Rust, Sandridge, Savage, Seward, Shorter, Smith of Tenn., Smith of Va., Smith of Ala., Sweed, Stuart, Swope, Taylor, Trippe, Underwood, Valk, Walker, Warner, Watkins, Wheeler, Whitney, Williams, Winslow, Wright of Miss., Wright of Tenn., Zollicoffer—(one omitted)—97.

After an ineffectual effort to have an evening session, for the purpose of enabling members to speak, the House adjourned until Monday.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—The Boston Advertiser's Washington correspondent of Thursday evening says:

In the House to-day, the vote of Monday, rejecting the bill for the immediate admission of Kansas as a State, was reconsidered, and the bill was passed. This result causes much rejoicing.

The only vote changed from that of Monday was Barclay's (of Pa.) who moved the reconsideration. The Fillmore members all voted against the bill.

Senator Sumner is still at Mr. Blair's country-seat, six miles from Washington. I called to see him to-day, and found him greatly debilitated, although much better than two days ago. It is evident, however, that he is not so well as he was prior to his relapse last week. He is very anxious to resume his seat in the Senate, but it is certainly very doubtful whether he will be able to do so this session.

The statement that Mr. Sumner requested the Brooks trial to be postponed is entirely erroneous. On the contrary, he distinctly declined expressing any wish on the subject, taking the ground that he is not the prosecutor.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Republican Hot-Air Cooking Range.

THIS Range differs from all others in the market in the construction of its flues around the Oven, and from this result its chief advantages.

This range has an extra amount of radiating service in the Hot-Air Fixture connected with it. The Hot Water Fixtures are conveniently arranged, and sure to give satisfaction. No other Range has heavier castings where the parts are exposed to the fire.

Those purchasing Ranges should look well to the draught around the Oven, as the main thing, if they would secure evenness and quickness in baking, and economy in Fuel.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Cairo, and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those markets and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is dark, rich mould; from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one acre and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2 50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $2 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses for many miles inland, have been purchased of; —that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the price of $10.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent is equivalent to a proportionate increase of their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their connection, rapidly over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY MADE FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in exploring lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout which the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to
JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,
Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New State Passenger Depot, 50. Water-st. a8 6m.

Morning Chronicle.

COLUMBIA, LAND OF LIBERTY!—A Washington letter writer to the Atlas says:

You will have noticed a meeting at Piedmont, Fauqhir county, Virginia, at which a committee was appointed to notify a Mr. Underwood to leave the State. Mr. Underwood's offence is attending the Philadelphia Convention. He was here this morning on his return home, but will not go home, as it would unquestionably cost him his life. He is a New Yorker by birth, and resides in Clark county, ten miles from Piedmont. He is a farmer, and probably settled in Virginia in consequence of marrying there a daughter of Mr. Jackson, formerly a member of Con-Congress. The transaction illustrates the degree of liberty enjoyed at the South. The slavery of the blacks there is really light, compared with the slavery of the whites.—There is less freedom in Virginia to-day than there is in Lombardy, or even Naples. The slaveholders rule everybody, white and black, with a rod of iron. Their despotism is sleepless and relentless. It is a many-headed tyranny. The vengeance of one tyrant may be satisfied, but what can satiate this omnipresent monster?

GUNPOWDER.—It is evident that this explosive compound is to play a loud part in the present campaign. During what has been humorously styled the "Reception" of Mr. Fillmore, there was almost a continuous cannonade. When he landed on Sunday evening there was a prolonged salute. Wherever he went out there was firing. On his landing in Brooklyn, the consumption of gunpowder was prodigious. On his return, the firing was no less vigorous. The other parties, it must be confessed, have used gunpowder with less profusion—perhaps because they need it less. We can testify, from personal observation, that the presence among us of the Ex-Vice-President excited no feeling which, by any violence of language, could be called enthusiasm. In the expressive language of the Daily Times, it was "a ridiculous fizzle." Nor does the name or cause of Mr. Buchanan provoke any exuberance of expression from the people.

On the other hand, it were idle to deny that all there is in this city of intelligence, talent, private worth, and true Americanism, has taken sides—secretly or openly — for Fremont and Dayton. Right or wrong, the heart of the people in this vicinity is with the Republican cause. It needs no cannon to wake up the people of that party. A name, a word, a gesture, moves vast assemblies of Republicans, in a way that has had no parallel since the famous Harrison campaign. These are facts, and we have a right to chronicle them. N. Y. Life Illustrated.

TERRIBLE AFFAIR AND DEATH.—On Sunday evening, at Fort Washington, on the Hudson, the gardener of Mr. John M. Hopkins became insane from excessive drinking, and furiously attacked several people. An attempt was made by the neighbors, who rallied for mutual safety, to bind the maniac, or otherwise secure him. During the struggle that ensued, Mr. Hopkins was thrown to the ground and severely bitten in the fleshy part of the thigh, one of the bones of his finger was broken. Notwithstanding the assistance rendered by others, the man succeeded by his unnatural strength in breaking loose. Mr. John A. Haven's son, who was also attacked, received a wound in the head from a paving stone, and the female servants in the house were assaulted with great ferocity. The career of the infuriated man was at length terminated either by a blow across the forehead or by a pistol shot. His life appears to have been taken in self-defence.

NEW HAVEN, July 5.—Fatal Accident.—At New Canaan, Connecticut, yesterday, while some persons were preparing to fire a salute, a boy threw a fire cracker among a pile of cartridges, exploding the whole, by which twenty bystanders were badly burned. One is dead, and five others are not expected to live.

Mr. William L. Gage was ordained pastor of the Unitarian Society in Manchester, on the 25th ult.

B. B.—Gov. Wise concluded a late speech as follows:

"When a boy, shooting "geese, ducks and plover," along the Atlantic coast, he had always found "double bees"—BB shot—to be most effective. This is a BB ticket. Let it be called the "double bee" ticket. It is not only B. for Buchanan, but B. for a son of the child state of Virginia—Kentucky joined to Pennsylvania—Virginia's nephew and grandchild! Now with these double bees, we had only to load the democratic big gun, take aim at the butts of the wings of the leaders or watch-geese, let fly into the flock, and at every fire would bring down more game than we could bag."

OLD TIMES.—In 1771, the present meeting house in Amherst, Mass., was erected.—The following extract from the town records will show the state of public feeling then in regard to the use of ardent spirits. "A committee was chosen to purchase New England rum, not exceeding eight barrels, and one barrel of brown sugar for raising the meeting house." The raising was prolonged for several days, and during this four days meeting, it must have been a glorious time for the old soakers What zeal that class must have had for the building of meeting houses?—Trumpet.

This item shows, that in one respect, at least, the "former days" were not "better than these."

"WHEN BAD MEN COMBINE, GOOD MEN MUST UNITE."—This maxim, now so common-place, had its origin with Edmund Burke. It occurs in the celebrated "Thoughts on the Cause of the Present Discontent," the connection being as follows:—

"No man, who is not inflamed by vain glory into enthusiasm, can flatter himself that his single, unsupported, desultory, unsystematic endeavors are of power to defeat the subtle designs and united cabals of ambitious citizens. When bad men combine, the good must associate; else they will fall, one by one, an unpitied sacrifice, in a contemptible struggle."

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1856.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

LETTER FROM EXETER.

EXETER, July 7.

Messrs. Editors:—A few days since we visited the paper mills, which are situated in a portion of this town designated by the euphonious title of Pick-pocket; and having become somewhat iniatiated into the mysteries of paper-making, as well as interested in it, we have thought that an account of our visit might possibly interest your readers.

The mills which we visited have long been under the management of the Messrs. Flagg but for a few weeks past, Charles J. Fuller, Esq., has conducted them, and to him we would return our thanks for his kindness in introducing us to a manufactory where "No Admittance except on Business" did not appear over the door to further augment our already excited curiosity. From him we learned the following particulars, which we have endeavored to give as accurately as possible.

The rags which are collected by pedlars, are carried to such mills as these, but notwithstanding the large quantities thus obtained, the supply does not equal the demand, and often they are imported from Europe, and even from Egypt, and the East Indies.—The "waste" at factories, as well as the pieces of paper which are found mixed with the rags, is worked into wrapping paper. Calico rags, and cloth of that description, are made into news-paper, while the white pieces are used for the manufacture of writing paper.—The latter are also worked in with the colored rags, in making news-paper, when a better quality of the latter than usual is required. Of woolen rags it has been found impossible to make paper.

The rags are first, assorted by hand, and the dirt is separated from them as much as possible by sifting in a coarse sieve. They are then cut into small pieces by revolving machinery containing several knives, and are ready for boiling. For this process they are placed in a large tank, which will hold about 2800 lbs., and boiled for 24 hours. The water in this tank is constantly changing until it becomes perfectly free from oil, grease, &c.—Acids are also used "to start the colors" in order that these may be washed out, as this is absolutely necessary before the rags are fit to be made into paper. The process of boiling is also so conducted that the rags are cut up still finer, until they form a mere pulp. When this pulp has become comparatively clean, it passes from the boilers upon another sieve, and falls through, coming out nearly free from all impurities, but still passes through a fine revolving brass sieve, and becomes so fine that it clings to the outside of this, being taken off by a moving piece of felt which passes over it. On this felt it passes between rollers, which press out, in some measure, the water. It then separates itself from the felt and passes near a cast iron cylinder, heated by a furnace within it, and this removes the remaining moisture. After which it passes between other iron rollers by which the surface of the paper receives a polish, and which pass it along to the last rollers which contain knives and cut it any required length, it previously remaining one continuous piece, like paper hangings. After being pressed it is ready for the printer.

Mr. Fuller, at present, contemplates increasing his facilities for paper-making to a large extent at an early day. Among other improvements will be boiling by steam, which will supersede the present method of doing it by fire.

And now we will bring our letters to a close. They have been pleasant, and we think sometimes profitable to us;—if they have proved acceptable to your readers our object has been accomplished, and we rest content. G. F.

BROOKS' VIEWS.—In Charleston, S. C., the Buchanan ratification meeting has been held. Among those invited to speak at the meeting was Preston S. Brooks. He replied that he could not be present. The Charleston Mercury gives the substance of his reply as follows:

Mr. Brooks is detained in Washington by the peculiar position in which he is placed personally. But he urges briefly in his letter, that he considers the issue pending between the nominees of the Democratic and Black Republican parties, to be nothing less than Union and Disunion.

By Union, Brooks means Slavery: by Disunion he means Freedom. His platform is plain and simple.

ADJOURNMENT.—The Boston Advertiser's correspondent says, under date of Washington, July 6, Sunday evening:

The Senate's resolution for the adjournment of the session of Congress on the 28th of July grows in favor with the anti-administration men, and will probably be adopted.

Mr. S. H. Amsden was ordained pastor of the Baptist Church in Salisbury on 12th ult.

☞ Boston, on the 4th, was comparatively quiet. The Telegraph says:

At six o'clock on the evening before the Fourth, the extra police were in the streets, wearing badges with "Police" printed on them, and continued on duty till four o'clock the next morning. We are happy to state that their efforts to preserve peace were very successful. It is true they could not prevent the occasional report of a pistol or blast from a horn, but people from all parts of the city say they have not passed so still a third of July night for many years. The South End, was very still. At the North End and West End, there was rather more noise, but nothing compared with past years. The Mayor and Chief of Police deserve the thanks of the citizens.

The $1000 which Boston paid for 500 extra police, was probably saved from 5 to 50 times in preventing fires.

A similar zeal and determination in the citizens of Boston to crush out the groggeries, would doubtless be as successful.

DEAF MUTE MEETING.—There will be a meeting of the New England Gallaudet Association, at Concord, N. H., on Wednesday, Sept. 3, 1856. To which all members, and other deaf mutes, as well as such hearing persons as interest may induce to attend, are invited.

Laurent Clerc, A. M., of Hartford, Ct., was chosen as "Orator of the Day," but it is, as yet, uncertain whether he will be able to attend. Should he decline, the Committee pledge themselves to procure as good a substitute as possible.

As the addresses, and all other sayings, will necessarily be delivered in the sign language, the services of Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, of New York, have been secured, as interpreter for the benefit of the hearing portion of the assembly.

PERSONAL.—The papers report that after the public reception of Mr. Fillmore in Buffalo, he started in a private conveyance, to visit his aged father, now 86 years old, who resides on his farm in Aurora, 16 miles from that city.

The New York Directory for 1856-7 was begun and finished between the 2d May and 16th June last, and has cost work equal to nearly thirty years' labor of one person, not counting five power presses or other machinery at all. What an instance of the power of associated effort!

PHILADELPHIA COMFORT.—It is said of the Quaker City with its 600,000 people and 100,000 houses that there is more radiated comfort among the working classes of Philadelphia than any city in the world, owing to certain peculiarities in the tenure of land, to abundant markets, and to the presence of the great elements of wealth in iron and coal.

DEDICATION.—The new, expensive, and very beautiful House of Worship, erected for the use of the Universalist Society in Concord, was on Wednesday afternoon dedicated to the public worship, and service of Almighty God. The exercises took place in connection with those of the State Convention of Universalists and were as follows:

1. Voluntary.—2. Introductory Statement, by the pastor.—3. Chant.—4. Invocation.—5. Reading of the Scriptures, by Rev. N. R. Wright.—6. Select Piece, by the Choir.—7. Dedicatory Prayer, by Rev. B. M. Tillotson.—8. Hymn, written by W. Cullen Bryant.—9. Sermon, by Rev. A. A. Miner.—10. Anthem.—11. Benediction.

This Church is one of the largest in the State; is constructed of brick, stuccoed in imitation of marble, elegantly but suitably frescoed, and is provided with an organ of greater power than any other in the city.—This organ cost $2,500, and the architecture of its case corresponds with that of the edifice itself.—Concord Statesman.

MORE MOB LAW IN MISSOURI.—It appears that there is in Rochester, Andrew Co., Mo., a Northern Methodist Church, and the citizens, ignorant it appears of the action of the General Conference at Indianapolis, getting the idea that this church declared its members could not hold slaves, met and calmly voted it to be a "nuisance."

"It was then declared to be the will of the community that the preacher in charge of the Northern Methodist Church should be silenced. He was accordingly asked to desist from preaching, but he would not comply, and the St Joseph Gazette informs us that, "as the penalty of his temerity he was tarred and feathered." In the difficulty which occurred, another man named Holland, an "Abolitionist," was killed. A series of resolutions were adopted, declaring that every Northern Methodist Anti-slavery man in the county should be notified by the Vigilance Committee, to "pack up and leave."

As there appears to be no authority to check this scandalous edict, it will no doubt be enforced by the ruffianly mob.

NEW YORK, 5th.—The Fourth in New York.—The Fourth was celebrated in this city and vicinity with the usual demonstrations, and about the average number of accidents.

A young woman named Hannah Widean was shot dead, while standing in her yard, by a shot from a pistol, fired from a neighboring window by another young womam named Amelia Steward. The affair was purely accidental.

A young man, named James Fagan, was stabbed to the heart in an affay at a ball in Prince street.

The statue of Washington was inaugurated early in the morning at Union square, in the presence of a vast concourse of citizens. The ceremonies were imposing, the inaugural address being delivered by Dr. Bethune.

FEARFUL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The fragments of a human body were found on the Worcester Railroad, just beyond Newton-corner, on Friday morning. There was no particle big enough for identification; yet it is surmised that the person killed was an Irishman named Tobin, who is missing from his home in Newtonville.

NO STAIN LEFT.

The ease with which Dyer's Healing Embrocation is applied, the absence of any grease or oily substance in its composition, its perfect neatness, leaving no stain upon the dress or skin, its agreeable color, its prompt, unfailing efficacious effects, render it the most valuable and cheapest medicine that can be used.

The genuine has the fac simile of the Proprietor's signature.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

WOODBURY, VT.

I hereby certify that I have been troubled with a pain in the side, what my physician called the Liver Complaint, for five years, and have tried various kinds of medicine, but never found any that relieved me until I tried Dr. Hayden's Pills. They have cured me entirely, and I can recommend them to the community as the best pills I have ever used.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.—July 7th.—Before Justice Odell.—Catharine Calliken, for assault on Ann Rourk on the 4th of July. Found guilty and fined $1,00 and costs, $5,70, and to recognize in $50 to keep the peace.

Timothy Sullivan for being a common drunkard—found guilty and confined to hard labor in House of Correction 30 days.

James Kehoe was accused of breaking into Andrew B. Goodrich's house and groggery in the west part of the town, and doing much damage on the night of July 3. Mrs. G. swore positively to Kehoe's identity—but he proved an alibi, and was discharged.

John Weldon, for an assault on Thomas Lyons, on the 4th of July, was fined $5; costs $5,87; and $50 bonds to keep the peace.

The same person was found not guilty of an assault on Cornelius Lyons.

ERROR CORRECTED.

Messrs. Editors:—I notice in your Police Report of Monday that you make use of my name as being engaged in an assault on the 4th inst. This is a great mistake, and I take this method to correct it.

I have always kept clear of the "Police Court," and have endeavored to conduct in such a manner as to meet the approbation of the community and of those with whom I associate. The young man you should have mentioned is Albert Rand, who might have been seen at the Court House on Saturday, surrounded by his boon companions.

Yours, ALLEN A. RAND.

The error should be corrected. In reading the documents in the Police Court, and calling the names, the name was sometimes called Albert, and we so wrote it, at first—but afterwards it was called Allen, and we altered it to agree. The mistake is easily made, but the injustice is to be regretted, as it may injure those who are innocent.

☞ A boat from this city went out of the harbor on Sunday, for an excursion—containing four men, viz. Barney M'Kenney, Robert Alvan, Michael Mellen, and Wm. Franklin, the latter from Newcastle. On Monday, the boat was found, with the dead bodies of Franklin and M'Kenney in it; and the other two are also drowned, no doubt.

Three of the above were employed in the Portsmouth Steam Factory.

☞ We have already mentioned that Mr. Chas. A. Shannon fell from a stage, at Mr. Myers' house, Gravelly Ridge, one day last week. Mr. Shannon and Mr. Stephen D. Scriggins, were painting the house, when the rope which held their stage, parted at the ridgepole, and both fell to the ground, a distance of twenty feet. They were severely injured, though no bones were broken; and they are quite sick at the present time.

LIBERAL SUBSCRIPTION.—We are informed that the workmen and some officers on the Navy Yard, subscribed $175 and presented it to the family of Mr. Wm. Fernald of Eliot, (not Kittery,) who died on Saturday in consequence of a hurt received on the Yard. A creditable instance and example of liberal sympathy.

☞ Jim Myers' Great Show, having concluded their tour down east, on Saturday took steamboat at Bangor for Portland; and on Sunday passed through this city, on their way to Boston, where the company are to exhibit again. Their entire baggage, and accoutrements were taken along, end formed quite a long train.

BANNERS.—Four handsome American Flags, are now waying in the breezes, (blow which way they may—physically or politically,) as the rallying banners of the two great political parties, in this city. The Democrats have swung one, bearing on its centre the names of Buchanan and Breckinridge, between the Gazette office and the Custom House, in Daniel street; and the Fremont and Dayton flag of the National Republicans also floats over the head of the same street.

Two beautiful new flags were hoisted on Christian Shore, on Friday last—the Democrats hanging theirs to the south of the corner of Dennett street, and overhanging North street. This has simply the names of the Democratic candidates. A few rods west, on the other side of Dennett street, between two lofty hickory poles waves the flag of the Republicans, which is inscribed with the names of John C. Fremont and William R. Dayton, and also the motto, "Now or never—now and forever." These bright and handsome flags, waving near and among the green trees, present a very beautiful appearance, especially when viewed with the sun behind them.

But flags don't make elections (and we guess there will be no flagging about election this year) and one of these must trail, bye and bye. Which will it be—who knows? and where's the Fillmore flag?

GRAND PICNIC.—Mr. Dimon advertises one more Strawberry Festival (and the last, for the strawberry season is about over,) to be held in his Greenhouse at Stratham, to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon. Single tickets (which include the ride out and back over the P. & C. Railroad) only $1,00, or $1,50 per couple. This certainly is a chance for a pleasant excursion at a small expense. It is worth a dollar to stroll for an hour or two around the grounds of Highland Cottage;—to say nothing of a pleasant ride, and a supper well worth the price of a ticket. All who attended his 4th of July Festival, pronounced it one of the most agreeable entertainments—and doubtless this will be like it, only more so. "Now or never."

☞ The Piscataqua Association will meet with Rev. J. T. Otis, in Rye, on Tuesday, July 15th, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

The Harmony Association meets at Ossipee Centre on the same day at 11 o'clock, with Rev. Horace Wood.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, 7th

SENATE.—The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill for improving the mouth of the Mississippi, which was vetoed by the President.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE BALTIC.

NEW YORK, July 6.

The Baltic, from Liverpool June 25, 1 P. M., arrived at ten o'clock this morning.

Edward Bilton & Co., merchants, Newcastle, have stopped payment, with heavy liabilities.

The ship Marco Polo had arrived at Liverpool from Melbourne, with £316,000 in gold.

Parliament has been discussing the propriety of altering the form of test oaths.

The Committee of the Commons on the Danish Sound Dues had commenced its session.

England and America.—A London paper gives the following summary of the news of the week, as regards the relations with the United States:—Judging from the country newspapers, most of which reach us at the end of the week, we should say that the country is delighted with the turn that the American question has taken, and it is surprising how much the public have become enlightened on the subject by the cheap press, almost every news paper of that class having devoted itself to a rational exposition of our American difficulties. The country is also pleased with the nomination of Mr. Buchanan, but it does not appear to understand that Mr. Buchanan, in order to obtain this honor, has set his face against the great movement for the emancipation of the slaves.

To this our correspondent adds that the excitement on American affairs has subsided so much as no longer to exercise any unsettling effects on the markets. Several of the leading and wooden-headed leading presses continue to keep up a series of grumbling editorials, but on the whole they are pitched in a more reasonable key. The London Times, however, warns the government to have the Central American affair settled up before Mr. Buchanan shall come to the Presidency, the recruiting affair having been Mr. Pierce's question, and Central America Mr. Buchanan's.

Russia.—The town of Kars had been surrendered to the Turks, and the Turkish troops had evacuated Redoubt Kaleh.

The demolition by the Russians of the fortifications of Reni and Ismael is confirmed.—Workmen are employed under engineer officers in levelling the walls, and sending the stones to Odessa. The Russians say that the fortifications they are destroying were built by themselves, and that they will give up the fortress to the Turks in the same condition as it was when captured by Suwarrow.

POLITICAL.—Washington, July 5.—The Republicans have had a meeting, and agreed to resist to the last, the taking up of Toombs' bill from the Speaker's table. They have also agreed to adjourn at an early day.

Gov. Stevens of Washington territory will be removed, and Col. Tilton appointed in his place.

Murder.—There was no public celebration of the 4th of July in this city, and the only noticeable event was the murder of a sea captain named Charles A. Bell, a native of Bremen, at a German merry-making in the suburbs of Washington last night.

Gen. P. Smith has been appointed to succeed Brigadier General Clarke, in charge of the military department, West. The headquarters will be removed from St. Louis to Fort Leavenworth. Col. Sumner will remain in Kansas, subordinate to Gen. Smith.

The administration has received no intimation from Governor Shannon of his intention to resign the Governorship of Kansas, but has received despatches from him since the date of his alleged letter to Col. Buford saying he had resigned.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Republican Hot-Air Cooking Range.

THIS Range differs from all others in the market in the construction of its flues around the Oven, and from this result its chief advantages.

This range has an extra amount of radiating service in the Hot-Air Fixtures connected with it. The Hot Water Fixtures are conveniently arranged, and sure to give satisfaction. No other Range has heavier castings where the parts are exposed to the fire.

Those purchasing Ranges should look well to the draught around the Oven, as the main thing, if they would secure evenness and quickness in baking, and economy in Fuel.

STEAMER M. SANFORD.—The Steamer Menemon Sandford, which runs on the route between Boston and Bangor, left Boston at midnight on Friday for the latter city, with a large number of passengers, and at about half past two o'clock on Saturday morning went ashore on Thatcher's Island, off the Eastern point of Cape Ann. The Steamer was going at a good rate of speed, and she ran on the rocks with so much force as to throw passengers from their berths, and she went on so far that they could drop upon the rocks from the bows. In the morning thirty-five passengers left in the schooner Flying Dart, and returned to Boston.

The steamers Lewiston and Eastern City and a steam tug were despatched by the agent of the M. Sandford to render her all possible assistance. A large number of empty casks were sent down in the Eastern City to aid in floating her off. The Lewiston returned yesterday morning with the remainder of the passengers, and left again about noon, with casks. When the Lewiston left, the forward wood ends of the M. Sandford had started, her bows high and dry, her stern in sea feet water, and she had filled. The M. Sandford is a large, strongly built boat, and will undoubtedly be floated off. How the accident occurred we are unable to ascertain.—Boston Courier.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within three miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stones picked off, as usual in the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Timbermore coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no navigable rivers for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them. The Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska. Although valuable lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained by application from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged by this Company, is generable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will yield him a home more increased value for four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—and any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

MORNING CHRONICLE.

BY MILLER & GRAY. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., WEDNESDAY, JULY 9, 1856. VOLUME 8. NO. 135

THE DAILY MORNING CHRONICLE

FRANK W. MILLER & SAMUEL GRAY,
At No. 4 Exchange Buildings,
Pleasant Street, ... Portsmouth, N. H.
TERMS $4 a year, or $3 if paid strictly in advance.

The Weekly Chronicle and N. H. Phenix,
A family newspaper, containing the news of the week, with carefully selected miscellany, &c., is published as above, every Saturday morning.
TERMS $1 a year, in advance. Delivered on any railroad or stage route leading from Portsmouth, free of expense to subscribers. Postage in Rockingham County, free.

TAXES IN PORTSMOUTH.

The rate of taxation in 1855 was 83 7-8 cents, the present year it is 74 1-2 cents on $100. Thus every man taxed $40 is rated to be worth $5370. The amount of assessment however is not in every case an index of a man's property. The tax on stock in some Banks, in the Steam Factory, and in the E. Railroad in New-Hampshire, being paid by the corporations, thus much diminishes the tax of the individual stockholders. This accounts for the low tax of some large stockholders. The whole amount assessed this year is $47,476,58.

Tax Payers in Portsmouth, assessed over $40.

☞ There has been a great Fillmore ratification meeting in Philadelphia.—The Boston Courier says, in regard to this meeting:

If there is anything to say with regard to this meeting, except the assurance which should be given to the Fremont men everywhere that there was never any Abolition or anti-slavery feeling in eastern Pennsylvania, or in New Jersey, it should be said to them, that if they want to defeat Mr. Buchanan, as they pretend that they do, they must take Mr. Fillmore. The Whigs will vote for Mr. Fillmore, without any regard to the party which has nominated him.

That is, we suppose, the Whigs of Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON ITEM.—The Boston Advertiser's dispatch of Monday evening says:

The neglect of the House to consider today the Senate's resolution for adjournment, is no indication of its unpopularity. The republicans will not vote for it until after consultation and agreement to go together.

THE DEEP SEA SOUNDINGS.—The United States propeller Arctic, now fitting out for that purpose at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, leaves early next week, in charge of Lieutenant Commanding Berryman, to complete the deep-sea soundings between Newfoundland and Ireland, which were commenced some time since by him while in command of the Dolphin. Lieutenant Strain will accompany the expedition

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—At South Hanson, Ms. on Sunday afternoon, a man by the name of Ezra Phillips, while leading a horse to water, was struck by lightning and instantly killed, together with the horse. In Essex, on the afternoon of the 4th. Mr. William Burnham, 2d, an elderly man, while sitting at a window in his house, was instantly killed by a flash of lightning—the second death from the same cause in that town last week.

THE QUEEN OF SPAIN.—The last news from this unfortunate sovereign is to the effect that she had been indisposed since June 19. She was ordered to be bled, but a miscarriage was understood to have taken place on the Friday night before.

Claims against the United States.
WILLIAM H. HACKETT,
ATTORNEY AT LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC,
Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H.
Over the Piscataqua Exchange Bank,
HAVING had several years' experience in the business, would announce that he continues to prosecute claims for Pensions, Bounty Land, and all other claims arising under the Laws of the United States, or before the COURT OF CLAIMS established by Congress, or before any of the Departments of the Government, and he respectfully solicits a continuance of the liberal patronage he has hitherto received.
Pensions and Arrearages of Pensions of Revolutionary Soldiers, Soldiers of the war of 1812, Mexican War, Officers, Seamen and Marines of the Navy—their Widows and heirs.
Particular attention given to rejected and suspended claims for Bounty Land, for the prosecution of which he has unrivalled facilities.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 9, 1856.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.—By a very remarkable vote in the Senate, on Monday, the doctrine is established, that the Federal Government has power to spend money for some other and better objects than war and mischief.

The bill for the improvement of the mouth of the Mississippi river, recently vetoed by the President, was taken up, and after debate, was passed by a two-thirds vote, the President's objections to the contrary notwithstanding. The bills for the improvement of the St. Mary's river and St. Clair flats were also passed over the President's veto. The Boston Advertiser calls it, the "gratifying intelligence of a sturdy independence in the United States Senate."

The Boston Courier announces that "the President's vetoes upon harbor improvement bills were very summarily disposed of, by large constitutional votes in their favor.—The President was deserted even by Messrs. Cass, Douglas and Weller. No man worships the setting sun. Mr. Brodhead of Pennsylvania adhered to the declining fortunes of Mr. Pierce, and it may be a very pregnant question as to whether he represents Mr. Buchanan in his votes."

We perceive that our Senators from New Hampshire, Hale and Bell, voted for the passage of the bills.

KENTUCKY WHIG STATE CONVENTION.—This body met at Louisville on the 4th, and seventeen counties were represented. The delegates concluded not to advocate the calling of a whig national convention, but to leave every whig to vote according to his own judgment. In pursuance of this course, they declined expressing, as a body, a preference for any candidate. A resolution expressing the confidence of the whigs of Kentucky in Millard Fillmore, and saying he was as worthy of their support as in 1848, was rejected by the vote of sixteen counties against, to one in favor.

This does not show Fillmore stock to be much above par in Kentucky.

☞ A great petition has been made in Boston, for the discharge of Coburn and Dalton from jail. But the Governor and Council have declined to do it. Dalton will not, therefore, be released until the expiration of his sentence, August 5th, while Coburn remains six months longer.

☞ A drunken Virginian gentleman, named Hugh R. Pleasants, went into Governor Wise's house, talked impudently, and squared off to strike. But Wise struck him, kicked him, and turned him out of doors.—The telegraphic dispatch says:

The Know Nothings of the city are very indignant about the affair.

If so, they must be real know nothings, or something worse.

☞ Putnam's Monthly for July, comes to us from Williams & Co., Boston, via J. H. Foster, jr., of this city. The contents are:

Uncle Tom at Home; The Mayflowers;—The Spider's Eye; New Poetry; The true Story of the Cruise of the Portland; News from Grassland—A Mountain Letter from John St. John, Esq., to his friend in town; The Boy of the Lighthouse; Elephant-Back in Burmah; The Song of the Sea-shell; A Dead Wall in Paris; Epitaph on a Child; Napoleon Bonaparte as a Family man—Third and last Article; A small German University Town; Mrs. Professor Kramps; The Political Aspect; Editorial Notes.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY, July 3.

HOUSE.—The House by a vote of 149 to 17 declared that Wm. H. Cummings, of Lisbon, is not entitled to a seat in the House. He was chosen as a second Representative, though it was known the town had not voters enough to warrant the step.

MONDAY, July 7.

HOUSE.—A bill was introduced by Mr. Cross of Manchester, on leave, to amend chap. 1658 of the Pamphlet Laws, being the Liquor law.

Mr. Cross stated that the changes proposed by the bill were two; to abolish town agencies, and give selectmen power to license individuals; and to abolish that part of the law now existing, in relation to seizure of liquors.

Mr. Cram of Conway moved the indefinite postponement of the bill, but the motion was lost, yeas 60, nays 111. The bill was then read twice and referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT AND WARNING.—Mrs. Sally Goldthwaite, of Smithfield, aged 76 years, was instantly killed at Pawtucket station on the evening of the Fourth, in consequence of falling between the cars. She was passing from one car to another, and missing her step, fell upon the track; but before the train could be stopped, four cars passed over her body. This is another of the many sad warnings to persons in the habit of passing from car to car while the train is in motion.—Providence Post.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, July 7.

SENATE.—The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill for improving the mouth of the Mississippi, which was vetoed by the President.

Mr. Slidell spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Cass said, in the remarks he proposed to make on this occasion, he should not so much advert to the particular improvement provided for in the bill before the Senate, the importance of which had been so ably and eloquently set forth by the two Senators from Louisiana, as to the improvements at St. Mary's River and St. Clair Flats, in which his own constituents were interested; which had also been vetoed by the President. No man could fail to perceive the views of the President had undergone a radical change relative to this subject since he sent in his Veto Message on the River and Harbor Bill two years ago. On that occasion the President declared, while he could not sanction a general bill, because it contained some objectionable items yet there were some meritorious objects, and if separate bills, making appropriations for them, were sent to him, he would approve and sign them. This was precisely the course pursued by the Senate. If any objects were National and Constitutional, those in the bills which the President recently vetoed would come under that head.

Mr. Cass argued in favor of the constitutionality of these improvements, quoting the views of Jackson and Calhoun to sustain him in his positions.

The question was taken, "Shall the Bill pass, the objections of the President to the contrary notwithstanding;" and the vote resulted yeas 31, nays 12, as follows:—

Yeas—Messrs. Allen, Bayard, Bell of N. H., Bell of Tenn., Benjamin, Bright, Brown, Cass, Collamer, Crittenden, Dodge, Douglas, Durkee, Fessenden, Foot, Foster, Geyer, Hale, James, Johnson, Jones of Iowa, Pearce, Pugh, Sebastian, Seward, Slidell, Stuart, Thomson of Ky., Trumbull, Wade, Weller,—31.

Nays—Messrs. Briggs, Brodhead, Butler, Clay, Evans, Fitzpatrick, Hunter, Mason, Reid, Toombs, Toucey, Yulee,—12.

The Chair announced that two thirds of those present having voted for the Bill it was passed.

Mr. Mason thought it required two thirds of all the members of the Senate, and appealed from the decision of the Chair.

A discussion ensued, in which Messrs. Seward, Benjamin, Thompson of New York, Slidell, Crittenden and others sustained the chair, and Messrs. Butler, Clay, Toombs, Mason and others opposed the decision.

A vote being taken, the Chair was sustained by 34 against 7.

The Senate then passed the St. Mary's River, and St. Clair Flats improvement bills over the President's veto, the former by 28 against 10, and the latter by 28 against 8.

The House bill for the admission of Kansas, was referred to the Committee on Territories. Adj.

HOUSE.—The House ordered to be engrossed for a third reading, the bill providing for a settlement for the officers of the Revolutionary army, and the widows and orphans of those that died in service.

Mr. Houston moved a suspension of the rules, in order to act on the Senate's resolutions, fixing a day for the adjournment of Congress. Negatived by 74 against 98.

The Senate bill authorizing the people of Kansas to form a Constitution and State government was ordered to be printed, together with the amendments offered by Messrs. Dunn, Haven and Bennett of New York.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio asked leave to offer a resolution providing for the appointment of a select committee by the Speaker, to report a bill for the adjustment of difficulties in Kansas, and the restoration of peace and good order, embracing a proposition for the restoration of the Missouri Compromise, the protection of voters, the removal of test oaths, etc.

Mr. Cobb of Georgia said the Senate bill was good enough for them. He moved to adjourn.

PORTLAND, July 8. Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, U. S. Senator in Congress, was this day nominated as the candidate of the Republicans, for Governor of Maine. Whole number of Delegates, 1186. Votes cast, 1140. Hamlin had 1062. Not less than 3000 strangers in the city. G.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS.—Dr. Ayer's business Agents are a pleasant annual to us, coming about as surely as the year. We can say of them what we are sorry we cannot of all such visitors—that they are uniformly gentlemen. They are known to us of the press, as able, reliable and accomplished business men of a character well worhy the benevolent calling in which they are engaged, of promulgating the best remedies for the sick, this age affords. Success to you gentlemen, and to your cause, for both deserve success.—Hartford Courant.

Mr. A. Hook who has lately favored us with a call, does ample credit to our brother's views, and we commend him to the cordial reception of our fraternity—long may he wave.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and rosate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Potter & Hammond's Penmanship.

J. F. SHORES, JR., No. Congress Block, has just received Potter & Hammond's System of Penmanship, in Ten numbers, as taught by the authors, at the Providence Commercial Academy.

The authors claim that their Writing Books are arranged on a plan, at once original and more systematic, than any other similar work now before the public. They have aimed at simplicity in the forms of the letters, discarding all ornament, and arranged them according to the similarity of their formation, and elementary principles, so that every letter made is a step towards the next.

The copies are a compromise between the angular and round, and the result of many years teaching and study. They are written in an open easy style, and are elegantly lithographed upon the top of each page.

The system is comprised in ten books, (copyright recured,) arranged according to the plan found upon the cover of each book, together with the authors' method of teaching. Jy9 2

The Last for the Season.
Strawberry Festival

AT HIGHLAND COTTAGE, STRATHAM, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, JULY 9, J. H. DIMAN respectfully invites his friends to make up a select PIC NIC PARTY of Ladies and Gentlemen, on the afternoon of WEDNESDAY, July 9, in his Greenhouse, near the Cottage.

Supper will be served about 5 o'clock—cold Meats, Cakes and Pies, all the Fruits of the season, Strawberries and Cream, Lemonade, &c.

Single Tickets $1; Tickets for a Lady and Gentleman $1.50—to be had of W. R. Preston and J. H. Diman, and at the P. & C. Railroad Ticket office. This price includes the ride up and back.

This will be the last chance for procuring Strawberries, as the season is over.

An extra train on the P. & C. Railroad, will leave Portsmouth at 4 o'clock, for Stratham Depot, and return at about 7½ o'clock.

The Cottage will be open during the day, as usual, for the reception of visitors. Jy8

☞ Should the weather be stormy, the Festival will be postponed to the first fair afternoon.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: If you wish any person to see anything, show it; If you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here is offered you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

COWS, AND DIRTY STREETS.

Messrs. Editors:—I had occasion a few days since to pass through Greenland and the lower part of Stratham, on my way to Durham. I could not help noticing the contrast between their roads and our streets.

After leaving Portsmouth, not a single animal of any kind did I see strolling in the road, between Portsmouth and New Market Bridge. The road was lined with clover, herds-grass and flowers, equal to the fields reserved for mowing. It is enough to do one good to ride in streets or roads for public benefit while thus kept.

The contrast between the roads above named and the dirty streets about the central part of this city being so great, leads me to inquire if any one can show the reason why it is so?

Market street and about Market Square are certainly more filthy than the barn yard of any farmer who makes pretence to care for the decency of appearance. Streets traversed by ladies during a great part of the day ought to be free from dirt such as encumbers Market street. Some portions of others certainly contain nuisances, that ought not to be endured at any time, but more especially in warm weather.

Can any one show why it is so, or why it is not kept in decent order? Is it to be charged to the retrenchment account? N.

CAPT. JAMES SMITH.—The Funeral Service of Capt. James Smith was attended in the new North Church, on Thursday afternoon—and his remains were attended to their resting place by St. John's Lodge of Freemasons, of which he was a member, and who performed their funeral ceremonies at the place of interment, assisted by the members of St. Andrew's Lodge.

A friend furnishes the following notice of his character.

The virtues of the living are often kept to their growth, by reverent remembrance of the departed. A truly good man is in a measure self-producing. Others are fashioned into his image,—more or less completely. Such a man has just been removed from us—Mr. Smith had in the foundations of his character a guileless honesty, and truthfulness of heart, which fashioned all the after growths of his life. He was spared to live through all the ordinary stages of life, and to perfect his inner man by all the varied influences of a full-developed life. His religious character was begun by an event, which, by itself and its consequences, formed an era. Few conversions from arrant, restless scepticism, to a sound, firm faith in Jesus Christ, are ever seen more distinct and decisive.

Benignity became,—at least in his latter days,—the marked expression of his countenance and character.

Such a countenance is rarely seen. A kind of sublimed endurance and trust stamped it. No observer would fail to note it. It was a remarkable transcript of a manful, honest, thoughtful and earnest heart.

He was a full fair orb, moving in an humble sphere, honoring his place in life, much more than his place honored him. Truly "a christian is the highest style of man." G.

N. H. LAW.

AN ACT relating to the Police Court of the City of Portsmouth.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened—All writs and processes, in civil actions, (except writs against tenants) returnable to said Court, shall be made returnable on the last Monday of every month, at ten o'clock, in the forenoon; and the same may be continued from time to time, as may be necessary.

SEC. 2. The Associate Justice of said Court may hold the office, exercise the powers and perform the duties of Clerk of said Court, whenever it shall happen from any cause, that the Justice of said Court shall be unable to act as Clerk thereof.

SEC. 3. All writs, executions and processes, in civil actions, issuing from said Court, shall be under the seal of said Court, bear test of the Justice, and be signed by the Clerk thereof.

SEC. 4. Writs of summons against tenants may be made returnable into said Court on any day of any month.

SEC. 5. The same fees and costs shall be allowed in civil actions, in said Court, as are, or may be legally allowed, in such actions, by Justices of the Peace.

SEC. 6. All fines, forfeitures, penalties, fees and costs accruing in, or paid by order of said Court, except fees and costs allowed to parties, in civil actions, shall be paid to the City Marshal, in the same manner they are now required by law to be paid to the Justice of said Court. And the City Marshal shall pay all monies which shall be so received by him, to the City Treasurer, at such times and under such regulations and penalties as the City Council shall prescribe.

SEC. 7. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 8. This act shall take effect on and after its passage. Approved June 20, 1856.

GRAND PICNIC.—Mr. Diman advertises one more Strawberry Festival (and the last, for the strawberry season is about over,) to be held in his Greenhouse at Stratham, this (Wednesday) afternoon, 9th. Single tickets (which include the ride out and back over the P. & C. Railroad) only $1,00, or $1,50 per couple. This certainly is a chance for a pleasant excursion at a small expense. It is worth a dollar to stroll for an hour or two around the grounds of Highland Cottage;—to say nothing of a pleasant ride, and a supper well worth the price of a ticket. All who attended his 4th of July Festival, pronounced it one of the most agreeable entertainments—and doubtless this will be like it, only more so. "Now or never."

If the weather should be unfavorable, the Festival will be postponed to the first pleasant afternoon.

☞ The individual named Scriggins, who was injured by falling from Mr. Myers's house, was not Mr. Stephen D. Scriggins, but a younger man of the same family name, who is in the employ of Messrs. Swazey & Rowell. Mr. S. D. Scriggins is as well as usual, and, as he advertises, ready to attend to all orders in the painting line, at his old stand, on Congress street.

SHIP ELLA E. BADGER.

Let Poets praise the Aquatic tribes,
The Naiads, Dryads, Neptune's brides.
They're all mere phantoms of the brain,
By a fabled god they all were slain.
But when ship Ella E. Badger 's viewed
Outside and in, the critic shrewd
In ecstasy is heard to say,
She'll wear her laurels any day.
The veteran builder showed his skill
As architect, that she might fill
A space upon the Ocean wide,
With beauty, comeliness and pride:
Then from the forest took the best,
And all her stock put to the test,
Of workmanship, from stem to stern:
Methinks she would please Fanny Fern,
Or any lady in our land
Who has good judgment at command.
But stop, my muse, your wild career:
May this ship float for many a year.

BOILING ROCK.

GOOD TURN-OUTS.—An experienced horseman remarked to us a day or two since, that there are not, in all the towns between Portsmouth and Boston, so many good livery teams, to let, as in this city. And that the Hacks in attendance at our Depots and elsewhere, are much better than the average in most cities of the size of ours. This every one knows, who has observed the matter. We notice that Messrs. Dennett & Sides have just put a couple of nice carriages into the service of the public; and that the Franklin House is served by a carriage, recently nicely refitted. Enterprise is commendable, and it certainly is more agreeable to ride in a good-looking carriage, than in the old rattle-traps sometimes used.

☞ On the first page, will be found the list of tax-payers in Portsmouth who are assessed $40 and upwards. The amount of taxable property having been increased, and the appropriations diminished, the per centage is somewhat less than last year.

Republican Hot-Air Cooking Range.

THIS Range differs from all others in the market in the construction of its flues around the Oven, and from this result its chief advantages.
This range has an extra amount of radiating service in the Hot-Air Fixtures connected with it. The Hot Water Fixtures are convenient, nicely arranged, and sure to give satisfaction. No other Range has heavier castings where the parts are exposed to the fire.
Those purchasing Ranges should look well to the draught around the Oven, as the main thing, if they would secure evenness and quickness in baking, and economy in Fuel.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BEMIFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its recent use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. ERIEN DENOUNT, M.D.

A. R. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1856.

FRIENDS AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chief diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 24 Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we recommend your Pectoral, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. I have myself been relieved from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 9, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cared so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

AMOS HODGE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of a bad cough, which many of her friends we could perceive gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,

ORLANDO SHELBY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is the result of the best medical chemistry in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win and precedentedly open the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart health, tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce or those lands are carried adds a tax on the uninterrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from farms, and of course a return of their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for deeds may be made during the first five years, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of the contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground adjacent to where on the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. At the same time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the States—with the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,

Morning Chronicle.

PORTLAND.

The Journal & Enquirer of the 3d, says:.

We have intended, at some fitting time, to refer to the actual state of temperance among us, and to contrast our condition under the new law, with that which existed under the Maine Law. What we shall say, will relate to facts perfectly notorious in this city, and throughout the State.

At the time of the enactment of the Maine Law, June 2, 1851—the Rum Traffic was unlawful in this State, and had been so since 1846, except for medicine and the arts, but the penalties of the law were so feeble, and the provisions for its enforcement so loose, that the general traffic did in fact exist, without any practical let or hindrance.

There were at that time between three hundred and four hundred open rum shops in this city, many of them wholesale shops, where large stocks of liquors were paraded for sale; even the sidewalks being encumbered every day with large and numerous packages of liquors, as of other goods, going into and out of store, and our wharves were covered with them, as with other wares, as they were received by packets and steamers.

But immediately upon the enactment of the Maine Law, all this was suddenly changed: The wholesale traffic was utterly annihilated throughout the State; the only distillery in the State ceased operations, and the retail traffic was almost destroyed, being carried on in dark and secret places, and with great caution, where it existed at all, and in many parts of the State it was entirely destroyed. The stocks of liquors of the wholesale dealers were sent off out of the State, for sale elsewhere.

All this is perfectly well known to all our people, and may be contrasted with the condition of things now existing among us. Our new law has been in operation about two months, and already we have innumerable grog shops all around the city. We have wholesale dealers advertising all sorts of liquors for sale at auction and otherwise. Our sidewalks are again blocked up with long double rows of casks of rum on sale. Our wharves are again encumbered by the deadly cargoes of liquors on their mission of degradation and death to every city, village and hamlet in the State. That same old distiller is again preparing to reanimate the worm of the still — which shall send temporal and eternal ruin to thousands for whom Christ died. Country teams are again seen, as of old, bearing their baleful freight into the rural districts, to despoil them of their beauty and glory, and to reduce them once more to that wretched condition in which they were, "in the old rum times."

As the result of this change in the law and the traffic under the law, drunken men and even boys are again seen every day staggering through the streets in every degree of inebriety. Sundays, worst of all, made hideous by drunken brawls and rows—and peaceful church goers disturbed and disgusted by dreadful exhibitions of the effects of rum—even in our crowded Sabbath streets.

The law, as it now stands, declares rum shops to be good and useful; our law makers teach men so; and the young and inexperienced take up the word and embrace the sentiment, that rum shops are good and necessary—that Rum is a good and necessary thing—and consequently a reckless intemperance is prevailing among our youth to a dreadful extent, visiting the families of these legislators with a fearful retribution, which shall bring the hoary heads of many of them with anguish to the grave, and extort from them the cry, as they pass away, our "punishment is greater then we can bear."

The people see all this; they feel it, and will apply the needful remedy. Wait a little longer.

☞ The Newburyport Herald of Tuesday says;

There has been no case before the Police court of this city, for any offence committed since last Wednesday. What place of 14,000 inhabitants can say as much for their peace, quiet and morality during the Independence period, the 4th, and the two days preceding and succeeding?

LOWELL, MS.—The News gives the following account of a ladies' celebration there, which occurred on Merrimack street, Thursday night. The particulars seem to be about as follows:—"A grog shop was about being started at No. 69 Merrimack street. The locality is just above John street, on a side chiefly occupied by lady shopkeepers. Not relishing such a place so near to them, the ladies—so we hear—to the number of about fifty, made a descent on the place, Thursday night, and rolled out and tapped nearly the whole lot of the ardent. The owners getting wind of the affair hastened to the rescue, but too late; the spirits were "departed spirits," and so were the ladies. The owners report the following losses—Item, one cask English gin; item, one cask Scotch whiskey; and several other "items" in the form of of champagne, and other wines, &c., amounting to about fifty dollars additional. The ladies in that vicinity look remarkably good-natured and roguish at present, and when you speak to them their eyes snap like fire-flies, and you see smiles lurking all round their mouths.

There is a small civil war on the Louisiana border of Texas. A company of free negroes, mulattoes and white men, to the number of forty, with the sheriff at their head who had been ordered to leave the country, have refused to do so, and have fortified themselves some four miles above Madison. They are reported to have a hundred guns, beside pistols and bowie knives, and bid defiance to their opponents. Almost every man is armed, and all are in continual apprehension from enemies. The high grass in the prairie affords hiding places everywhere, and no man can leave his home with safety. The Indians in Texas are ugly, too, and paymaster Hill and his escort were attacked by Indians at Devil's river, the corporal of the party killed, and the major badly wounded. The escort numbered 22; the attacking Indians about 50 warriors.

SUICIDE IN TYNGSBORO MS.—The Lowell Vox Populi, states that Miss Martha Kidder cut her throat on Wednesday night, while suffering under temporary insanity. She was alive Thursday morning, but not expected to recover. Miss K. is the schoolmistress who recovered damages against the town of Dunstable at the late term of the Supreme Court in Lowell, on account of injuries received in consequence of a defect in the highway.—Subsequent troubles, growing out of this suit—among other annoyances, a recent attempt to get the mother indicted for perjury—are stated to be the primary causes of this sad affair.

The tornado on Monday of last week, in Clinton and Franklin counties, N. Y, was very destructive, especially in the towns of Constable, Burke, and Chateguay. The latter place is in ruins. The number of buildings more or less injured, as far as heard from, is 364, including churches, stores, dwellings, barns, &c., of which about two-thirds are totally ruined. Only one life is known to be lost.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1856.

A VETO VETOED.

Our readers will perceive, on reference to the journal of Congress, that both houses, by more than a two-thirds vote, have passed three Bills for Internal Improvements, which bills have thus become laws over and against the President's veto.

If any readers will be at the trouble to look back at both President Pierce's Vetoes of such bills, they may see that we spoke favorably of the exercise of the Veto power, so far as the right to veto was concerned—but that we dissented in toto from his views of the Constitution, and from the expediency of the veto.

Both the veto messages were published in a few papers in New England, and in those same papers were lauded, as being the pure democratic doctrine on the point at issue.

But if it were democratic then—how is it now—when more than two-thirds of the members of Congress, nearly three-fourths, throw it out?

The Nays, now come, nearly all, from the South. If the veto is democratic,—then all the pure democracy there is left in Congress, is in the darkness of slavery, from Virginia down to Alabama.

Some uncharitable people suggest, that this passage of the three bills, by such a vote, is intended, on the part of some members of both houses, to make capital for Mr. Buchanan. We cannot say it is not so—but we will say, if so, we will never find fault with a good measure, for fear it will benefit somebody.—If any party will pass good laws, and carry them out—success to that party, no matter what you call it.

But let us see—here are all parties voting for the laws, except President Pierce and the extreme South. Will any man tell us what has become of the old party lines and old party issues?

☞ Brooks, the border ruffian of Washington, has been fined $300 for his cowardly and murderous assault on Senator Sumner.

In Brooks's speech before the Court, in mitigation of his sentence, he took the ground that there are some offences for which the law affords no adequate remedy. He said while he had a heart to feel, and an arm to strike, he would redress the wrongs of his political mother from every effort to cover her with obloquy and dishonor. His property might be squandered and his life endangered, but he would be true to her who bore him.

The obloquy and dishonor of his political mother, is, that she is the mother of slaves and cowards, drunkards and bullies, of which this Congress has seen two rare specimens.

MILITARY DESPOTISM.—The Richmond Enquirer, after a long tirade against the Black Republican, as it terms those who are in favor of freedom in Kansas, proceeds to urge that "Sumner and Sumner's friends must be punished and silenced," and "that the Government which cannot suppress such crimes as those, has failed of its purpose." "Either such wretches must be hung or put in the Penitentiary, or the South should prepare at once to quit the Union!"

This fire-eater then closes its article, by saying—"if the South cannot expel the Black Republicans from power, or punish them and silence them for the future, they should adopt a military despotism.

REV. MR. TYNG, AT PHILADELPHIA.—It appears that at a special meeting of the Vestry of the Rev. Mr. Tyng's church, resolutions were unanimously passed, expressing deep regret that the Rector should have chosen the Lord's Day and the pulpit of the church as the time and place for the discussion of sectional politics; declaring their disapprobation of the substitution of such themes for the simple preaching of Jesus Christ and him crucified as the hope of a ruined world; and protesting against the repetition of such like sermons. The Secretary was requested to communicate to the Rector a copy of the resolutions.—Boston Traveller.

Rev. Mr. Tyng is a minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church. What his sermon was we do not know; but now it must surely be published, that all the world and the rest of mankind may know wherein it is frightful.

☞ The splendid stock horse "Clifford," whom all attendants on the U. S. Agricultural Fair at Boston last fall, will remember as taking the first premium for the best family horse, killed himself at Brookline, Mass., on Saturday last. While exercising in the yard of his stable, at Brookline, he reared up, fell upon his back with great violence; and though no bones were broken, his system was so severely shocked that he died during Saturday night. He received the first premium in the list of family horses at the Rhode Island State Fair, last fall, and also at the National Agricultural Exhibition in Boston—where we believe he drew a load of five tons, and afterwards trotted a mile in three minutes. He was used in a team in Boston, and valued at upwards of $1000.

A HORSE IN THE AIR.—On the 4th, at Manchester, Mr. Goddard, standing on a horse, went up in a balloon, as the Mirror informs us, amid immense cheering, Madame Goddard being in the car of the balloon alone. They went up at twenty minutes past eight o'clock, the horse hanging his head low down with eyes intently fixed upon the earth, without struggling. They were soon high in the heavens, about 9500 feet, according to Mons. Goddard's estimate, sailing in a southerly direction. They made a circuit of about twelve miles, and at five minutes before nine o'clock landed in a field belonging to Wm. Plummer in Londonderry.

They threw out an anchor and caught the balloon on the tops of trees, where they remained some ten minutes before they could get free, in the mean time the horse eating the leaves of the trees, as if nothing strange had happened. The people where he landed imagined the end of the world was coming, and the devil was riding through the air. The woman ran into the house and shut the door, and for some minutes the man was afraid to come and unfasten the horse. The horse went to feeding the moment he landed. M. Goddard says the people were very kind to him in Londonderry, and rendered him every assistance.

When he was at the highest point he says the earth all looked level, the mountains seeming no higher than the valleys. The only objection that was made to the ascension was, that the horse did not carry as good head and tail as were shown on the bill.

ENCOURAGING.— Below we give an extract from a letter received from a subscriber at Lebanon,—interesting to us, at any rate.

LEBANON, July 7, 1856.

Gentlemen:—Inclosed I send $1.75, to pay for the Phenix to Jan. 1, 1857. I approve of the course of the Chronicle and Phenix, and think, upon the whole, it is the best Temperance paper we have had. Wish you full success in the glorious cause of Temperance and human freedom. Both causes look well in our part of the State; and if the Law shall remain two years longer, my belief is that none but the reckless would desire its repeal.

Yours truly, E. B.

Another subscriber, at Goffstown Centre, sends us a dollar, and says: "Send the paper along another year. While at Concord, during the session, last year, I told Mr. Cheney to stop my paper when the subscription was out. He said no, somebody must support the Temperance paper. Surely it ought to be well supported. I gave him a dollar, and ordered the paper stopped when that run out; but why stop now, since the paper is greatly improved. You give us good politics, and a spice of Temperance, general and commercial news; and in fact a little of everything. Yours is the best paper that comes to my table, except the Tribune, (and I have a good number.)—Enclosed is $1.

Yours with perfect respect, G. P.

GEORGIA LOTTERIES.—The Fort Gaines Academy Lottery, Atalanta, Ga.—If a lottery can, under any circumstances, command the general respect, it is only when it is designed to carry out some good and popular purpose, and the funds thus obtained are devoted to such an end. Churches used to be built in this way. Colleges have often been erected by such means, and are now under contract, or being built in Georgia and Alabama. Hospitals without number, owe their existence to lotteries. But the abuse of the unscrupulous, of such a means of approaching a liberal public, led at last to the universal deprecation of lotteries, without regard to the object held in view by any of them in their creation. The good had to suffer with the bad. In some of the Southern States, however, they draw a distinction; while they oppose lotteries generally, they permit such as contemplate a benevolent aim. The Fort Gaines Academy Lottery, which is to be drawn at Atlanta, Ga., July 28, Samuel Swan & Co. Agents, &c. is one of these. This Lottery is on the Havana Plan, all the prizes being drawn, thus preventing the possibility of mathematical calculations of swindling. In the scheme there are 15,190 prizes, amounting to $102,000, and only 14,810 blanks, actually more prizes than blanks. The laws of the State of Georgia are very particular in appointing honorable and disinterested parties as commissioners, whose duty it is to see that everything is conducted fairly. We observe by their circular, tickets are $5; shares in proportion.—Adv.

N. H. METHODIST CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS.—Claremont District.—A. C. Manson, Presiding Elder; Claremont, W. F. Evans; Cornish, R. Newhall; Grantham, G. P. Warner; Croydon, Joseph Haye; Newport, J. W. Gurnsey; Sunapee, to be supplied; South Acworth and Gilsum, N. Green; N. Charlestown, N. Martin; Marlow, G. W. Bryant; Hudson, to be supplied; Chesterfield, A. K. Howard; Keene, N. Culver; Winchester, L. L. Eastman; Hinsdale, C. H. Chase; New Ipswich, J. W. Johnson; Rindge, S. S. Cummings; Peterborough, W. H. Jones; Portersville, J. Clough; Milford, to be supplied; Brookline, L. J. Hall; Lebanon and Hanover, S. Quimby; Enfield, A. B. Russel; Canaan, J. English.

THE EXPRESS ROBBERS.—White, Ayers and King, the express robbers, were sentenced at Detroit, on Thursday, to five years imprisonment, and taken to State Prison on the same day.

☞ Col. Fremont has accepted the Republican nomination for President.

"I can marry any girl I please," said a young man, boastingly.

"Very true," replied his waggish companion, "for you can't please any."

New System of Penmanship.

IN compliance with the urgent solicitations of many teachers, Potter & Hammond, Principals of Providence Commercial Academy, have endeavored to arrange in a convenient form a system of PENMANSHIP, which they now present to the public with the sincere hope of meeting, in some degree, the want at present so universally felt. The copies are no mixed medley of random strokes and wise sayings, with neither arrangement nor connexion, but a plain, practical, progressive series, systematically arranged. The system comprises a coarse hand and a fine hand series, and are highly recommended by the Teachers in our principal cities. For sale by JAS. H. HEAD, No. 14 Pleasant street, Exchange Block.

Potter & Hammond's Penmanship.

J. F. SHORES, Jr., No. Congress Block, has just received Potter & Hammond's System of Penmanship, in Ten numbers, as taught by the authors, at the Providence Commercial Academy. The authors claim that their Writing Books are arranged on a plan, at once original and more systematic, than any other similar work now before the public. They have aimed at simplicity in the forms of the letters, discarding all ornament, and arranged them according to the similarity of their formation, and elementary principles, so that every letter made is a step towards the next.

The copies are a compromise between the angular and round, and the result of many years teaching and study. They are written in an open easy style, and are elegantly lithographed upon the top of each page.

The system is comprised in ten books, (copyright recured,) arranged according to the plan found upon the cover of each book, together with the authors' method of teaching. jy9 2

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "hoed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT, July 8,—Before Justice Bennett.—Lucy Seaver and Sarah Murdock, for lewd and lascivious speech and behavior, were sentenced to 30 days in jail, and costs $6.64.

Thomas and Eliza Hubbard, for keeping a disorderly house—fined $10 each; costs 6.64; and to give bonds for good behaviour.

☞ The Selectmen of Wards 1 and 3 meet this evening for the purpose of examining and recording the naturalization papers which may be presented.

☞ On account of the rain, Wednesday, Mr. Diman's Strawberry Festival at Highland Cottage, Stratham, was postponed to the first fair afternoon—and will probably be held on Friday July 11th.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY, July 8.

HOUSE.—The bill for commuting the sentence of Cornelius Haskell, (the black murderer)—was ordered to a third reading.

Removal by address.—Mr. Dame of Rochester, agreeably to previous notice, introduced an address for the removal of certain officers. The officers enumerated were as follows, and the cause of the removal said to be the public good.

Jona. T. Chase, Judge of Probate for the county of Carroll; Albert R. Hatch, Solicitor of the county of Rockingham; Orsino A. J. Vaughan, Register of Probate for the county of Belknap; Benjamin F. Ayer, Solicitor for the county of Hillsborough; Eleazer Martin, Judge of Probate for the county of Grafton; Nathan B. Felton, Register of Probate for the county of Grafton; Henry G. Carlton, Register of Probate for the county of Sullivan; John L. Putnam, Judge of Probate for the county of Sullivan; Hezekiah Parsons Jr., Sheriff for the county of Coos; Horace Chase, Judge of Probate for the county of Merrimack; Josiah Stevens, Judge of the Police Court of Concord, and Greenleaf Clark Commissioner for the Boston and Maine Railroad.

Mr. Pitman of Bartlett moved to lay the address upon the table, and the motion was lost by a vote of yeas 130, nays 154.

After various motions to consume time, it was voted to take up each name separately.

Albert R. Hatch was the first carried, 143 to 127.

Orsino A. J. Vaughan, 143 to 114.

Benj. F. Ayer, 138 to 106.

The yeas and nays were next demanded on the removal of W. C. Clark, Judge of Probate for Hillsborough Co.

Mr. Jenkins of Portsmouth, hoped the call for the yeas and nays would be withdrawn.—It was evident that all these officers would be removed, and it would only consume time to take the yeas and nays. This was not so much of a shower as he had seen.

The question was taken, and there were yeas 116, nays 66. The Speaker declared that the question was decided in the negative, as there were not two-thirds of the House voting, and a vote could not be carried by less than two-thirds vote of those present in such case.

The roll was then called on the question of the removal of Eleazer Martin, when the same result was reached as in the case of Mr. Clark, the vote standing 132 to 72, and the Speaker decided the address lost.

Mr. Pattee, of Canaan, gave notice that he should move a reconsideration of the vote at a future time.

The House then proceded to vote on the address for the removal of Nathan B. Felton, Register of Probate for the county of Grafton, with the following result—yeas, 134; nays 86. So the address passed.

The list was then proceded with; it is probably the address, as far as relates to the rest of the names, will pass.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The trial of Herbert, for the murder of Keating, commenced this morning in the Criminal Court. A dense crowd is present.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, July 8.

SENATE.—Mr. Douglas, from the Committee on Territories, to whom was referred the House Kansas bill, reported back said bill with an amendment striking out the preamble and all after it, and inserting the Senate bill passed on Thursday. He asked its immediate consideration, which was agreed to, and then proceeded to advocate his amendment.

Mr. Douglas said the proposition before the Senate was a plain one, viz: whether they would admit Kansas into the Union with the Topeka Constitution, or whether they would substitute the proposition which had been modified to obviate the objections made against it, and adopted by the Senate after full and thorough examination the other night. There was no evidence whether the majority or minority of the people of Kansas voted for the Topeka Constitution, but it was known that the Constitution which had been presented here, and which it was now proposed to legalize, was a mutilated document. That fact was ascertained not only from general report and newspaper statements, but was proved by the report of the House Investigation. In commenting on that report, Mr. Douglas characterized it as partial, unfair, and unreliable. He argued the fairness and justice of the proposition submitted by him.

Mr. Collamer, a member of the Committee on Territories, said the bill reported might appear very plausible, but the existing circumstances of the case rendered the adoption of that measure exceedingly improper. He believed the only true and sound mode for affording redress for existing evils, was, first to remove the cause of those evils. It would not do to say that these evils should be remedied, and at the same time declare that the causes which produce them should not be touched. Such a course seemed to be inconsistent, unreasonable and paradoxical. With reference to the provision allowing settlers to return to Kansas, he said there was a blockade of the Territory by men of violence, whose habitations were full of instruments of cruelty, and thus it was impossible for them to get back. The same power that drove them away was still in the ascendancy, and no provision had been made for their security in the Territory. Thus it was but a mockery of justice to tell them if they would return they would be allowed to vote, while they have not the power to return. Hence they would derive no advantage from this bill, although its provisions appeared so fair and plausible.

Mr. Pearce spoke briefly in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Hale opposed it. He said the President came from some of the best stock of New Hampshire. His father was brave and patriotic, and he believed the son equally so. He had said this when Mr. Pierce was at the zenith of his power, and expected to be a candidate at the next election, and he would say it now, when the President had fallen so low that the Senate could ride rough-shod over his vetoes, and only eight or ten of its members found to stand by him. He moved to amend the amendment by extending the time allowing residents to participate in its benefits until July 4, 1857. Lost—yeas 13; nays 32.

Mr. Trumbull moved an amendment, to repeal all the Territorial laws of Kansas, and dismiss all the officers under them. Rejected—yeas 12; nays 32.

Mr. Collamer offered an amendment in favor of prohibiting slavery in that part of the Louisiana Purchase North of 36 30, not included within the Territory of Kansas. Rejected—yeas 12; nays 30.

YEAS.—Bell of N. H., Collamer, Dodge, Fessenden, Fish, Foote, Foster, Hale, Hamlin, Seward, Trumbull, Wade.

NAYS.—Adams, Bayard, Benjamin, Briggs, Bright, Brodhead, Butler, Cass, Clay, Crittenden, Douglas, Fitzgerald, Geyer, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson, Jones of Iowa, Jones of Tennessee, Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Pugh, Reid, Sebastian, Stuart, Slidell, Thompson of Kentucky, Toombs, Weller, Yulee.

The amendment, as reported by the Committee on Territories, was then agreed to by yeas 32, nays 13, and the bill thus amended, passed. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Campbell said he would not call up the report of the Committee on the Sumner Assault, as he understood the trial was in progress before the Criminal Court.

Mr. Cobb said—The trial is over and Mr. Brooks is in his seat.

The Senate bill for enlarging the Custom House, Post-office, and Court House at Milwaukie and Detroit, and for the construction of a building for similar purposes at Dubuque, was earnestly debated, and then referred to the Committee of the Whole on the Union.

A message was received from the Senate announcing the passage by that body of bills for the improvement of the mouth of the Mississippi, and St. Clair flats, and St. Mary's River, notwithstanding the President's vetoes of the same. An account of the Senate's proceedings and the President's objections, accompanied the message.

Mr. Orr saw no necessity at this late period of the session for discussion, and moved the previous question.

Mr. Quitman said thus hastily to act on the subject savored a little of disrespect to the President.

Mr. McMullen made an ineffectual effort to have the President's objections read.

Mr. Orr's motion was agreed to, and the bill to remove the obstructions from the mouth of the Mississippi River was read.

The Speaker announced the question; Will the House, upon re-consideration of the bill, agree to its passage?

YEAS — Messrs. Albright, Allison, Ball, Barbour, Bennett of New York, Benson, Billinghurst, Bingham, Bliss, Bowie, Bradshaw, Brenton, Broome, Buffington, Campbell of Penn., Campbell of Kentucky, Campbell of Ohio, Caruthers, Chaffe, Clarke, Clawson, Colfax, Comins, Conover, Cox, Crawford, Cullen, Cumback, Damrell, Davis of Maryland, Day, Dean, Denver, Dewitt, Dick, Dickson, Dodd, Dunrie, Durfee, Edie, Edwards, Emrie, English, Etheridge, Eustis jr., Evans, Flagler, Fuller of Penn., Galloway, Giddings, Gilbert, Granger, Greenwood, Grow, Hale, Harlan, Harris of Maryland, Harris of Ill., Harrison, Haven, Hoffman, Holloway, Horton of N. Yeas 143; nays 55—and it was passed.

The bill for deepening the channel over the St. Chair flats, passed by yeas 139, nays 55.

The bill for deepening the channel over the St. Mary's river passed by yeas 136 nays 54.

Mr. Washurn of Illinois, gave notice the first time the House should again go into a Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, on and after Wednesday, he would move to pass over all other bills, with a view to reach those heretofore reported, making appropriations for rivers and harbors.—Adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, July 9.

SENATE.—Mr. Benjamin's resolution was adopted, directing the Secretary of the Senate to take the three bills passed over the President's veto, to the Secretary of State, in order that they may be deposited in that department.

HOUSE.—A resolution was submitted for printing 100,000 copies of the minority and majority report on the Brooks assault.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The true friends of Fremont from all sections, feeling that his election is endangered by intrigues on foot to defeat him are consulting upon the expediency of calling a convention which will bring the American and Republican parties together for the purpose of selecting a union candidate for the Vice Presidency, there being no question about Fremont.

At a caucus of Fremont's friends in Congress, held at Washington last night, it was thought best that Dayton and Johnston should both withdraw, in favor of a candidate acceptable to all parties.

NEWBURG, N. Y., July 8.—Explosion and Fire.—The extensive foundry, machine shop, at that place, belonging to Stanton, Mallory & Co., was destroyed to-day by the explosion of a boiler. Fortunately the hands were mostly at dinner, and no lives were lost.—Four or five perons were seriously injured.

A CARD.—A book having been published in Philadelphia, under the name of "Fanny Fern's Family Cook Book," I hereby inform the public, that it was not written by me, and that it was issued without my knowledge or consent. FANNY FERN.

A new trial has been denied to Edwin Forrest in his divorce case, and an order for fixing the alimony of Mrs. Forrest has been issued.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered by inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof shall be within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladie, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are slight, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other subject but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

WHALEBONE SKIRTS

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

DYER'S HEALING EMBROCATION AN EXTERNAL AND INTERNAL REMEDY.

ALMOST miraculous are some of the cures effected by the use of this remarkable preparation. As a healing, pain destroying remedy IT IS UNSURPASSED.

It is uniform in quality, convenient for application, neat and delicate in its nature, leaves no stain upon the dress or skin, and is unfailing in its curative properties and effects. It cures RHEUMATISM,

Cuts, Wounds, Scalds, Bruises, Burns, Lumbago, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Neuralgia, Tooth Ache, Headache, Pains in the Side, Back or Limbs, Sore Throat, Croup, Cramps, &c., &c.

Physicians prescribe and recommend it with the most perfect confidence; and by the use of it themselves thousands have been saved from an untimely death.

Beware of imitations, and purchase none but the genuine, with the name of "Dyer's Healing Embrocation, Providence, R. I." blown in the glass, and the fac simile of the proprietor's signature upon the outside wrapper.

For sale in Portsmouth by J. H. Thacher, Wm. R. Preston and B. Hutchings, and by all respectable Druggists and dealers in medicine throughout the United States, at the following prices:—2 ounce bottle 12½c; 4 ounce bottle 25c; 8 ounce bottle 37½c.

Morning Chronicle.

A DISASTROUS PHENOMENON.—It never had been our lot, nor yet that of the oldest inhabitant of this section of Canada, to witness so terrible a whirlwind as that which passed over this place on Sabbath last.

About 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on Sabbath, the wind blew strong from the southeast, and at the same time dark clouds, indicating a heavy thunder storm, approached from the north-west; and when the two currents met, the clouds in fearful commotion ejecting towards the earth a stream of what appeared to be black vapor, and immediately after sinking among the trees, as we supposed to be about the 9th Con, of Zorra, a spiral column of dark smoke in size equal to the diameter of a common stove pipe, arose and darted with amazing rapidity until it seemed to reach the clouds. But a few moments elapsed ere it increased in size, whirling up in the air fragments of trees, fences, buildings, and whatever came in its way.

The Eastwood, Me. Trollop toll-gate was smashed, and the station on the Great Western Railroad at that place was crushed into fragments— the station master, and one child killed—his wife severely injured, and at the time we write, we are informed there is small hope of her recovery. A young lad is said to have been carried up a considerable height and in the fall had one of his arms and legs broken; and east of the steam mills, in Burford, Mr. Gleason's son, a young lad, was killed. The storm continued through the township of Burford, inclining still further to the south, with relentless fury making its path entirely desolate; its eastern terminus we have not yet heard of correctly.—Woodstock (C. W.) Sentinel.

GREAT EXCITEMENT AT ROCKPORT.—We learn from Rockport that a great excitement prevailed there yesterday. For some time past intemperance has been greatly on the increase, and during the present season quite a number of places have been opened where intoxicating liquors could be procured without stint. Finding the evil increasing, the ladies of that usually quiet village have taken the matter in their own hands, and yesterday morning a delegation of about seventy-five, headed by an American flag, carried by a stout sailor, paraded through the streets, and proceeding from place to place, destroyed all the liquor they could lay their hands on.—Demijohns and decanters were smashed, and barrels of rum, gin and brandy were rolled into the streets and their heads knocked in.—Whenever any of the "critter" was found loud shouts would resound from the assembled ladies.—Gloucester Telegraph, 9th inst.

LOWELL NEWS.—On Saturday we gave an account of the breaking up of a grog shop on Merrimack street by the ladies in that vicinity. Acting upon this example a party in the west part of the city made a descent on a disreputable house kept by one David Foster, near the Gas Works, last night, and broke that up—the windows and doors pretty badly. The house has long been an eye-sore, and as the neighbors couldn't get legal redress they have redressed themselves. The inmates took wing very early this morning and fled to "parts unknown."

Yesterday afternoon, one Charles P. Cook, who keeps "a hole" under the Colony House Middlesex street, was arraigned on three complaints in the Police Court, charging him with liquor selling. Each complaint contained two counts, and he was convicted and sentenced on all. He appealed and was ordered to recognize for his appearance before the Court of Common Pleas for trial.

Seven persons were committed to the lock up last night drunk, two for liquor-selling and four for other offences.—Lowell Citizen, July 8th.

FIRST LIQUOR CASE DECIDED.—Wednesday at Concord Ms. the trial of liquor cases began with that of the Com. vs. Ann Hoy, of Woburn. The constitutionality of the law was very fully and ably argued by District Attorney Morse for the law and S. A. Brown of this city against it. In three minutes after retiring, the jury rendering a verdict of guilty. The case was ably managed by the District Attorney.—Lowell Citizen.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—James S. Hackney, Quarter Master Gen. at Jefferson City, writes to the Jefferson Examiner denying the charge made by a correspondent of the Missouri Democrat that Gov. Price had sent 12 cannons and 22 boxes of muskets to Atchison and Stringfellow, for the conquest of Kansas. The letter says no arms have been given out of the State Arsenal, except to regularly organized companies, and not then until every requirement of the Platte militia law had been complied with. Not a single gun has ever been sent to Atchison or Stringfellow. Gov. Price has invariably refused all applications for arms from parties not entitled to receive them.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A fatal accident occurred at Elizabethtown on the evening before the Fourth. A girl, named Frances Lung, a native of Germany, was shot by a small cannon, which was fired by a boy named Joseph Miller. She died on Friday morning in great agony. She was fourteen years of age, and was employed in a cloth factory at Elizabethport. It is stated that the cannon was loaded with bullets, and happened to be pointed at the bushes through which the girl was passing when the sad occurrence took place.—N. Y. Times.

While the agent was paying off the Indians at Syracuse, N. Y., last week, an old 'native' presented himself and squaw, and seventeen children. His share at $5 a head was $95, and as he received his portion he remarked, "Me got a hundred dollars next year."

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.—A lady in Baltimore recently, whilst getting out of an omnibus caught her foot in a loop of a new style of hoop arrangement, and falling forward, injured herself very seriously, and withal severed the bridge of her nose, so her beauty will be disfigured.

Mlle. Rachel has gone to Emo to place herself under medical treatment. Her health, it is said, is irretrievably ruined. She was advised to try the waters of Eaux-Bonnes, as being better adapted to the nature of her malady, but her sister Rebecca died there two years ago, and she would not listen to the suggestion.

Fifty families from Virginia, of the 'United Brethren,' all in favor of freedom, have, through their ministers, selected a settlement six miles south of Lawrence, on the Santa Fe road, Kansas, and are preparing to emigrate.

Prof. William Palmer, widely known in Washington for his brilliant attainments as a musician, has died from the effects of a sun stroke in that city. He was at one time known to the public as Prof. Heller.

DELAWARE.—We learn that the prohibitive law of Delaware has been pronounced constitutional in all its points by the highest judicial authority of the State.

PORTLAND CONVENTION. — The Argus calls it the "Black Republican convention," and says, Wednesday July 9;—

Mr. Hamlin will, of course, resign his seat in the Senate, and take the field for his own election. Before the 8th of September he will be as glad to get out of the field, as he now is to get into it. We have not heard of what character the resolutions are.

The Advertiser of the 9th publishes the Resolutions, the principal of which are these:

5th.—Resolved, That we now adopt the sentiments and language of two resolves of the Democratic Convention which met in Portland in 1849, and nominated John Hubbard for Governor of this State; and under which he was elected, and the legislature constituted which placed Hannibal Hamlin in the Senate of the United States; which resolves were as follows:

"Resolved, That the institution of human slavery is at variance with the theory of our Government, abhorrent to the common sentiment of mankind, and fraught with danger to all who come within the sphere of its influence, that the federal government possesses adequate power to inhibit its existence in the territories of the Union; that the constitutionality of this power has been settled by judicial construction, by cotemporaneous exposition, and by repeated acts of legislation.

"Resolved, That while we most cheerfully concede to our southern brethren the right on all occasions, to speak and act with entire freedom on questions connected with slavery in the territories, we claim the exercise of the same right for ourselves; and any attempt, from any quarter, to stigmatise us or our representatives for advocating or defending the opinions of our people upon this subject, will be repelled as an unwarrantable act of aggression upon the rights of the citizens of this State."

6th.—Resolved, That we heartily concur in the sentiments expressed in these resolutions.

* * *

Mr. Baker of Augusta presented the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That it is the unanimous sense of this Convention, that our candidate for Governor this day nominated should retain his seat in the Senate of the United States, notwithstanding his nomination, until he is called to the Executive chair, and that he abate not a single effort by addresses to the people, or otherwise, to secure the triumph of the noble principles which he so nobly advocates, and which this Convention so strongly commended.

THE VETOES. — The Boston Transcript says "both Houses of Congress have passed internal improvement bills over the veto of the President by the requisite votes of two-thirds. The measures thus passed in defiance of the President, are for the benefit of the West and South. We trust that Congress will pass the French Spoliation bill by an equally large majority, and thus do an act of tardy justice to the North and East."

We have no such trust. We wish they would do the justice to pay this honest debt;—but we don't expect it until a change takes place. A majority of both Houses passed the French Claims bill—but the two-thirds is almost too much to hope for, this year.

☞ The New Hampshire and Vermont State Musical Association held its seventeenth annual Convention at Springfield, Vt., from the 10th to the 13th of June, under direction of Prof. B. F. Baker, of Boston. The Association was formed in 1839, at Bellows Falls, Vt., by I. B. Woodbury and J. W. Moore.—It opened with these two members, who had to go out into the highways and byways, to drum up recruits. Its seventeenth annual session has just been attended by two hundred and fifty active members. Professors Woodbury, Mason, and Webb have sometimes had charge of the Conventions of this large and flourishing Association, but for several years Prof. Baker has been the sole conductor. An alteration has just been made in the constitution, by which the annual meeting is henceforth to be held on the second Tuesday in June; and all members are to pay one dollar assessment yearly.

A sad accident occurred in Claremont, N. H., on the 4th, says the Herald. The Mascoma Fire Company of Lebanon, were passing over a suspension bridge of the Claremont Manufacturing Company, when it broke and they were precipitated into the water. All escaped with their lives but one, named Wm. Griffin, of Hartford, who was found dead in the ruins, with his back broken. It is thought that had the company used the route step the accident would not have occurred. The regular marching step is the severest test which can be applied to any structure to which the slightest vibratory motion can be given.

☞ At half-past one on Wednesday morning, at Brighton, Mass, there was a most diabolical attempt to destroy with gunpowder the house of Mr. Thomas Wetheren, and greatly endangered the lives of 12 persons, men, women and children, who were sleeping therein. The house was much shattered, set on fire, and the furniture ruined, but no person injured. As to the cause of this murderous act, nothing is known.

Gen. P. F. Smith, U. S. A., is in this city, says the St. Louis Republican of Friday, where his head-quarters are established. He will proceed immediately to Kansas, to quiet affairs there. As he is a man of mature judgment, a good lawyer, and having no other object than to keep the peace of Kansas, he will we feel assured, accomplish it.—Boston Courier.

Whether the last "we" expresses the opinion of the Boston Courier or of the St. Louis Republican we cannot say. But that Republican is very bad authority for anything of this kind—and the man must be green indeed, who believes that any peace is intended for Kansas by the Federal executive, except such peace as Atchison, Stringfellow and Douglas approve there.

☞ The Boston Telegraph says that the conductors on the railroads from that city, generally bear testimony to the fact that there was never a time when so many of their passengers were intoxicated, as on the fourth and fifth of July inst. Many were supplied with flasks, which they passed round in the cars. Drunken men were found lying even upon the platforms of the cars; and it is a remarkable fact that they all escaped injury.

☞ The Dover Gazette states that Rev. B. F. Parsons preached his farewell sermon before the First Congregational Church in Dover, on Sunday June 29th. Last Sunday he held services in the City Hall, where he will continue to officiate—it being his intention to gather a new Society.

☞ Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions and the Beau Monde, for July, contains a full size quarto fashion plate, colored, including four female figures in full dress.

Also two ladies in the dresses of 1787'88.—With a great variety of patterns and dresses for men, women and children.

Hoops abound,—and by the way, they are a great improvement, for summer, over a load of skirts. We perceive also, that trailing dresses are nearly all discarded. They do but barely touch the ground now. Pretty soon they will cut off an inch or two more of drabbled calico or silk.

GRADUATING CLASS OF MIDSHIPMEN.—The following is the list of the late acting midshipmen who have just graduated at the Naval School at Annapolis, Md., and are now midshipmen:—Joseph W. Harris, Augustus P. Cooke, R. L. Phythian, Thomas K. Porter, Rush R. Wallace, Thomas H. Eastman, William E. Evans, Robert F. Bradford, W. N. Allen, Le Roy Fitch, George A. Bigelow, Chester Hatfield, George S. Shryock, and George M. Blodgett. They stand on the naval register in the order announced above.

The above gentlemen entered during the years '51, ,52, and '53. Mr. Harris, (a Portsmouth boy) who graduates highest in rank, entered eight months after the '53 class had commenced.

☞ The Buchanan flag in State street, Newburyport, which was hoisted with the candidates' names running the reverse direction on one side, and one of them spelt wrong,—gave way on Wednesday morning in the storm; bringing a chimney to which the rope was attached, through the awnings and into the street. Some thought it was a bad omen, others that it indicated that the tickets were wrin it; while one declared that it showed the strength of the ticket, sweeping all in its way.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY. — The Annual Meeting of the Alumni of Cambridge Divinity School will be held in the chapel of the University, at half-past 2 o'clock, on Tuesday, July 13. The Address will be delivered at 4 o'clock by Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., of this city.

OLD NEWSPAPER ACCOUNTS often afford considerable fun and some trouble, in their settlement. In sending out circulars, to square the dues on the New Hampshire Phenix, we receive all sorts of answers, explanations, &c. The following is from a subscriber at some distance, to whom we forwarded a bill for two years' subscription, most of which he says he has a receipt for.

"I have always taken this temperance paper, ever since the Torrent first started; and this is not the first time that I have paid an extra bill, when the paper changed hands, by having lost my receipt; but this time I was fortunate enough to save it,—and for that reason I shall decline paying your bill in full.

Yours truly, J. D. C.

I should be pleased to continue your paper, &c."

Now this is all fair talk, and as the receipt is sent us we of course allow it. But there has been a deal of stupidity or something worse, in the keeping of accounts for the Phenix, and transferring them to several new publishers—of which we may have more to say hereafter. As we have the paper now permanently established, we only wish to get all accounts once square and intelligible, and we promise to try and prevent all misunderstanding in future.

Any subscriber who may have a receipt covering a bill we send, has only to send us the receipt, or get the post-master to certify to a copy of it. We want our just dues, nothing more.

The Christian Register says: "It is calculated that the clergy cost the United States six millions of dollars annually, the criminals nineteen, the lawyers thirty-five, tobacco forty, and rum one hundred millions."

John W. Perkins, the young lad who was injured at Manchester, N. H., by the explosion of a cannon on the night before the 4th, died Tuesday evening. He was 13 years of age.

The London Gazette contains an official notice declaring Dr. Rae and his companions entitled to the reward of £10,000 offered to those who should first ascertain the fate of Sir John Franklin.

WHAT DYER'S HEALING EMBROCATION HAS DONE

Would be to difficult a matter to embrace in so few lines. But a mass of living testimony bear witnes to the fact that no medicine ever performed such remarkable cures, or possessed such healing and pain destroying properties as Dyer's Healing Embrocation.

Thousands have been saved from an untimely death by the use of this preparation.
